Performance of fundraising activities against objectives set	Para 1.41	At the end of the financial period, the charity remains in a stable financial position. Income generated through grants, donations, and fundraising activities has supported the delivery of core programmes, including UOCEAN and UEARTH, UHUMANS without incurring significant deficits. Expenditure was primarily directed towards project delivery, volunteer support, educational outreach, environmental cleanups, and operational costs. The trustees have exercised prudent financial management, ensuring that resources were used efficiently to maximise public benefit.
Investment performance against objectives	Para 1.41	We had a great return on investment when it came to impact against our objectives this year.
Other

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	At the end of the reporting period, the charity held minimal reserves. This reflects the organisation's strategic focus on directing available funds immediately towards its core programmes, UOCEAN, UEARTH, and UHUMANS, to maximise public benefit and impact. Expenditure during the year has been primarily invested in environmental cleanups, reforestation and biodiversity projects, educational workshops, and humanitarian initiatives, ensuring that resources are applied directly to programme delivery and community engagement. While the charity maintains only modest financial reserves, trustees continue to monitor cash flow and financial commitments carefully to ensure sustainability and the continued delivery of charitable objectives. Going forward, the charity aims to build a small reserve to provide a buffer for operational stability while maintaining a commitment to deploying the majority of funds for programme impact.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	Reserves are being carefully maintained to ensure the sustainability of future operations and to provide a buffer for unforeseen circumstances, although this year was significantly harder due to demand for our services and the lack of corporate giving. The charity continues to seek diversified income streams to strengthen long-term financial resilience and expand its impact.
Amount of reserves held	Para 1.22	£517
Reasons for holding zero reserves	Para 1.22	N/A

Additional information (optional)

You may choose to include further statements where relevant about:

The charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising)	Para 1.47	The charity's principal sources of income come from corporate partnerships, sponsorships, and collaborative initiatives. These relationships provide essential funding and in-kind support, enabling the charity to deliver its charitable activities and public benefit. Corporate contributions are directed towards environmental protection, community engagement, educational workshops, and humanitarian initiatives, ensuring that resources are applied directly to achieving impact. The charity does not rely on general public fundraising for the majority of its income, instead focusing on building long-term partnerships with corporate supporters who share its commitment to sustainability, social impact, and community development.
Investment policy and objectives including any social investment policy adopted	Para 1.46	The charity's primary objective is to ensure that its financial resources are applied effectively to support its charitable activities and public benefit. Given the nature of the charity's work and its limited financial reserves, the trustees have adopted a prudent approach to investment, with a focus on security and liquidity rather than high returns. The charity does not currently hold long-term or high-risk investments and does not operate a formal social investment policy. Any funds held are maintained in interest-bearing accounts or low-risk short-term deposits to preserve capital while ensuring that resources remain readily available to support programme delivery and operational needs. Trustees review the charity's financial position regularly to ensure that investment arrangements remain appropriate, balancing the need for accessibility of funds with the requirement to safeguard assets.

A description of the principal risks facing the charity	Para 1.46	The charity faces several key risks that could affect its operations and impact: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Financial sustainability: Reliance on corporate funding and minimal reserves may affect programme delivery. Trustees monitor income carefully and seek to diversify funding. • Operational capacity: Delivery depends on staff, volunteers, and partners; structured management and clear procedures mitigate this risk. • Health and safety: Activities such as clean-ups and community events carry risk of injury, managed through training, policies, and risk assessments. • Reputation and compliance: Maintaining ethical standards, clear communications, and regulatory compliance is essential to safeguard the charity's reputation and ensure accountability. Trustees regularly review these risks and the effectiveness of controls to maintain resilience and ensure continued delivery of charitable objectives.

responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent
examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *)

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Educational outreach has equipped young people with knowledge and green skills, inspiring a new generation of conservationists. • UEARTH has led multiple tree-planting and rewilding initiatives, encouraging nature connection, mindfulness, and sustainable living. The project has supported individuals' mental wellbeing, provided biodiversity benefits, and promoted climate resilience through green space regeneration and food growing. The charity's work has empowered ethnic, isolated, and underserved groups by involving them directly in environmental action. trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and

Basis of independent
examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *)

Respective
responsibilities of
trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent
examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *)

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
