Trustees' Annual Report 2021/2022

Foreword

Every year Community support Nepal aims to bring no matter how small but measurable, sustainable and meaningful improvement to the lives of the children, young people and communities we work with. We also aim to be accountable, and this annual report is an important part of that accountability.

We are pleased with what we have achieved this year. We are always striving to reach the hidden children, those in great need and overlooked by others. In Nepal, we have gained a well-deserved reputation in protecting children in conflict with main stream society and the law. Although government have policy somehow to eliminate the street children but there are many children are coming from countryside to the city in the hope of better life but when they arrive in city would not be able to find what they are dreaming of and they got no choice but join with other street children who are already there. This group of children is highly vulnerable and often exploited, used, abused and forgotten. We have provided them home with love and care, Education for the better future, healthcare, legal aid, to support the re-integration into the main stream society. It is not easy for those children who have been through traumatic experiences.

In this report, we providing a narrative of the charity's activities, we measure our success against well-defined aims and objectives. We continued and will continue to supporting and monitoring our work with Children in Kathmandu and rebuilding work in Village. Although we still have some final instalment to be finalised but I am pleased to announce that we have completed our commitment to rebuilding work, which was a success. We are supporting our mission with more effective, efficient and accountable work with an emphasis on higher quality relationships with beneficiaries and with people who supported us.

In 2020/21 our aim was both to deliver the changes planned to children's lives and to put ourselves in a strong position for the start of the new strategy but due to corona/Covid-19, we have to abandoned the plan and protect the life of children and people involved to help the children. Thanks to the efforts of the children and communities that we work with, our partner organisations on the ground, and the commitment of our supporters. We are pleased to report good progress being made in both areas namely rebuilding work and Children's health, wellbeing and education. We look forward with excitement to the first year of the new strategy, to even more positive change for children and to new partnerships with those who share our vision and with local authorities

Additional governance issues (Optional information):

Community Support Nepal is currently working in partnership with local governments and Child Right Protection Centre Nepal in Nepal who are working to give a better future for the victims of earthquakes and street children respectively. All trustees give their time voluntarily and have received no remuneration or other benefits. All trustees take into consideration the risks identified and registered. We do everything to mitigate the risks of the beneficiaries as well as the member or trustees of organisation and volunteers. Community Support Nepal is continuing to formulate organisational policies and procedures to guide best practice from its trustees, volunteers and its partner organisations and their staff and volunteers.

Section C: Objectives and activities:

Supporting the rebuilding houses project for the victims of earthquakes and promoting and protecting children's rights and supporting homeless/street children to come out from the street society and join the main stream society in Nepal. CSN has continued to develop its partnerships with a local organisation in Nepal that promote and protect the rights of children and elderly people with disabilities. In particular we have supported projects promoting the right to education, work and employment and inclusion in the community. We have supported partners to carry out sessions raising awareness of the rights of people with disabilities in the communities where they work. CSN has continued to develop its partnership with like-minded organisations to relieve the poverty of women and children.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

In line with our grant-making policy, our in-country partners have to submit a funding application form in which they present the project for which they require funding, along with a log frame and a budget proposal. After careful consideration of projects, and with support from CSN on modifications to enhance projects, partners sign a Grant Agreement Form so that a grant may be awarded. Our volunteers and supporters have continued to support CSN with its activities, namely with fundraising and events. When planning and executing our activities, we abided by the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

Section D: Achievements and performance

Over the course of the year, we have achieved the following: We have fostered a new partnership with the organisations local government and Child Right Protection Centre Nepal. We awarded them a grant to promote early intervention and expand the inclusion of children especially from streets and with disabilities in education provide much need love and care for those homeless, orphan and abused children in a family environment and also continue to support for those whom we have already supporting. To achieve this, Child Right Protection Centre Nepal have enrolled 13 disadvantaged children into school and local government has been working tirelessly to support the rebuilding projects in the village (Bholung, Patuwar and kerana of Kavreplanchok district of Nepal with the support of CSN. We have also continued to work on developing various organisational policies together with CRPC and LG. We have followed up on the use of grants awarded to our partners through monitoring and evaluation reports produced by our partners and assessments of the impact of our grants. We have continued to identify potential sources of funding for our work and have begun to develop project proposals with our partners. CSN has complied with the duty in section 17(5) of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission.

We are a charity which works for the benefit of the victims of great earthquakes of 2015 in the remote villages of Nepal. We also work for the benefits of the street, homeless, abandoned, exploited, and sold children in Kathmandu and Sidhuli in Nepal at present. We exist to provide resources and facilities to meet the needs of victims of earthquakes and to provide better future for the children in Kathmandu and Sidhuli. I am delighted to be able to report the vary many people taking part to support the both projects by volunteering, by financially supporting and supporting in kind. They have donated computers, smart phones, tablets which was one of the which were one of the best tools for online schooling. We have been able to support both projects. although we suffer badly in the wake of covid19 but soon children and villagers were taking precaution method and carrying on the life as normal as possible.

Your donation made our work possible and your continue support is our key to the success. By providing loving Home, excellent Education, good health, in a family environment today you bring joy to the life of community's future in a real sense.

Your donation made this work possible
