Structure governance and management

Organizational structure

The charity trustees are responsible for the general control and management of the charity. The trustees give their time freely and receive no remuneration or other financial benefits.

Recruitment and appointment of trustees

The existing trustees are responsible for the recruitment of new trustees but in so doing the trustees seek the views and recommendations of both Sudanese community and leaders of civil organization in Sudan.

In selecting new trustees, we seek to identify people who regularly attend activities and contribute to the Charity are willing to volunteer to help in our broader community work. Potential trustees are contacted by trust board to discuss and explained the charity's aims and activities and, if all agree, they are then proposed as new trustees in our virtual meetings. This process allows due consideration of the person's eligibility, personal competence, specialist knowledge and skills.

Induction and training of trustees

Following appointment, new trustees are introduced to their new role and given copies of the trust deed and a guide to the policies and procedures adopted by our charity. A number of publications from the Charity Commission are also advised including the guidance on charities and public benefit and on the advancement of religion for the public benefit. This ensures that new trustees are aware of the scope of their responsibilities under the Charities Act. Initially, new trustees work with an existing trustee assisting on particular activities and projects run by the charity. After satisfactory feedback from existing trustees, they are then given the task of leading a particular activity or project, reporting progress at trustees' meetings.

Objectives and Activities:

Our Aims,

The objects of the charity are set out in the charity's trust deed and are summarized as follows:

Provides the prevention or relief of poverty, the advancement of health or saving of lives, general charitable purposes and other charitable purposes. Sadagaat Ltd provides the services to the general public/mankind, elderly/old people, people with disabilities, children/young people and other charities or voluntary bodies.

Our objectives

Our objectives are set to reflect our commitment towards the needy and preventing the impacts of poverty on health. Each year our trustees review our objectives and activities to ensure they continue to reflect our aims. In carrying out this review the trustees have considered the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit.

Strategies

An important part of our strategy is community welfare and education. All our community campaigns and activities are geared towards fighting the complex triangle of underdevelopment in all its 3 sides: Illness, Ignorance, and Poverty. Sadagaat strives to do that through their 5 sectors. Health, feeding, clean water provision, improve educational access and emergency relief intervention.

Grant-making policy

Our main trusted partner in Sudan is Sadagaat Charity Organization, annually we set target projects in the different areas mentioned earlier and each partner will try to reach a financial goal to finish the project.

Activities and Achievements:

Sadagaat Ltd with its other partners issue annual report in which all Sadagaat community activities are included.

Principal funding sources

The charity's main source of income is giving. Public usually donated towards different projects with some donors made standing orders towards the Charity account.

The collection and distribution of Zakat was of great benefit to those in poverty or need overseas, and the trustees were delighted to exceed last year's collection so dramatically in such difficult economic times.

Investment policy and objectives

The charity has no long-term investments.

Plans for future periods

Sadagaat intend to start a programme to increase awareness of people about human rights, equality and equity, the main plan is through social media platforms and sponsored online courses and events

We intend to maintain our existing range of community activities working in partnership with Sadagaat charity Organization and to further develop our local community participating here in the UK.
