Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Homing Cats come into our care from a variety of sources – for example, strays, unwanted, abandoned, evictions, bereavement, via Social Services, police and vet referrals. Whilst we are unable to accommodate all requests, we help if we can. If we are unable to accept a cat, advice and alternative suggestions are always offered. Before being rehomed, all cats undergo a health check from a qualified veterinary surgeon, are neutered (if not already), wormed and defleaded, vaccinated, microchipped and for peace of mind, all are homed with four weeks of free health insurance from Petplan. All cats that come into our care are assessed as to their homing suitability (eg. with small children, inexperienced owners, dogs and other pets.) We will only home a cat if we feel there is a good match with their new environment and new owners. We do not normally home animals on, or near, busy roads to reduce the risk of traffic accidents. Everybody who adopts a cat or kitten is given verbal and written advice about how to settle a new cat into the family. Cats will always be accepted back into care should their new owner's circumstances change or newly adopted cats fail to integrate into their new family - in such cases, we will offer to refund the money given as an adoption donation. In the period under review, 43 cats and kittens were rehomed.

		Neutering At every opportunity we encourage volunteers and members of the public to neuter their cats - it is beneficial to the long term health of the animal and helps limit the number of unwanted cats and kittens. Unowned cats can become a nuisance in the community and on factory sites when they are roaming, fighting with neighbouring cats and having unwanted litters of kittens in inappropriate places. Most are semi-feral or feral; a few have had a home at some point. Cats are trapped then spayed or castrated, treated for parasites and ear-tipped for identification before being released back into their territory after recovery. On rare occasions, if the original trap site is considered unsafe for release, cats can be relocated to other safer sites e.g. farms, smallholdings and stables. Kittens young enough to be easily socialised are taken into foster care and subsequently placed for adoption. Truly feral cats do not fare well in confinement and cannot be successfully socialised. They are released as soon as possible. Any trapped cats suffering from serious medical problems (e.g. an injury not able to be fixed with a single treatment) are usually euthanised with agreement of a veterinary surgeon if that is the best welfare option overall. There are many benefits to TNR. Once neutered, a cat has a better quality of life, reduced fighting and disease. Female cats are prevented from having up to three litters a year. Nuisance behaviour is reduced or eliminated, thus improving the public's perception of cats. This year our volunteers continued work on our TNR programme. In the period under review, a total of 24 cats received help under our TNR programme. Advice and Education The charity periodically produces a free newsletter which highlights our recent work and also gives advice on cat-related topics. All cats and kittens are rehomed with a comprehensive information pack and new owners are actively encouraged to stay in touch so we can help with the integration into their new homes. Owners often ring and ask about behavioural and medical problems associated with their pets and, if appropriate, we do our best to signpost advice and help.

		Official organisations sometimes also contact us and ask for help when faced with situations, for example, involving tenants and their cats. Fostering Facilities Our five pen, cat hotel continues to work well and has almost 100% occupancy over the year. No major repairs or maintenance have been necessary during the year. Our very first, “get us going”, cabin was totally stripped out and rebuilt. It now has a proper safety corridor, proper lighting and a thermostatically controlled sleeping area. The Prince’s Trust We continued our relationship with Cheshire Fire and Rescue where we facilitate a “work placement” for selected participants as part of the Prince’s Trust tri-annual, 13 week course hosted in Macclesfield. Over their two week placement with us, the students follow a structured programme and, as well as learning about animal husbandry, learn about how the charity runs, its policies and its governance. This year, we welcomed two participants - both very different individuals and with different challenges and long term aspirations. We hope to continue the relationship next year when, of course, it will become The King’s Trust following the death of our majesty, The Queen. Working with others We maintain our links with other local rescue charities - bilateral sharing of surplus food and loaning of equipment has helped to reduce our expenses and theirs too. Support and advice is freely exchanged. We continue to benefit from our enrollment in Battersea’s Academy, making use of their many online courses to keep up to date with current rescue thinking and techniques. Our partnership with PetPlan continues and means we can home our cats with four weeks’ complementary health insurance.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	During the year under review our income fell slightly but our fell expenditure more leaving our year end position financially comfortable. We saw a significant downturn in activity, partly due to having fewer kittens and more older cats in care which take longer to find homes. However, we feel the reduced activity is more due to the general population being impacted by the financial crisis and being less minded to have companion animals. This year our TNR programme was internally funded without grant funded assistance. Activity was comparable to last year. This year, our income is less than £25k which means we are not compelled to have our accounts independently examined. However, the trustees feel it is good practice and have arranged an examination and the results are appended to this report.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The charity's policy is to hold a minimum of between six and twelve months of unrestricted reserves to provide a buffer against unexpected events.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	At the end of the year, we held £40,705 unrestricted reserves (4 years,) a significant increase from last year. In part, this is due to reduced activity on the homing front and having fewer and less demanding veterinary needs. It also reflects the trustee's ambition to acquire a new uPVC isolation pen so we can properly manage infectious / ill cats and kittens.
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	Not applicable

Details of fund materially in deficit	Para 1.24	None
Explanation of any uncertainties about the charity continuing as a going concern	Para 1.23	None

Additional information (optional)

You may choose to include further statements where relevant about:

The charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising)	Para 1.47	1. Donations from adopters and the general public, either one-off or by standing order. 2. Fundraising - sale of good quality donated goods through our eBay shop continued to do well and helped us finance our work. 3. Grants from other organisations and charitable trusts (none applied for this year)
A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	The charity's principal risk is receiving a large, unexpected vet bill for a cat taken into our care. Routine veterinary costs are generally known and predictable; however, if a veterinary surgeon advises that a cat needs particularly expensive treatment, to mitigate the risk, the trustees will make an informed decision, in conjunction with the vet, on whether to proceed with treatment or, if a better welfare option, put the animal to sleep.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Homing Cats come into our care from a variety of sources – for example, strays, unwanted, abandoned, evictions, bereavement, via Social Services, police and vet referrals. Whilst we are unable to accommodate all requests, we help if we can. If we are unable to accept a cat, advice and alternative suggestions are always offered. Everybody who adopts a cat or kitten is given verbal and written advice about how to settle a new cat into the family. Cats will always be accepted back into care should their new owner's circumstances change or newly adopted cats fail to integrate into their new family - in such cases, we will offer to refund the money given as an adoption donation. In the period under review, 63 cats and kittens were rehomed.

		Neutering At every opportunity we encourage volunteers and members of the public to neuter their cats - it is beneficial to the long term health of the animal and helps limit the number of unwanted cats and kittens. Unowned cats can become a nuisance in the community and on factory sites when they are roaming, fighting with neighbouring cats and having unwanted litters of kittens in inappropriate places. Most are semi-feral or feral; a few have had a home at some point. Cats are trapped then spayed or castrated, treated for parasites and ear-tipped for identification before being released back into their territory after recovery. Nuisance behaviour is reduced or eliminated, thus improving the public's perception of cats. This year our volunteers continued work on our TNR programme. In the period under review, a total of 20 cats received help under our TNR programme. Advice and Education The charity periodically produces a free newsletter which highlights our recent work and also gives advice on cat-related topics. All cats and kittens are rehomed with a comprehensive information pack and new owners are actively encouraged to stay in touch so we can help with the integration into their new homes. Owners often ring and ask about behavioural and medical problems associated with their pets and, if appropriate, we do our best to signpost advice and help.

		Official organisations sometimes also contact us and ask for help when faced with situations, for example, involving tenants and their cats. Fostering Facilities Having established our new cat hotel, the trustees discussed using home fosterers to support our work and increase capacity. However, for the time being at least, we have decided to stick with the ‘centralised’ approach which, if nothing else, makes it more practicable to monitor and maintain animal welfare standards. The Prince’s Trust We continued our relationship with Cheshire Fire and Rescue where we facilitate a “work placement” for selected participants as part of the Prince’s Trust tri-annual, 13 week course hosted in Macclesfield. Over their two week placement with us, the students follow a structured programme and, as well as learning about animal husbandry, learn about how the charity runs, its policies and its governance. This year, again, we welcomed three participants - all very different individuals and with different long term aspirations. We hope to continue the relationship next year. Working with others We maintain our links with other local rescue charities - bilateral sharing of surplus food and loaning of equipment has helped to reduce our expenses and theirs too. Support and advice is freely exchanged. We continue to benefit from our enrollment in Battersea’s Academy, making use of their many online courses to keep up to date with current rescue thinking and techniques. Our partnership with PetPlan continues and means we can home our cats with four weeks’ complementary health insurance.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	During the year under review our activity increased and we had more medically complex cases. This coupled with a large increase in cat litter and food costs meant our spend, year on year increased by over 20%. However, by increasing our adoption fees and increasing our efforts in fundraising this rise in costs was more than offset. We were fortunate to receive another generous grant towards our TNR programme and a couple of very generous, unexpected, individual donations. The net result is that our end of year position is financially comfortable. This year, because our income exceeds £25k for the first time, we are required to have our accounts "Independently Examined" and we are grateful to https://charityindependentexamination.co.uk for helping us through the process.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The charity's policy is to hold a minimum of between six and twelve months of unrestricted reserves to provide a buffer against unexpected events.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	At the end of the year, we held £24,226 unrestricted reserves (18 months) but with our preferred veterinary practice raising prices by 10% at the end of 2023 these reserves are not as generous as first appears. We are also hoping, at some stage, to obtain a new high quality, low maintenance 'isolation pen' which will need significant capital expenditure, we think, in the order of £10k.

A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	The charity's principal risk is receiving a large, unexpected vet bill for a cat taken into our care. Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Homing Cats come into our care from a variety of sources – for example, strays, unwanted, abandoned, evictions, bereavement, via Social Services, police and vet referrals. Whilst we are unable to accommodate all requests, we help if we can. If we are unable to accept a cat, advice and alternative suggestions are always offered. Before being rehomed, all cats undergo a health check from a qualified veterinary surgeon, are neutered (if not already), wormed and defleaded, vaccinated, microchipped and for peace of mind, all are homed with four weeks of free health insurance from Petplan. All cats that come into our care are assessed as to their homing suitability (eg. with small children, inexperienced owners, dogs and other pets.) We will only home a cat if we feel there is a good match with their new environment and new owners. We do not normally home animals on, or near, busy roads to reduce the risk of traffic accidents. Everybody who adopts a cat or kitten is given verbal and written advice about how to settle a new cat into the family. Cats will always be accepted back into care should their new owner's circumstances change or newly adopted cats fail to integrate into their new family - in such cases, we will offer to refund the money given as an adoption donation. In the period under review, 53 cats and kittens were rehomed.

		Neutering At every opportunity we encourage volunteers and members of the public to neuter their cats - it is beneficial to the long term health of the animal and helps limit the number of unwanted cats and kittens. Unowned cats can become a nuisance in the community and on factory sites when they are roaming, fighting with neighbouring cats and having unwanted litters of kittens in inappropriate places. Most are semi-feral or feral; a few have had a home at some point. Cats are trapped then spayed or castrated, treated for parasites and ear-tipped for identification before being released back into their territory after recovery. On rare occasions, if the original trap site is considered unsafe for release, cats can be relocated to other safer sites e.g. farms, smallholdings and stables. Kittens young enough to be easily socialised are taken into foster care and subsequently placed for adoption. Truly feral cats do not fare well in confinement and cannot be successfully socialised. They are released as soon as possible. Any trapped cats suffering from serious medical problems (e.g. an injury not able to be fixed with a single treatment) are usually euthanised with agreement of a veterinary surgeon if that is the best welfare option overall. There are many benefits to TNR. Once neutered, a cat has a better quality of life, reduced fighting and disease. Female cats are prevented from having up to three litters a year. Nuisance behaviour is reduced or eliminated, thus improving the public's perception of cats. This year our volunteers continued to grow our TNR programme. In the period under review, a total of 21 cats received help under our TNR programme. Advice and Education The charity periodically produces a free newsletter which highlights our recent work and also gives advice on cat-related topics. All cats and kittens are rehomed with a comprehensive information pack and new owners are actively encouraged to stay in touch so we can help with the integration into their new homes. Owners often ring and ask about behavioural and medical problems associated with their pets and, if appropriate, we do our best to signpost advice and help.

Official organisations sometimes also contact us and ask for help when faced with situations, for example, involving tenants and their cats.

Fostering Facilities

Last year we reported our volunteers had made a start building a bank of foster cabins. This work continued over the winter and our first cats were admitted in early April.

April 2022 - our first resident, Charlie, checks out the new foster block:

The five new cabins and play areas are sized to current DEFRA standards. The living quarters have thermostatically controlled space heating in addition to individual heat pads, a combination which worked well over the coldest of nights.

All the cabins have low level windows overlooking the fields behind the shelter to provide stimulation for fostered cats and, in addition, they have numerous enrichment toys to make their stay as stress free as possible.

One of our new penthouse cabins with play area under:

The five cabins have a common safety corridor to stop the loss of a cat or kitten in the case of escape and also provides an area for consumables, such as food and PPE, and clean litter trays. The corridor also contains the daily record sheets for each cat in care and communal equipment such as a first aid kit and extinguisher.

December 2022 - the safety corridor gets a Christmas makeover:

		The Prince's Trust Early in 2022, we were proud to offer help to The Prince's Trust facilitating a two week placement for participants as part of their 13 week courses hosted in Macclesfield by Cheshire Fire and Rescue. Over their two week placement with us the students follow a structured programme and, as well as learning about animal husbandry, learn about how the charity runs, its policies and its governance. We welcomed three participants over the course of 2022 - all very different and with different aspirations. For some, even getting to the rescue at the agreed time every morning proved quite a challenge but we think they all benefited from the experience. We hope to continue the relationship next year. Working with others Over the year we have continued to build our links with other local charities - sharing surplus food and loaning equipment has helped to reduce our expenses and theirs too. Support and advice is freely exchanged. We have enrolled in Battersea's Academy so we can keep up to date with current rescue thinking and techniques. We've continued our partnership with PetPlan so we can home our cats with four weeks' complementary health insurance. Ukraine In the summer, we provided short term foster care for a cat belonging to a lady and her family who had fled Ukraine at the start of the war. They were going back home for a month to meet up with their conscripted husband/father. It's not something we would normally do but felt, in this instance, the circumstances warranted it.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	During the year under review our overall income remained comparable to last year whilst expenditure increased in line with activity. However, because we were awarded a large grant at the end of 2021 towards our TNR programme, our end of year position was slightly improved and remains comfortable.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The charity's policy is to hold a minimum of between six and twelve months of unrestricted reserves to provide a buffer against unexpected events.

Fundraising - sale of good quality donated goods through our eBay shop continued to do well and helped us finance our work. A local micro-brewery / pub have started to run regular pub-quizzes on our behalf which supplements our income. 3. Grants from other organisations and charitable trusts
A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	The charity's principal risk is receiving a large, unexpected vet bill for a cat taken into our care. Routine veterinary costs are generally known and predictable; however, if a veterinary surgeon advises that a cat needs particularly expensive treatment, to mitigate the risk, the trustees will make an informed decision, in conjunction with the vet, on whether to proceed with treatment or, if a better welfare option, put the animal to sleep.

		COVID restrictions this year meant we modified our rehoming procedures using DEFRA guidelines. Cats were 'met' using photographs, videos, discussions with fosterers etc Homes and bonding rooms were similarly checked.. In the period under review, 49 cats and kittens were rehomed. Neutering At every opportunity we encourage volunteers and members of the public to neuter their cats - it is beneficial to the long term health of the animal and helps limit the number of unwanted cats and kittens. Advice and Education

The charity produces a period, free newsletter which highlights our recent work and also gives advice on cat-related topics.

All cats and kittens are rehomed with a comprehensive information pack and new owners are actively encouraged to stay in touch so we can help with the integration into their new homes.

Owners often ring and ask about behavioural and medical problems associated with their pets and, if appropriate, we do our best to signpost advice and help.

Third parties sometimes also contact us and ask for help when faced with situations involving tenants and their cats.

Fostering Facilities

We recognised last year that it would make a) it a lot easier for our volunteers to maintain welfare standards and b) improve our capacity, if we added a small, bespoke set of cat cabins at our registered office.

Work on this is progressing well but using just volunteers time to complete the construction means it will not be fully available to house fostered cats until late-summer 2022.

Summer 2021 - work underway on the foundations:

Autumn 2021 - the concrete is finally poured:

Winter 2021 - work starts on the superstructure:

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	During the year under review our income remained the same as the previous year at £10,453. This arose from adoption donations, regular and ad-hoc donors and our eBay shop. Face-to-face fundraising was still 'on hold' because of the COVID pandemic and its ramifications. We were fortunate to receive, in addition, two grants, one of £1,000 towards vet's bills and another of £3,300 specifically for our TNR programme. Expenditure, year on year, doubled to £9,903 mostly through increased expenditure on veterinary costs - this is because more cats and kittens were dealt with and more had complex health issues this year compared to last.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The charity's policy is to hold a minimum of between six and twelve months of unrestricted reserves to provide a buffer against unexpected events.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	At the end of the year, we held £11,618 unrestricted reserves (16 months.)
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	Not applicable
Details of fund materially in deficit	Para 1.24	None
Explanation of any uncertainties about the charity continuing as a going concern	Para 1.23	None

But our sale of good quality donated goods through our eBay shop continued to do well and helped us finance our work. 3. Grants from other organisations and charitable trusts
A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	The charity's principal risk is receiving a large, unexpected vet bill for a cat taken into our care. 6. Chairman's Report

Last year, our priority was to raise funds and get the charity on to a stable financial footing so we could start to help as many kittens and cats as possible. This year, no sooner than we had got started, Covid happened and the country went into lockdown! Some of the cat rescue charities, even the bigger ones, stopped helping cats and kittens but we did our best to keep going whilst keeping within the rules and regulations.

It was difficult; volunteers were not allowed on site, fundraising in the form of pub quizzes and artisan markets died and homing became virtual following new covid-secure procedures agree with DEFRA. Thank goodness for the internet and smart 'phones which both allowed adopters to view potential companions remotely as well as giving us the opportunity to complete home-visits whilst sat miles away.

We adapted; fundraising moved online as did a lot of our routine paperwork and contents of our adoption information packs. Committee meetings were replaced, on the whole, taking advantage of instant messaging and email.

My sincere thanks go to all the Trustees for their continued hard work and dedication behind the scenes in what has been the most unusual year.

Let's hope we can continue to build the charity and the work it does in the coming year when hopefully Covid will be less of an impediment.
