Letter from the Chair

Stephen Beer

Recent events in politics around the world, armed conflicts, further evidence of global warming, and periods of rapid rises or falls in stock markets, suggest we live in uncertain times. The reality is that uncertainty is a feature of our world. Some things are durable however. For church investors, that will include their Christian faith and the principles they seek to apply to their investments.

The year under review saw a further increase in criticism of 'ESG'; the application of environmental, social, and governance criteria to the running and assessment of businesses and other organisations. The term can mean different things but church investors will have a different starting place. They begin with an ethical perspective, informed by Christian faith and teaching. That is why we launched a new guide for members, Working with your investment managers. The guide does not represent investment advice, which is the responsibility of each investor to seek as appropriate, but it provides an aid to having conversations about investment ethics. The feedback from members has been very encouraging.

The world continued to warm and 2024 was the first calendar year in which the average temperature was over 1.5°C higher than the pre-industrial average. It was a sobering reminder that past greenhouse gas emissions are causing changes in our climate, and yet we remain reliant on fossil fuels and are a long way from making all the changes needed to transition to a net zero world. At the same time, the pace of the clean energy transition continues to surprise, and is likely to bring fundamental changes to economies. Our conferences discussed such issues. Our conference attendance and participation has grown and we have continued to add to our membership. I want to thank Louise Davies (as Treasurer) and Brian Duffin for their long service on the board. We welcomed Daniel Neale to the board, with John Millar joining at the 2024 AGM.

In an uncertain world, the voice of church investors calling for ethical standards in business is important. Church investors aim to bring grace and understanding to their ethical investment practice. At the same time, values matter, whether in or out of fashion. The Church Investors Group aims to help increase understanding of ethical investment issues from Christian principles. That sense of mission has been refreshed in the past year and we look forward to the year ahead, amidst difficult times worldwide, building on the firm foundation of our faith.

Trustees' Report (including Directors' Report)

Objectives

The trustees present their annual report together with the financial statements of the Church Investors Group for the year to 31 October 2024.

The trustees have adopted the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities' (FRS 102) in preparing the annual report and financial statements of the charity.

The financial statements have been prepared with the accounting policies set out in the notes to the accounts and comply with the charity's governing document, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and republic of Ireland published in October 2019.

The legal and administrative information on page 17 forms part of this report.

The directors of the charitable company are its trustees for the purposes of charity law.

Objectives

The objects of the Charity are:

- to promote ethical investment and ethical business practice for the public benefit so as to advance: the relief of poverty; the protection of the environment; compliance with the law and ethical standards of conduct; and such other purposes as may be effectively advanced by such promotion which are charitable in law;
- to promote sustainable development for the public benefit by: the preservation, conservation and the protection of the environment and the prudent use of resources; and the promotion of sustainable means of achieving economic growth and regeneration;

- to advance the education of the public in the principles and effects of ethical investment, ethical business practice and subjects relating to sustainable development and to promote study and research in such subjects provided that the useful results of such study are disseminated to the public at large.

In each case in a manner which draws upon and reflects the body of Christian ethical principles derived from the beliefs and traditions of the different Christian denominations;

By sustainable development we mean development which meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.

Activities and Performance

Church Investors Group Strategy implementation

Stranded Humans Strategy

The Church Investors Group has since its beginning played a key role in fostering solidarity amongst Christians of different church traditions. We offer an opportunity for our membership to coalesce around issues of importance to investors with a Christian value base, across denominational and geographical borders and our membership has steadily grown. We wish to be constant in our call for justice and leading on issues that otherwise might be overlooked. This emphasis was further articulated in our recent three-year strategy focused on concern for Stranded Humans, which gives us opportunities to use our specific perspective to analyse and prioritise current and future issues on which to work, and to adjust our focus as circumstances change.

The escalating threat of climate change and geopolitical developments continue to remain central and have only increased their relevance, and we are intending to continue to offer options for company engagement and press for higher standards of governance in general. We believe that specifically developing methods for researching and action on contextual issues which link to "Stranded Humans" will support us in our strategy development and identify serious problems which might otherwise receive less attention than they deserve. Our theological perspective means that we need to care for all people who are disadvantaged and where our power as investors can bring alleviation of suffering and better quality of life. Learning more about such issues was an important part of our work 2023-2024 but was extended to provide our members with resources better to be able to implement work addressing critical issues.

Provide resources and training for members

The financial year 2023-2024 provided members with a number of opportunities for training, in addition to the annual conference and Members' meeting, including webinars, roundtables with investors, other organisations and company representatives related to a specific area of child labour risks in a supply chain.

The Members' meeting and Annual Conference saw increased numbers of participants compared to earlier years, and a few observers were able to attend which already have led to new member organisations joining.

Topics at the June Members' meeting included sessions on the labour rights in the UK adult social care sector, a company representative sharing experiences of how engagement had led to substantial changes within company policy and practice and a discussion on how to engage with one of the largest companies in the world. The well-attended November conference, with over 60 participants over the two days, saw Sacha Sadan, Director of ESG from the Financial Conduct Authority reflecting on the topic: Investment, sustainability and purpose, but there were also presentations on the Roman Catholic Mensuram Bonam process many of our members are involved in, Church of England's new AI advice and a reflection on learning from history to shape the future as well as a panel discussion on "Urgent climate action is needed – but how to know what is possible and what is not?"

The main work related to training opportunities during the year was holding webinars to develop, adjust after members' feedback and launch a resource document called "Working with your fund managers". Two interactive sessions were held in connection with the conferences and the document was released on the Church Investors Group website in November. The publication, developed with consultancy support of Chronos Sustainability, has generated a lot of interest, including in sector media.

Activities and Performance

Continue strengthening our public voice

The multi-year initiative related to support to work to eliminate the worst forms of child labour in artisanal tantalum mining in Eastern Congo over the last few years, reached an important milestone during the financial year with a learning paper "How can due diligence be improved for artisanal mining?" published together with Global Child Forum and the consultancy Fifty Eight. The paper was based on a series of roundtables, which included company representatives as well as investors, including Church Investors Group members, and recommended actions to take to improve the due diligence processes to serve the most vulnerable children in the communities affected by the artisanal mining.

Acting and communicating as a group

The main workstream in this area in the financial year involved devising a new process for the Church Investors Group voting guidelines. A committee, including Church Investors Group Board members, are now responsible for annual updates of these guidelines in the future. Against changes in the context affecting collaborative action in this area, the implementation of proxy voting in line with the guidelines will from now on be the responsibility of individual Members. However, a longer, explanatory document will be produced annually to support any Church Investors Group member who would like to vote, or instruct their manager or managers to vote, in a specific way based on ethical principles relevant for church investors. The publication based on the discussions which were developed in the financial year is due to be published at the end of the first quarter of 2025.

UK Church Investors Group members can, if they wish automatically become UKSIF members, and all members with AUM under £500 can get IIGCC membership at no extra cost.

Facilitating action for clusters of members

CIG has a unique structure as a large network and can facilitate collaboration on topics in addition to the specific issues on which it is focusing at any given time. The new strategy has intensified this focus, and it will be implemented through increased and improved efforts to share information with members that might have similar interests for joint calls to action, but also wider initiatives and policy work. The four or five newsletters sent to all member contacts, and sessions at the conferences have highlighted opportunities for Members to join already existing initiatives operated by others, in addition to Church Investors Group already being involved with the Find it, Fix it Prevent it investor coalition related to Modern Slavery, and more recently the Investor Commission on Mining 2030.

Members also had the option to join the following initiatives during the financial year:

- a. an initiative by the Friends Provident Foundation on how to improve labour standards in the UK care sector,
- b. an Amazon AGM filing via CCLA investment management (representing several member organisations invested via CCLA)
- c. questions to HSBC related to sustainable finance and funding targets for renewable energy put forward by Jesuits in Britain and Epworth Investment Management (representing the Central Finance Board of the Methodist church).

Engagement

Promoting Responsible Business

Our Wider Work

Proxy Voting and specific engagement issues

The Church Investors Group's Annual Proxy Voting Guidelines Initiative

The annual Church Investors Group guidelines informing voting among the Church Investors Group's largest UK asset owners and managers among the membership is considered one of our most important actions to encourage ethical values in business.

It is one of the ways the Church Investors Group promotes ethical business practice and sustainable development.

Main areas supported by this initiative are:

- a. Election of directors and Committee members
- b. Remuneration - incentivise the generation of sustainable, long-term, shareholder value and reflect our members' values
- c. Shareholder resolutions – which can be adopted on a case-by-case basis

Specific engagement programmes in areas such as Climate Change; Modern Slavery; Living Wage; Tailing Dams; and Tax Transparency are decided and implemented by individual members, but suggestions are included in relation to how Living Wage and diversity targets can be incorporated into voting since these are areas Church Investors Group have engaged with companies over a number of years.

Throughout the year members have been offered, as individual members, to join several engagement activities led by other member organisations.

International Partnerships and New members

One of the highly stimulating aspects of the Church Investors Group is the international collaboration with specific member organisations and affiliates in a wide-ranging network of faith-based investors working collaboratively and sharing ideas as well as collaborative action. 2023-2024 saw this being increased with strong participation of international members at Church Investors Group events, and Church Investors Group being represented and speaking at Arbeitskreis Kirchlichen Investoren's autumn conference in September 2024, leading to further European church investor connections in the future.

Conclusion

In all their dealings the trustees have had regard to guidance issued by the Charity Commission relating to public benefit and particularly to its supplementary public benefit guidance in setting the objectives and planning the activities of the organisation.

The Trustees believe that they can best further the charity's charitable purposes for the public benefit by advancing ethical and sustainable investment and business practices in a manner which draws upon and reflects the body of Christian ethical principles.

Trustees' Report (including Directors' Report)

Financial Review

Financial review

Total income from subscriptions during the financial year up to end of October 2024 totalled £67,481 (2023: £64,420) of which £65,642 (2023: £63,060) related to subscriptions while expenditure totalled £63,679 (2023: £53,410). The increase in subscription income was related to an adjustment of the membership fees. The charity closed the year with a healthy free reserves balance of £72,539 (2023: £68,737). As a result we are confident that the Church Investors Group is a going concern and fully expect that future day to day expenditure will be adequately covered by income from membership subscriptions.

Going forward we may seek grant funding to finance ad hoc projects; however, we do not expect to fundraise in other ways and, since we will not be holding investments, we do not expect any income from this source beyond the interest earned on surplus or reserve funds. We do not anticipate that we will be awarding grants.

Reserves

The Board of the Church Investors Group have considered the need for the charity to maintain its activities in the face of unexpected events and balanced this with the recognition that holding too much in reserve will hinder the furtherance of the CIG's charitable objectives in the present. We will hold in reserves enough money to cover at least six months committed expenditure.

For the financial year 1 November 2024-31 October 2025 this level is £37,300.

We maintain this level of reserves to manage cash flow risks and ensure sufficient operating capital in the event of unforeseen circumstances. Our major expenditure (secretariat services) is paid at the end of the financial year. While efforts are made to ensure membership fees are paid within the financial year, a significant reduction in memberships, or any significant unanticipated costs, could present risks to continued operation or to meet our financial commitments.

Where reserves are above the specified level the board will seek to spend any excess in line with the CIG's charitable objective. Where reserves are below the specified level the Board will aim to build them up to a suitable level. The Secretariat and Treasurer will monitor, and report to the Board, the level of current reserves and anticipated reserves at the year end.

Future plans

The Charity plans to continue its activities outlined above in accordance with the new strategy agreed for 2023-26. The Board is also developing plans to provide further trustee training resources; to offer options of joining engagement with listed companies; drive a few own engagement initiatives and review other opportunities of partnership working. We are also working on developing additional forms of communications with our members.

Risk management

The principal risks facing the charity are that:

- We fail to meet our objectives. This risk is mitigated by consultation with our membership at member meetings about planned future activities and the review of our progress against these plans in detail at regular Board meetings.
- We fail in our duty to provide public benefit. This risk is mitigated by the consideration of the public benefit implications of any new proposal and, where necessary, the seeking of professional legal guidance.
- We fail to meet our financial obligations as they fall due. This risk is mitigated by the review of detailed financial reports and budgets at each Board meeting.

Furthermore, the Board ensures that its work is informed by the membership and that the membership is regularly consulted and updated on current activities.

New trustees undergo a formal induction process. They are provided with information including recent accounts, a copy of the Memorandum and Articles of Association and relevant guidance provided by the Charity Commission.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities

Statement of trustees' responsibilities in respect of the trustees' report and the financial statements and other declarations.

The trustees (who are also directors of Church Investors Group for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- a. Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. Observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP 2019 (FRS 102);
- c. Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- d. State whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- e. Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the charitable company's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

For the year in question (to 31 October 2024) the company was entitled to exemption under section 477 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies. Given that no members have required the company to obtain an audit of its accounts for the year in question in accordance with section 476 of the Company Act 2006, the trustees have taken advantage of this provision in in preparing the trustees' annual report and financial statements.

The trustees declare that they have approved the trustees' report and financial statements.

1. Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies adopted, judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

1.1 Company Information

Church Investors Group is a Private Company Limited by Guarantee registered as a charity under the Charities Act 2011. It was registered as a company on 20 October 2017 and its company number is 11024016. It was registered as a charity on 18 July 2018 and its charity number is 1179162. Its principal office address is C/o CCLA Investment Management Ltd, One Angel Lane, London, EC4R 3AB. There are no controlling parties.

1.2 Accounting Convention

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102) issued in October 2019, the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102), the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011 and UK Generally Accepted Practice as it applies from 1 January 2015. The financial statements have been prepared to give a true and fair view and comply with the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008.

The financial statements are presented in sterling which is the functional currency of the charity and rounded to the nearest £.

Church Investors Group meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy notes.

1.3 Going Concern

The trustees have at the time of approving the financial statements a reasonable expectation that the charity will continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. They have therefore adopted the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements.

1.4 Income

Income from all sources is recognised in full in the Statement of Financial Activities in the year in which it is receivable. Where subscriptions have not been received by the year end, they are not recognised.

1.5 Interest receivable

Interest on funds on deposit is included when receivable and the amount can be measure reliably by the charity; this is normally upon notification of the interest paid or payable by the banks.

1.6 Expenditure

Expenditure is included in the statement of financial activities on an accruals basis inclusive of any VAT that cannot be recovered. All expenditure relates those costs incurred by the charity in the delivery of its activities and services. The charity does not currently employ staff or fundraise.

1.7 Fixed assets

The charity holds no fixed assets.

1.8 Debtors

Other debtors, if any, are recognised at the settlement amount due. Prepayments, if any, are valued at the amount prepaid.

1.9 Cash at bank and in hand

Cash at bank and in hand includes cash and short term highly liquid investments with a short maturity held for working capital.

Notes to the financial statements

1.10 Creditors, loans and provisions

Creditors, loans and provisions are recognised where the charity has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will probably result in the transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably. Creditors, loans and provisions are normally recognised at their settlement amount after allowing for any trade discounts due.

1.11 Financial instruments

The charity only has financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured by their settlement value.

1.12 Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are funds which are available for use at the discretion of the Trustees in furtherance of the general objectives of the charity.

1.13 Taxation

As a charity the Church Investors Group is exempt from tax on income and gains falling within the available tax exemptions to the extent that these are applied to its charitable object. No tax charges have arisen in the charity for the year ended 31 October 2024.

1.14 Critical accounting estimates and areas of judgement

In the application of the charity's accounting policies, the trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amount of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised where the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods where the revision affects both current and future periods.
