The trustees hold regular scheduled meetings at which risks and risk management measures are reviewed.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the Club are to advance public education, and foster a general interest, in model railways, prototype railways and allied pursuits and to encourage a high standard of railway modelling – in particular, amongst the members of the Club.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

In accordance with Section 17(5) of the Charities Act and the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008, the trustees have had regard to the guidance on public benefit, issued by the Charity Commission, when exercising any powers or duties to which the guidance may be relevant. All trustees have read the guidance and take it into account at their regular meetings and in planning the organisation's activities.

The Club provides facilities to develop skills and knowledge to construct working railway models and to research prototype railways. It provides educational instruction on the methods and tools (e.g. electronics, metal working, computer assisted design (CAD), laser cutting, 3D printing, soldering etc.) to develop scale models. The Club also holds skills workshops, led by experts, and educational talks on both the operation of prototype & model railways and the history of railways and allied transport systems.

The Club organises model railway exhibitions and educational visits and supports local events. Collectively and individually, members give talks, contribute to railway magazine articles and railway related websites and blogs.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The Club continued to hold regular weekly meetings, which the public may attend, to further its objectives of fostering a general interest, in model railways, prototype railways and allied pursuits and encouraging a high standard of railway modelling.

Also, in line with its public benefit objectives, the Club held a number of exhibitions during the year – September (Haddenham), February (Princes Risborough) and May (Aylesbury). These provided a range of inspirational, high quality model railway layouts, practical skills demonstrations and an environment to learn more about railway modelling and prototype railways. About 2500 members of the public attended.

In July the club held a free-to-enter open day in support of the Princes Risborough Festival. We provided demonstrations of railway modelling, opportunities for hands-on train operation and historical and modelling information on local railways. This contributed to the objectives of advancing public education, and fostering a general interest, in model and prototype railways. About 100 members of the public attended.

In March, the club hosted a talk, open to the public, by well-known railway modeller Martin Goodall. The club also held a competition, judged by Martin, to encourage and inspire high quality railway modelling. About 30 people attended.

The Club continued to use Facebook and its free-to-view YouTube channel to maintain contact, provide advice and demonstrate modelling techniques. The Facebook Page has more than 260 followers and the YouTube channel currently has 45 videos containing demonstrations, inspirational model railways etc. There are currently over 500 subscribers, and the channel has been viewed 76,328 times.

The Club produced a free, quarterly publication “Footplate” containing instructive modelling items, Club news and details of relevant model railway and prototype railway events.

During the year we ran a number of workshops on model tree making and Digital Command and Control (DCC) layout operating systems. There were about 25 attendees.

Club members also supported other Clubs and organisations by exhibiting their model railway layouts and providing demonstrations, lectures, talks and tutorials.

These activities contributed to the objectives of advancing public education and of developing and sharing skills and knowledge to construct working railway models and to research prototype railways.

During the year the Club signed an Agreement with Quainton Railway Society to establish a permanent Club building at the Bucks Railway Centre at Quainton, Bucks. This will enable the development of a range of collaborative activities of mutual benefit to both charities.

Respective responsibilities of the Risborough & District Model Railway Club and the examiner

The Risborough & District Model Railway Club trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees consider that an audit is not required under the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act') and that an independent examination is needed. It is my responsibility to

- examine the accounts required by the Act;
- follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners under the Act; and
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of an independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Risborough & District Model Railway Club and a comparison of the end of year Balance presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as the Risborough & District Model Railway Club trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements

- to keep accounting records in accordance with the Act
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Signed

Dated 29 November 2024
