Structure, governance and management

Charity Status

National Open Art ("the Charity") is a charitable incorporated organisation. It is governed by its constitution which was registered by the Charity Commission on 27 September 2018. The trustees are the members of the Charity.

Recruitment, Appointment and Training of Trustees

Trustees are recruited from supporters of the Charity who share its aims and aspirations and are believed to be able to bring a breadth and depth of experience and skills to the trustee body. Prior to appointment trustees are briefed on the Charity's activities. Each trustee is required to complete a Declaration of Interests and a Fit and Proper Person form. They take seriously their obligations to maintain their knowledge and attend relevant courses and seminars.

Risk Management

The trustees have identified the major risks to which they believe the Charity is exposed. Where appropriate, systems have been established to minimise those risks. Procedures are in place to ensure compliance with health and safety requirements. The trustees believe that corruption, bribery and unfair actions hamper development and impede progress and insist on integrity in all aspects of the Charity's activities.

Objectives and activities

The main objectives of the Charity are to promote for the public benefit the arts of painting, drawing, sculpture, visual design and displays of any nature by providing opportunities for exhibitions and competitions and education in those arts. These objectives are achieved by an annual open art exhibition

Public benefit

The trustees have paid due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. The Charity aims to benefit the public by being a positive presence in the art world by staging an annual high quality open art exhibition and competition.

Achievements and performance

The Covid-19 pandemic meant it was not possible to undertake any activities during the year.

National Open Art CIO
Trustees' Annual Report
Year Ended 31 January 2023

Financial review

There was no income or expenditure during the year.

Investment policy

Funds not required for current needs may be invested in investments of any kind at the absolute discretion of the trustees.

Volunteers

Trustees, who are the only volunteers do not receive any payment or benefits for their work as trustees.

Pay Policy for Key Management Personnel

The Charity has no employees and therefore does not have a pay policy.

Fundraising

The Charity did not undertake any fundraising and did not employ any fundraisers.

Reserves Policy

The trustees have not set a reserves policy but have resolved that the charity cannot operate without holding reserves at the year end of sufficient size to ensure all operating expenses can be met prior to the launch of the next season's exhibition.

Plans for future periods

The lack of success in securing funding for an exhibition in 2019, the unsuccessful discussions with another national exhibition with the aim of collaboration and the effects of the Covid-19 pandemic has forced the trustees to conclude that there is no immediate future for the charity.

Governance

The trustees take governance seriously and seek to apply the Charity Governance Code.

Trustees' responsibilities statement

The trustees are responsible for preparing the trustees' report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Charity law requires the charity trustees to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the applicable Charities SORP;
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the financial information included in the charity's website.
