Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

For the public benefit to promote the education and performance of music for people under the age of 25 years who are socially and economically disadvantaged in such ways as the charity trustees think fit, including but not limited to the following:-

1. Creating interactive projects to inspire and enhance lives;
2. Provision of professional musicians and educators for the purposes of education, performance and composition;
3. Mentoring and sponsorship schemes to enable young people to fulfil their potential; and
4. Direct assistance in the form of monetary grants and subsidies.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The trustees confirm that they have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing the charity's aims and objectives and will take account of the public benefit requirements when planning future activities.

Harmony exists to promote music education and performance for people under the age of 25 years who are socially and economically disadvantaged; there are many who would like to study music and become competent at playing a musical instrument but who currently lack the funds they need to do this. The aim of the charity is to provide the necessary assistance that will enable children and young people from disadvantaged backgrounds to pursue their musical ambitions, whether at school, in higher education, or at the start of a career as a professional musician.

The playing and performing of music can help people to express themselves better, find new confidence in their own abilities and discover hope for a better future.

Playing music with others, in ensembles or orchestras, develops an awareness of how individual contributions can come together to make the whole, and this brings a sense of community. Working towards a common goal in partnership with other musicians cultivates valuable life skills that can be utilised in many different walks of life, as well as in the field of music.

There are millions of under-25s, in the UK and across the world, who have never had the opportunity to experience the life-enhancing benefits of music-making and are therefore potential beneficiaries of the charity's work.

Harmony's charitable objects describe various ways in which it might seek to support the music training of young people under the age of 25. These include the provision of direct financial assistance where needed, input from professional musicians funded by the charity and the setting up of special projects involving groups of young musicians.

Additional details of objectives and activities (optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The prolonged impact of Covid restrictions during the financial year meant there were no opportunities to develop the charity's work; this included the planned re-recording of the lead vocal part on the STAND soundtrack, which could not be carried out as we had hoped. As a result the use of the song as a fundraising vehicle had to be put on hold.

Donations amounted to £950, which covered the costs of further development of the charity's website and legal advice in connection with the use of the STAND soundtrack.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The charity has no reserves (the cash balance at the end of the financial year was just £67). The charity has no property to maintain, employs no staff and there are currently no spending commitments associated with its charitable objects. The financial risk is therefore judged to be very low at present and the charity has not yet adopted a policy on reserves.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
