Objectives and activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	The purposes of CWR are to relieve financial hardship, support education, training and employment related activities, preserve physical and mental health, promote social inclusion, improve conditions of life amongst refugees and displaced people and their dependants in the Canterbury area to their benefit and that of the community. These aims are to be achieved through supporting people to access housing, providing loans and grants, practical support, English language support, support to access services and advice.
Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	CWR has provided practical assistance to support people seeking asylum, refugees resettling in Canterbury and other displaced peoples to relieve financial hardship and encourage community integration. The number of people requiring assistance has increased as more individuals and families are placed in Canterbury by the Home Office. Support continues for families displaced by the Afghanistan conflict and the ongoing war in Ukraine. CWR is increasingly providing caseworker support to individuals and families placed in Canterbury who are waiting for their asylum application to be assessed and those who have been granted asylum. CWR continues to partner with Canterbury Diocese and other organisations to support families through projects, such as the Welcome Cafe that provide space for social contact and increasingly support to navigate the

		housing, benefits and health systems. CWR volunteers support a women only English language and social group organised by the Social Justice Network of Canterbury Diocese. CWR has continued some online English language support, and re-started in-person language support by volunteers. Volunteers meet weekly with individuals for language conversation on a one-to-one basis or in very small family groups. CWR works in partnership with Canterbury Diocese and Canterbury City Council to run an English class for those who have progressed in their English. A new beginners English language class has been started due to the lack of statutory provision in this area. English lessons are provided in a small group by a qualified teacher of English as Second or Other Language (ESOL). The Welcome Café project also includes support for employability training sessions, which are run in cooperation with staff seconded from the Job Centre. The weekly sessions support participants to seek and secure employment, including CV writing skills, writing job applications and volunteering opportunities. CWR volunteers have supported young adults to study towards and apply for university studies. If appropriate, CWR supports beneficiaries in applying for grants from other organisations and may in some cases administer such grants on behalf of other grant-making organisations. In addition, CWR organised community events, including A Shared Harvest, raising awareness of employment and self-employment issues faced by refugees and how the community can offer support to and benefit from the contribution of refugees and asylum seekers; and a family fun day to create a space where local children and families and those of newcomers to the community can enjoy entertainment and theatre together, celebrating what we have in common. CWR participated in events celebrating Refugee Week.
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	Para 1.18	The Trustees of CWR are aware of and have regard to the Charity Commission's rules and guidelines on the public benefit of the work that is carried out by CWR. This work has benefit for vulnerable refugees and asylum seekers as well as the wider community by aiming to support and facilitate social integration.

Policy on grant making	Para 1.38	CWR has an agreed Grant-funding Policy.
Policy on social investment including program related investment	Para 1.38
Contribution made by volunteers	Para 1.38	All activities by CWR are carried out by or supported by volunteers from the local community. The majority of volunteer time is spent in individual conversation time with refugees and supporting the projects run with local partner organisations. Helping in this way has provided many hours of much valued support to the beneficiaries. We believe engagement of local volunteers contributes to greater community cohesion. Community engagement for the volunteers helps towards a sense of achievement and making a contribution to society. It can relieve isolation and build lasting friendships.

Financial review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	CWR has sufficient funds to cover expenses of the first and second sponsored family and the support of other resettled families. It has funds ringfenced to support the sponsorship of a third family in the coming year. Any surplus will be used to create and support partnership community projects, including the Welcome Café for English lessons and employment support as well as individual and family casework. 		has built reserves and this will put the charity in a good position to support the increasing number of displaced people in the Canterbury area.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The charity builds up reserves as these are required for an application to the Home Office sponsor another refugee family. A minimum of £9,000 is required for Community Sponsorship of a refugee family. CWR holds sufficient reserves to cover the sponsored family's expenses, insurance payment and other liabilities. Reserves will be carried forward and used towards sponsorship of another refugee family, families and individuals in need and to work with partner organisations to run and develop community projects, including employability training and funding towards training to improve employability and English learning and further family fun days and creative projects aimed at improving mental health. Some reserves are also being carried forward to facilitate volunteer training.
