Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Act and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention

Basis of independent
examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent
examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no material matters have come to my attention which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act or
- the accounts do not accord with the accounting records

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

During the year, the charity undertook several projects and activities that directly benefited the community and wider public.

The charity progressed its application and registration for a UK Sponsor Licence. This initiative was undertaken to enable the organisation to sponsor scholars from overseas, making it easier to invite qualified and knowledgeable individuals to contribute to educational, religious, and community-focused activities. As a result, the charity successfully sponsored multiple well-known and respected scholars during the year. These scholars delivered lectures, classes, and programmes that enhanced community knowledge, education, and spiritual development, benefiting attendees from both the local area and beyond.

In addition, the charity registered the downstairs section of its education centre as an official place of worship. This application was approved by the local council. The registration has enabled the charity to lawfully provide a dedicated and accessible space for worship, religious learning, and community gatherings, thereby increasing engagement and participation from the local community.

The charity also provided support, assistance, and guidance following a death within the community. This included offering practical help, coordination, and advice to affected individuals and families during a difficult time, ensuring they received appropriate support and reassurance. This activity demonstrated the charity's commitment to community care, welfare, and social responsibility.

Overall, these projects furthered the charity's objectives by promoting education, religious understanding, community cohesion, and public benefit.

PUBLIC BENEFIT STATEMENT

The trustees have considered the general guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission and has taken due regard of that guidance. The trustees consider that they are satisfied that the charity's activities do benefit the public as it is meeting an identifiable need among the local community. The trustees have benefitted many individuals and families to meet their religious obligations and advanced education for public benefit.
