

REPORT ON THE WORK OF THE PETER OJIAMBO FOUNDATION (POF)

2025 – 2026

During the period 2025–2026, the Peter Ojiambo Foundation (POF) focused its efforts on advancing training on global leadership and social impact. The Foundation implemented a targeted training program aimed at equipping youth leaders, executives, C-Suite and professionals with leadership skills, personal agency, and social responsibility to thrive in modern professional and societal contexts.

Preparation for the Training Module

Significant time and expertise were invested in the development of a comprehensive training manual on Personal Agency in a Professional Environment.

The POF team spent several hours collaboratively designing and refining the module, ensuring it addressed contemporary leadership needs and practical realities in professional environments. Key contributors to the module development included:

- Amb. Josephine Ojiambo
- Ms. Beleta Otieno
- Ms. Lyndah Muthama

The preparation phase focused on:

- Aligning the content with global leadership standards
- Integrating experiential learning and reflective practice
- Addressing mental health and psychosocial well-being, identity, and advocacy
- Ensuring relevance to the young professionals, emerging leaders and professionals

Outreach and Institutional Engagement

The Peter Ojiambo Foundation conducted extensive outreach to partner institutions to facilitate the delivery of the training program. Outreach activities included engagement and collaboration with several institutions within Nairobi Metropolis and Bungoma County and in the USA namely:

- United States International University (USIU)
- Kibondeni College
- Strathmore University
- Kibabii University
- Stanford University USA

The Foundation also held several follow-up meetings with the USIU, Head of Business Development- Executive Education, Mr. Joseph Munyao, to coordinate program delivery, align institutional objectives, and strengthen collaboration.

In addition, POF hosted a visit by Ms. Milly Karimi from Stanford University, which provided valuable engagement, global perspectives, and strengthened the Foundation's international outlook and partnerships.

Engagement with Kibabii University

As part of deepening institutional collaboration, Amb. Josephine Ojiambo made two visits to Kibabii University. During these visits, she held consultative meetings with:

- Mzee Wetangula
- Prof. Nyukuri Barasa
- Dr. Rispah Wepukhulu

Amb. Dr. Josephine Ojiambo (POF Director) (Far Right) with Mzee Wetangula, Prof. Nyukuri Barasa and Dr. Rispah Wepukhulu (Far Left).

Following these engagements, the team further assembled at Mzee Wetangula's home, where deliberations were held on leadership development and youth empowerment. The meeting culminated in a collective agreement to conduct a training titled "Empowering You for Global Leadership and Social Impact" at Kibabii University.

Highlights of the Training Course

The Global Leadership and Social Impact Bootcamp delivered by POF comprised the following core modules:

- Global Leadership and Etiquette
- Building Personal Agency and Emotional Intelligence
- Mental Health
- Being Male in a Modern World
- Advocacy for Social Change

The training emphasized practical application, self-awareness, and community impact.

The 2025–2026 period marked a significant milestone in the work of the Peter Ojiambo Foundation. Through strategic outreach, intensive module development, strong institutional partnerships, and high-impact training, POF successfully advanced its mission of nurturing ethical, resilient, and socially conscious leaders.

Funding and Accounts

All the work of the Foundation is voluntary and gratis. The other meetings were held online and are gratis. Members catered for their own airtime and travel costs.
