

Annual Report to April 2025

This has been a difficult year with trustees dogged with ill health. We have forged an association with a start up company, Derma Biosciences, helping to develop novel, plant based treatments for acne and rosacea. We continue to improve education of health professionals in the best management of acne. We have also been involved as stakeholders in the HMRA review of the use of oral isotretinoin in acne.

We are at present in negotiations with a large commercial company and hope to be able to negotiate a significant grant to be able to improve our help for acne and rosacea sufferers.

We hope that next year will see considerable activity of the charity.
