Additional governance issues (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about:

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

Organisational Structure

For Tigers is made up of a board of trustees that include a Chairwoman and Director. The only voting members are the Board of Trustees who review the performance of the charity and support decisions on its governance and strategic direction. The Board provides annual reports on project achievements. The Board also ensures that all governance, finances and practices are robust and aim to help the charity meet its objectives.

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The mission of this Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) is to work toward improving the animal welfare of, and promoting the humane behaviour toward, captive tigers in Thailand, in particular, but without limitation, by:

- i. Providing educational services and support in matters pertaining to animal welfare in general and the prevention of cruelty and suffering among animals at facilities housing captive tigers in Thailand;
- ii. Working with locals toward better ethical treatment and approaches toward animals, wild and captive;
- iii. Educating the public in matters pertaining to animal welfare and the prevention of cruelty and suffering amongst captive tigers;
- iv. Analyzing and assessing the welfare, care, treatment, and housing conditions of captive tigers in facilities across Thailand that are open to the public;
- v. Engaging the public to support positive changes for improving conditions of animals in captivity; and
- vi. Creating and distributing information on responsible wildlife tourism.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Public Benefit

The trustees have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

For Tigers' founders identified that the charity's aim was to improve captive tiger welfare in Thailand, reduce the hands-on tourist interactions prevalent in that country and promote humane, ethical and responsible welfare practices to end the suffering of captive tigers.

The organisation's activities benefit the public in the following manner:

- Improving captive tiger welfare in Thailand by educating the public about tiger tourism venues through science-based information via a transparent website, reports, and social media platforms
- Improving and promoting humane captive tiger welfare by informing and educating tiger venues on best welfare practices through training and direct aid

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Achievement and Performance

Charitable activities

To achieve For Tigers' objectives, we identified the fundamental activities that are the core of all For Tigers' activities. These include direct aid, research and resource development, partnership networks and public awareness.

For the year ended December 2021:

Objective: Direct Aid

Achievement: This year, For Tigers continued its collaboration with the Department of National Parks (DNP). Due to the pandemic, enclosures and larger construction works could not be performed. However, due to increasing budget cuts, the two facilities required aid in feeding the tigers in their care. To that end, For Tigers funded weekly chicken donations over a period of 12 weeks.

For Tigers also liaised with, and provided information and expertise on the building of an enclosure in Chitwan National Park, Nepal for a wild-caught tiger. Though not in our usual jurisdiction, this was an emergency request. The aim here was to ensure the wild-caught tiger had an appropriate living space in which to live out the rest of his life.

Objective: Research and resource development

Achievement: During this financial year, our staff attended the South East Asian Zoo Association (SEAZA) Annual conference, the European Association of Zoos and Aquariums (EAZA), the Anthrozoology Conference and the Global Animal Training Summit in order to gain a better understanding of welfare issues, discuss potential steps that could be taken and to network with like-minded organisations and NGOs.

During the year, only a small number of facilities were visited and assessed due to the ongoing pandemic and the fact that numerous facilities were closed to the public. For the few facilities visited, researchers used the same basic animal welfare assessment form created and implemented in 2019.

Objective: Partnership networks

Achievement: A new potential partnership is now in the works. For Tigers is currently creating a captive tiger enrichment programme alongside Wildlife Reserves Singapore (WRS) in order to create a programme that can be implemented anywhere in the world, but with particular focus on those facilities that have a lower welfare understanding or do not have such expansive budgets.

For Tigers continues to remain open to any new partnerships and collaborations, particularly with tiger facilities aiming to improve the welfare of their tigers and potentially to change their business model.

Objective: Public Awareness

Achievement: For Tigers always strives to provide clear and objective information regarding tiger welfare at the facilities across Thailand. This is disseminated via regular newsletters, a website blog and the responsible use of various social media channels.

In addition, we held our fourth fundraising event, this year in virtual form, which was key to communicating many of the welfare issues prevalent across Thailand's tiger facilities. All of our communication with the public is designed to raise effective awareness of welfare issues, elicit positive change and also to secure on going income for our work. Social media is particularly pertinent in these areas so we are continuing to grow our audience and interaction in these areas.

Future Plans 2022

- We plan to continue our direct support of the two Department of National Parks (DNP) facilities housing confiscated tigers in order to continue improving and upgrading their current facilities.
- We plan to move forward with a potential collaboration regarding welfare policies with Wild Welfare.
- We plan to create further, and continuous updated educational material to aid tourists in choosing welfare-friendly captive tiger venues.
- We aim to create educational and/or training material such as enrichment guides, body condition guides, and detailed tiger ethograms that can be delivered to staff working with tigers in Thai venues.
- All educational and training material is planned to be translated into Thai (for venue staff) as a priority, and following that, into various other languages including Mandarin, Russian, Hindi and French in order to reach, and educate, a wider range of tourist groups.
- We will continue to develop additional research opportunities with zoos and NGO partners.
- We will identify facilities willing to accept support, aid and advice to become more welfare aware.
- We intend to continue working with the tiger venue, supporting their progress and transition.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The charity aims to keep in reserve sufficient funds to cover the running costs such as those applicable for website and domain usage.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

Financial Review

Total income from donations for the period was £4076
Rollover total from 2020 was £4684
Total expenditure for this period was £2353

Funds Policies

The 2022 expected expenditure is £8000, which aims to allow for development in a number of areas including direct aid and dissemination of educational materials, as well as the potential development of venue resource materials. We therefore need to continue identifying new donor avenues to meet this predicted expenditure.

Section F Other optional information

There were no trustees' remuneration or other benefits for the year ended 31 December 2021.

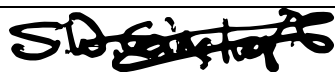

There were no trustees' expenses paid for the year ended 31 December 2021.

Section G Declaration

The trustees declare that they have approved the trustees' report above.
