OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The Society of Radiologists in Training (SRT) is a registered charity whose aim is to promote education, learning and professional development for radiologists in training across the UK. The charity supports this aim through the delivery of conferences, workshops, educational resources, and networking opportunities for trainees.

Our objectives, as stated in the constitution, are:

- To promote and improve medical education in the field of radiology.
- To advance professional development among radiology trainees.
- To provide accessible educational events for all radiology trainees.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Review of activities

During the year ended 14 May 2025, the Society continued to deliver its core objectives by:

- Successfully hosting the SRT 31st Annual national conference in Manchester on 22nd and 23rd of May 2025
- Continued growth of our membership with 385 active subscriptions and a 400% growth in membership subscriptions since the previous year
- Launching new educational events including the FRCR 2B Viva Practice series with 5 sessions in September 2025, and the FRCR Part 1 Anatomy Modality-based Revision series with 3 sessions in January 2026, and the FRCR Part 1 Physics Abridged Revision Course in February 2026

- Collaborating with several societies and radiology revision courses to provide discounted rates for our membership including RadiologyVibes, RadCast, The British Institute of Radiology
- Expanding engagement across multiple regions and training schemes by recruiting SRT Lead Representatives who have revitalised the role of regional reps across the country

Our online educational content continues to attract a high number of attendees, confirming the need for high-quality radiology training resources. Feedback from delegates was overwhelmingly positive.
