The trustees of the International Council for Standardization in Haematology (ICSH), the charitable company, who are also directors for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charitable company for the year ended 31 December 2023.

The financial statements comply with Charities Act 2011, the Companies Act 2006, the Memorandum and Articles of Association, and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

The charitable company was incorporated on 31 August 2017 and its charitable purposes as set out in the Articles of Association were as follows:

- [a] promoting reliable and reproducible results in laboratory analysis in the field of diagnostic haematology;
- [b] promoting and facilitating scientific, medical and technical research;
- [c] promoting the improvement of laboratory methods and instruments for haematological analyses, and
- [d] stimulating and coordinating scientific work towards the development and improvement of international standardization materials and guidelines.

The ICSH coordinates working groups of experts to examine laboratory methods and instruments for haematological analyses, to deliberate on issues of standardization and to stimulate and coordinate scientific work as necessary towards the development of international standardization materials and guidelines. ICSH conducts two events each year whereby current and future projects are discussed with its community members.

ICSH makes two Scholarship awards each year. The Carol Briggs-Smalley Scholarship Award was set-up in 2015 to honour the significant contributions Carol Briggs made to the discipline of laboratory haematology. Each year ICSH seeks applications from Medical Technologists and Medical Laboratory Scientists on laboratory haematology projects particularly those that are related to standardization in laboratory haematology. Applicants submit a brief research proposal and CV. These are evaluated by a review panel and an amount up to £10,000 (previously €5,000) is allocated to the successful applicant for expenses related to the project. The Sam Machin Scholarship was set up in 2021 and is open to medical graduates who are either undertaking, or have in the past 5 years completed specialist haematology training. The ICSH supports laboratory-based projects that will lead to further standardisation of testing and analysis in haematology. Applicants submit a brief research proposal and CV, which are evaluated by a review panel and an amount up to £10,000 is awarded to the successful applicant for expenses related to the project.

The trustees are aware that they must carry on the charitable company's activities for the public benefit and they must pay due regard to the guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission. They consider that the charitable company's aims and activities are for the public benefit as outlined above.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

During the year, the charitable company had a surplus of £5,506 (2022: Deficit of £39,036) and at the year end, held total funds of £215,761 (2022: £210,255).

ICSH is in a solid financial position with £237,921 in the CAF Bank accounts in the UK.

Reserves policy

Reserves are maintained: to allow investment in suitable laboratory haematology projects; to support scientific research around the globe; to support our participation, stakeholding and collaborative relationships with external International bodies; and to ensure the charitable company has sufficient resources to continue as a going concern and conduct annual General Assembly meetings.

The trustees will review the reserves policy at least annually as part of its planning processes and it is noted that the reserve policy may change with time and circumstances. The amount held in reserves will also be monitored during the course of the year as part of the charitable company's budgetary processes.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The organization was originally founded as a standardizing committee associated with the European Society of Haematology in Lisbon on 31st August 1963. Its Articles of Constitution were later revised in October 2013. Prior to the 2020 accounting period the entity resided in Canada, but as a number of the management board are based in the UK, the organization decided to relocate to the UK for administrative reasons.

Recruitment and appointment of management board members

Members of the management board are trustees of the charity and directors of the charitable company. The methods for appointing board members are set out in our Articles of Association. The Articles provides; there must be at least three members at all times, the first members being the subscribers with subsequent members appointed by the existing management board. Any member who ceases to be a member of the management board automatically ceases to be a member of the charitable company.

Management board

The management board consists of between five and ten persons, and the number shall be determined from time to time by a resolution and simple majority of the management board. A chairperson or other officers can be appointed by the management board which can set out their duties, responsibilities and powers as required.

Membership of the management board is open to practising laboratory haematologists or haematology laboratory scientists but any person who is employed by any company or firm that conducts business of any kind in laboratory haematology with a view to profit is not eligible to serve. Members of the management board shall serve for three years and may be re-appointed for an additional three years by the chair and management board. In exceptional circumstances, the chair and the management board may approve a person to serve for a further period.

Members of the management board are not remunerated for this role and their time is not recognised as income as it cannot be measured reliably. The members are the only volunteers of the charity. In addition, no member of the management board may be appointed to paid employment with the charitable company and no employee may be appointed as a member of the management board.

Members of the management board may be paid reasonable out of pocket expenses incurred in relation to attending meetings of the management board or otherwise performing their duties and carrying out their responsibilities.

Induction and training of new trustees

Prior to appointment, potential board members are informed of their responsibilities as both board members and trustees. New board members are provided with access to all relevant documents and to bring them up to date on the current priorities of the charitable company.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charitable company is exposed, and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable insurance against fraud and error.

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees (who are also the directors of International Council for Standardization in Haematology for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the report of the trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue with its activities.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions of Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies.

Approved by the board of trustees on 16 September 2024 and signed on its behalf by:

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL FOR STANDARDIZATION IN HAEMATOLOGY

I report to the charity trustees on my examination of the accounts of the charitable company for the year ended 31 December 2023 as set out on pages 6 to 12.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity trustees of the charitable company (and also its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the Companies Act 2006 ("the 2006 Act").

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the charitable company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of your charitable company's accounts as carried out under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination which gives me cause to believe that in any material respect:

- accounting records were not kept in respect of the charitable company as required by section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
- the accounts did not accord with the accounting records; or
- the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair view' which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
- the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities [applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)].

I have no concerns and have come across no matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
