Trustees' Report For The Year Ended 31 December 2022

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 December 2022. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

Who we are

Passion for Freedom is a story of a small group of friends, mostly ladies with a shared dream. Founded in 2009, Passion for Freedom began as a tight-knit sisterhood dedicated to their shared values of free expression, and the power of art to inspire, awaken and shake the world. For an average individual, dipping your toes into a world of censorship, religious terrorism, and oppressed journalists takes real commitment to the cause. Our women fought these things for over a decade, all the while unpaid, juggling careers, relationships, terrorist attacks, and Monday morning's Central Line.

In today's world, Passion for Freedom stands out. There are far too many cowards, bullies, virtue signallers and censors in the world today. When faced with real evil, most people look away or bury their heads in the sand, but we are proud to say that PFF never wavered, despite its adversarial existence.

The real spectacle and focus have always been the yearly art exhibition, where artists facing censorship world-over send in submissions to the Passion for Freedom Art Competition. Creators like Mimsy, Ai Wei Wei, Atena Farghadani, Malala, Kubra Khademi, and countless others have been involved with the competition over the years, and their brilliance is, for lack of a better term, the main show. PFF is merely the stage.

Mission Statement

Passion for Freedom promotes human rights and freedom of expression through the arts and provides support to victims of human rights abuses. Passion for Freedom pursues its mission through diverse activities including art exhibitions, seminars and workshops, as well as educational, welfare and support programmes.

What we do

Passion for Freedom organises an annual international art competition and exhibition on human rights and freedom of speech. This platform facilitates open, uninhibited and critical discussion and debate about the value of freedom and the risks to humanity of losing freedom. Through exhibitions, seminars and workshops, Passion for Freedom creates spaces for artists, writers, and the public to explore subjects and themes often omitted from mainstream discourse on human rights and individual freedoms.

Passion for Freedom's current major activity is the biennial international art competition and exhibition.

Significant activities

- 1) To promote human rights (as set out in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and subsequent United Nations and European conventions and declarations) throughout the world through the arts and works of art with a view to: raise awareness of human rights issues; promote public support for human rights; and promote respect for human rights among individuals and corporations.
- 2) To relieve poverty or financial hardship among victims of human rights abuses and other socially excluded groups throughout the world by providing grants, items, services, education, training and advice to individuals, and/or charities, or other organisations working to prevent or relieve poverty.
- 3) To promote the advancement of health for public benefit, especially for victims of human rights abuses.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Achievements and Performance

Passion for Freedom organises an annual international art competition and exhibition on human rights and freedom of speech. This platform facilitates open, critical discussion about the value of freedom and the risk of losing it. Through exhibitions, seminars and workshops, Passion for Freedom creates space for artists, writers, and the public to explore subjects and themes often omitted from the mainstream art discourse.

Passion for Freedom's first international art competition and exhibition took place in 2009 in London. By 2018, we showed more than 400 artworks from all over the world; about 50 countries, including China, Iran and Venezuela; viewed in person by 15,000 people. Since inception, we have raised awareness and stimulated critical debate about human rights and individual freedoms.

In 2022, Passion for Freedom focused on networking and building relationships with Laeso Kunsthall, the Centre for Contemporary Art Zamek Ujazdowski in Warsaw and Adam Mickiewicz Institute in Warsaw. As a result of this PFF in collaboration with Danish and Polish institutions will be exhibiting in New York in May 2024. 2022 was the year for PFF to attend workshops, seminars and to focus on team bonding activities to accumulate surplus to continue our activity and to complete our New York project in 2024.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

The Charity is funded by donations. There are currently no restrictions on the Charity's power to invest. The Trustees consider the income requirement of the organisation against the income prospects.

The Charity's reserves policy is that general (unrestricted) reserves should be maintained to cover the operating cost for a period of time to continue activities in the event of significant decline (or withdrawal) or funding.

FUTURE PLANS

PFF will continue its statutory activities, secure more partnerships and work towards achieving its charitable objectives. In the upcoming year, we are focusing on:

- Building relationships and collaborating to stage the Passion for Freedom Exhibition in New York May 2024, with: Laeso Art Hall, Denmark, The Center for Contemporary Art Zamek Ujazdowski, Poland, The Institute for Adam Mickiewicz, Poland, Polish Cultural Institute, USA, Future of Western, USA.
- Redesigning, rebuilding and rebranding PFF website and social media – recruit a new team of volunteers to build fundraising campaign website and to connect it with the PFF website.
- To design, create and produce posters and catalogs to promote the New York 2024 exhibition.
- Fundraising campaign for the New York project.
- All the organizational duties to stage the New York 2024 exhibition, including renting a gallery space, advertising competition and shortlisting artists, PR of the event, etc.
- To attend workshops with Maya – an expert on charities fundraising campaigns, to bond the team, and to learn how to successfully run the fundraising campaign.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Structure, governance and management

Passion for Freedom (PFF) is a UK charity registered with the Charity Commission for England and Wales (Charity number is: 1171186). Two Trustees who have served during the year and since the year-end are set out below. The Trustees are appointed by Charity's members.

PFF is a non-governmental, voluntary-based organisation that promotes human rights and freedom of expression through art. PFF was started in London in 2009 by a small group of friends, mainly women, and is today supported by a vast international network of artists, activists, journalists and professionals. Every time before the exhibition and art competition, we ask contributing artists, film producers, writers and journalists three pivotal questions:

1. What is freedom?
2. How do you preserve it?
3. How do you celebrate it?
