Achievements and performance

Achievements and performance

Sibtayn youth aims to support youth with additional activity and cultural awareness, to integrate in British society while still having an understanding of Islam. During the Islamic Shia calendar, we aim to have events, activities and workshops to help the youth understand their religious British Identity.

1. Leisure youth activities

We delivered a Social Justice Conference in conjunction with Who is Hussain. Over 500 people from different walks of life attended the groundbreaking conference, which explored the complex subject of social justice with inspiring speeches and powerful performances from prominent leaders, activists and influencers. The event explored the growing importance of social justice in 21st century Britain and what we as individuals can do for a more just society. The Keynote speakers included James O'Brien, Journalist and Broadcaster, who focused on reclaiming and redefining the Social Justice Discourse in Britain. Sheikh Nuru Mohammed, Community Leader, who discussed social justice and the need for selfless leadership in order to develop ourselves and ensure we support people within our community. And finally, Catriona Robertson who spoke about multi-faith movements for Social Justice.

During the Islamic month of Ramadan, we held programmes which discussed the following topics by Sheikh Nuru:

1. Self discovery through supplication
2. Ambition and determination
3. Identity struggle
4. Effects of sins on individuals and society
5. Imam Ali (as) and Human Society
6. Marriage and rights

During the last 10 nights of Ramadan, youth from all backgrounds came together and learnt more about the Islamic religion and how you can be a British Muslim that serves the country and abides by British law. Over 300 people from diverse backgrounds joined our programmes and benefited from the lectures and religious congregation.

1b. Youth Development

Personal development programme (PDP), provided youth with the ability to identify the factors that influence the self. Once identified, the young people were equipped with skills to manage these impacts and learn to use them to better themselves. These skills consequently lead one to be more aware of their personal emotions and personal impact on others, particularly when under pressure. The young people were able to improve the physical, emotional and psychological impact of what they do. By focusing on personal cases and learning practical solutions, leaders discover how to deploy themselves effectively, enabling them to achieve exceptional performance. The PDP is led by skilled facilitators using adult learning models where the youth were required to fully and actively engage in the process of learning. The programme enabled participants to explore assumptions, beliefs and attitudes about themselves, the organisation in which they work, the environment in which they operate and the wider British society - in order to enable them to improve where necessary and possible in their everyday lives.

Exploring and understanding the origins of the quran in history.

Sibtayn Youth incited Dr Ahab Bdaiwi to conduct an 8 week course with the aim of exploring and understanding the origins of the Quran, its transmission and dissemination and the nature of revelation in Islam.

2.Cultural Awareness

During the Islamic festival of Eid Al-Ghadeir, Sibtayn youth and Dewan Al-Kafeel partnered and organised a special programme marking the occasion of the divine appointment of Imam Ali (AS) as the successor of Prophet Muhammad (S) on the Day of Al-Ghadeir.

We also celebrated the Birth of Imam Hassan, the grandson of Prophet Mohammed (S) bringing together over 250 people and singing islamic poems and learning more about his life and how we can implement his characteristics in our life today.

3.Seminar & Workshops

During the New Islamic year, Sibtayn youth organised 10 series seminars titled " Imam Hussain in the eyes of the Westerns" for youth. The seminars focused on Western history about the grandson of Prophet Mohammed (S), and touched upon the importance of being a Muslim in the UK, and how we can integrate in Western Society. Over 900 people attended from diverse backgrounds. We also held workshops for children aged 3-15 so they can enjoy themselves while their parents were listening to the lectures. Many young children enjoyed attending with their parents, as they were able to connect with their Islamic roots while still identifying as British Muslims.

Financial review

Financial Review

Sibtayn youth has achieved a satisfactory outcome for the year, with some resources to continue the projects we run annually. We aim to achieve a surplus of 2% each year in order to be able to continue to provide a service to our beneficiaries.

Reserves Policy

Following consultation with the board of Trustees it has been decided that the Charity's policy on reserves is to maintain adequate unrestricted/restricted funds to cover up to 1 months of operating costs in the instance of income funds falling short. The amount that is considered adequate to cover the unrestricted/restricted expenditure for the reserve target is £500. The Charity considers the levels of reserves to be sufficient.

The trustees' annual report and the strategic report were approved on 30 March 2026 and signed on behalf of the board of trustees by:

Incoming resources

All incoming resources are included in the statement of financial activities when entitlement has passed to the charity; it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the charity and the amount can be reliably measured. The following specific policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- income from donations or grants is recognised when there is evidence of entitlement to the gift, receipt is probable and its amount can be measured reliably.
- legacy income is recognised when receipt is probable and entitlement is established.
- income from donated goods is measured at the fair value of the goods unless this is impractical to measure reliably, in which case the value is derived from the cost to the donor or the estimated resale value. Donated facilities and services are recognised in the accounts when received if the value can be reliably measured. No amounts are included for the contribution of general volunteers.
- income from contracts for the supply of services is recognised with the delivery of the contracted service. This is classified as unrestricted funds unless there is a contractual requirement for it to be spent on a particular purpose and returned if unspent, in which case it may be regarded as restricted.

Resources expended

Expenditure is recognised on an accruals basis as a liability is incurred. Expenditure includes any VAT which cannot be fully recovered, and is classified under headings of the statement of financial activities to which it relates:

- expenditure on raising funds includes the costs of all fundraising activities, events, non-charitable trading activities, and the sale of donated goods.
- expenditure on charitable activities includes all costs incurred by a charity in undertaking activities that further its charitable aims for the benefit of its beneficiaries, including those support costs and costs relating to the governance of the charity apportioned to charitable activities.
- other expenditure includes all expenditure that is neither related to raising funds for the charity nor part of its expenditure on charitable activities.

All costs are allocated to expenditure categories reflecting the use of the resource. Direct costs attributable to a single activity are allocated directly to that activity. Shared costs are apportioned between the activities they contribute to on a reasonable, justifiable and consistent basis.

Financial instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the charity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

3. Accounting policies (continued)

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the amount receivable or payable including any related transaction costs.

Current assets and current liabilities are subsequently measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received and not discounted.

Debt instruments are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Where investments in shares are publicly traded or their fair value can otherwise be measured reliably, the investment is subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in income and expenditure. All other such investments are subsequently measured at cost less impairment.

Other financial instruments, including derivatives, are initially recognised at fair value, unless payment for an asset is deferred beyond normal business terms or financed at a rate of interest that is not a market rate, in which case the asset is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Other financial instruments are subsequently measured at fair value, with any changes recognised in the statement of financial activities, with the exception of hedging instruments in a designated hedging relationship.

Financial assets that are measured at cost or amortised cost are reviewed for objective evidence of impairment at the end of each reporting date. If there is objective evidence of impairment, an impairment loss is recognised under the appropriate heading in the statement of financial activities in which the initial gain was recognised.

For all equity instruments regardless of significance, and other financial assets that are individually significant, these are assessed individually for impairment. Other financial assets are either assessed individually or grouped on the basis of similar credit risk characteristics.

Any reversals of impairment are recognised immediately, to the extent that the reversal does not result in a carrying amount of the financial asset that exceeds what the carrying amount would have been had the impairment not previously been recognised.
