Background:

The Wave of Peace (WAVE), formerly Women's Action Against Violent Extremism - WAVE is a volunteer-led charity. WAVE was founded by Shaimaa Mohamed Hassan in 2016 and was registered as CIO in 2018 for advancing and promoting human rights.

WAVE Trustees confirm that the CIO's annual report and financial statements for the year ended 31st March 2022 comply with the current requirements of the CIO's governing documents and the Statement of Recommended Practice according to the Charity Commission recommendation. All trustees gave their time voluntarily and received no benefits from the charity.

- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

WAVE works in collaboration and networks with similarly focused organisations in the UK. WAVE works in cooperation and networks with other similarly focused groups. The charity mostly runs by volunteers.

None:

The Trustees have a risk management procedure, which comprises:

- Constant review of the risks the charity may face;
- The establishment of systems and procedures to mitigate those risks identified in the review; and
- The implementation of procedures designed to minimise any potential impact on the charity
- Regular training for WAVE staff such as Strategic Communications Training, Fundraising and Digital Skills Training, and Cyber Security to stay safe online.

Section C

Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are:

1. The advancement of human rights, conflict resolution or reconciliation or the promotion of religious or racial harmony or equality and diversity.

2. To promote human rights (as set out in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and subsequent United Nations conventions and declarations) throughout the world by all or any of the following means:

- Monitoring abuses of human rights;
- Obtaining redress for the victims of human rights abuse;
- Relieving need among the victims of human rights abuse;
- Research into human rights issues;
- Educating the public about human rights;
- Providing technical advice to government and others on human rights matters;
- Contributing to the sound administration of human rights law;
- Commenting on proposed human rights legislation;
- Raising awareness of human rights issues;
- Promoting public support for human rights;
- Promoting respect for human rights among individuals and corporations;
- International advocacy of human rights;
- Eliminating infringements of human rights.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

WAVE strives to defend and promote human rights enshrined in United Nations charters, international laws, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and covenants on civil, political, social, economic and cultural rights. Our trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the charity commission on public benefit. Trustees followed the good practice guidance to run the charity effectively and comply with the legal duties. WAVE trustees and volunteers continued to work to meet the charity's objectives and the need of beneficiaries.

WAVE team and volunteers organised a number of events and developed and delivered training programmes and activities to educate the public and raise awareness of human rights issues in the UK and abroad to promote public support for human rights. We collaborated with other similar organisations to deliver activities online and face-to-face.

Some of the activities delivered include:

The WAVE team organised an International Women's Day event in March 2023 to fully embrace equality and celebrate the achievements of Black, Asian, and ethnic minority women. WAVE collaborated with other community organisations, and the event brought together community members, families, and groups, including Black, African, Asian, Arab, and Latin American communities. The event featured music, food, dance performances, and workshops. It took place at Walworth Methodist Church, 54 Camberwell Rd, London SE5 0EW.

WAVE has a representative member on the Equality and Human Rights Panel (EHRP). The EHRP consists of representatives from Voluntary and Community Sector Organisations (VCSOs) working in the borough of Southwark. The main purpose of the panel is to provide constructive feedback on Equality Analysis documents produced by the council and to act as a critical friend to the council, assisting it in meeting its obligations under the Public Sector Equality Duty

Arabic English Language and Culture Exchange weekly sessions continued to play a key role in promoting mutual respect and understanding of different cultures. The sessions take place every Wednesday in an inclusive environment where everyone feels comfortable and equal. The sessions help participants gain knowledge, skills, and confidence to promote human rights, provide the group with a valuable counter-argument to negative stereotyping, and tackle problems such as racism, Islamophobia, sexism, and extremism. These sessions also aim to facilitate the integration of refugee and migrant participants.

The WAVE team and volunteers organised several events and activities to promote human rights and peacebuilding education, aiming to promote public support for people affected by conflict, including refugees.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grant-making;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

WAVE is mostly run by volunteers. Their contributions include planning and organising events, delivering workshops and training, marketing, managing our website and social media. They also help develop our network and collaborate with other similarly focused organisations and community groups. Additionally, fundraising to support the delivery of more activities.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

- We helped participants gain knowledge, skills, and confidence to promote human rights and delivered workshops on human rights, peacebuilding, and issues surrounding refugees.
- Networking with similarly focused organisations.
- Through our English-Arabic Language and Culture Exchange sessions, we brought diverse people together in a safe and friendly environment, fostering mutual respect and understanding of different cultures. These sessions also aimed to facilitate the integration of refugee and migrant participants.
