Governing document

The charity is governed by its constitution, as approved by the Charity Commission.

Structure

The charity is a small, volunteer-run charity. It has no employees, no premises, and no operational assets. The trustees are collectively responsible for the management and administration of the charity.

Trustee appointment and induction

Trustees are appointed in accordance with the charity's governing document. Given the charity's dormant status during the year, no new trustees were appointed, and no formal induction process was required.

Trustees serve on a voluntary basis and receive no remuneration or benefits.

3. Objectives and Activities

Charitable objects

The charity's objects are set out in its governing document.

Activities during the year

The charity did not carry out any activities during the reporting period.

This was a dormant year in which:

- no projects were undertaken
 - no services were delivered
 - no fundraising took place

4. Achievements and Performance (Public Benefit)

The trustees confirm that they have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

During the year under review, the charity had no achievements or performance to report, as it did not undertake any activities.

Accordingly, no direct public benefit arose during this reporting period.

5. Financial Review
