Activity

The charity has this continued to gain a small income from sales of the Global STEM Award. Trustee recognise that the activity of the charity has been delayed this year. The planned activity in Ghana, working through a volunteer, did not materialize, the trustees are looking for ways to develop the grant giving side and have been developing contacts in Kenya. The income from the Global STEM Award is forecast to rise next year as the award has been integrated into further education programmes and a donation will be made for each certificate issued.
