Accountant's Report

The accounts (receipts and payments) were prepared based on Cash Accounting basis. Under this method of accounting, revenues and expenses are recognised during the period in which the cash is actually received or paid out. Thus, this annual financial account comprises only funds that were actually received and expenses which were actually paid for. this means that all receivable revenue such as membership fees in areas were excluded and all accrued or unpaid expenses were excluded from the accounts. The accounting format adopted complies with the Charities Act 2011 which allows the small charities such as The Association of Manden UK to present and report their annual financial accounts in receipts and payments accounts format.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

During the year, we successfully managed to raise £38,956 to help carry out our charitable work. We also carried out the following charitable activities during the year:

We made cash donations to some disadvantaged individuals and deprived communities in need to help them meet their short-term essential basic needs.

We provided training & workshop for the disadvantaged children in the community to help them with their GCSE exam preparations. We also provided them with career advice on various career options that they may consider to embark on after successful completion of secondary education.

We organised IT training and workshop to safeguard parents and their children against the danger of misuse of social media. The aim of this workshop was to empower the parents to have some amount of controls over their children's uses of information technology, in particular the harms associated with the misuse of social media.

We organised conferences to provide to promote Islamic values such as kindness to people and animal, charity giving, forgiveness, honesty, patience, justice, family value, virtue of education, respecting parents and elders, keeping promises, and controlling one's anger as commanded or encouraged in the Holy Quran.

Our conferences also were focused on educating the community/public about the important role the Islamic religion can play in promoting peace and harmony among people in the community and in inspiring people to integrate into the wider community and to help build a strong, peaceful, friendly community.

We distributed food to individuals on low income in the disadvantaged communities.

We organised Madrassah for Muslim children in the community to educate them about the essentials of Islamic faith and mannerism. Our main goal is to help the Muslim children to understand Islamic faith properly and learn to tolerate other faiths and fit in with the wider community and become productive- valued members of society at large.

We provided counselling and support service to help /support members of disadvantaged community to go through their social problems such as family problems, immigration matters, unemployment issues, financial distress and many others.

We organised several outdoor sporting and recreational events for the community youth. the purposes of these events were to keep the children or youth off the streets and get them engaged in sporting and recreational activities that could help promote good friendship among them and encouraged them to develop positive attitudes in general, towards members of their community.

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Our policy on reserves is very simple. Our trustees always use best practice to ensure that reasonable fund is put aside in order to protect the charity against drops in income. The trustees put fund that is needed for immediate use to carry out the work of the charity under unrestricted/general funds. They also put fund that is designated to carrying out a particular charitable project under restricted funds. The trustees may move funds between unrestricted fund and restricted fund as they see necessary to do so. Currently, we are putting aside some fund for buying a premises for the charity in the future. Hence, we put the designated funds under the restricted funds.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

NO DEFICIT

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy
- adopted.

The main sources of funds that we use to raise funds to help carry out our charity's work include the following:

- Organising fundraising events,
- Members' contributions,
- Individuals and public donations, and
- Gift Aid.

To achieve our charitable purposes, our trustees spend every fund we raised on providing help and support services that can improve the quality of life of the members of disadvantaged communities.

All our charitable help & support services such as training, workshop, short-term financial assistance, conferences, Madrassah programme, counselling & support, food distribution, sporting and recreational events have all helped boosting the confidence of our beneficiaries to become independent and valued members of their community and integrate into the wider community.

We have not made any investment, but if we are to make any investment in the future, we will have a policy that will require the trustees to carry out due diligence to ensure that the charity's funds are invested prudently and ethically. This means the trustees will only invest the charity's funds in the financial products/property that have low risks.
