Objectives and Activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	The German History Society ("the Society") 1. Objects The Objects of the Society are, for the public benefit in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland: 1.1 To advance education in, and promote the study of, German history, including the history of German-speaking lands, in particular but not exclusively by: 1.1.1 Organising public conferences, lectures and events on topics relating to German history; 1.1.2 Creating and fostering links between academics, students, scholarly bodies and other individuals and organisations engaged with or interested in German history; 1.1.3 Producing and disseminating publications, online resources and other media to provide information relating to the subject and study of German history; and 1.1.4 Providing grants and bursaries for study or research into German history, and awarding prizes for exceptional academic work relating to German history, in particular but not exclusively to students and early career scholars. 1.2 Nothing in this Constitution shall authorise an application of the property of the Society for purposes which are not charitable in accordance with section 7 of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and section 2 of the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008.

Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	The Society promotes learning in the history of Germany and the German-speaking world. It does this, broadly, through events, publication/dissemination of print and online information, awarding grants for study/research and fostering a network of academics, students and other individuals and organisations interested in the discipline. The Society exists to benefit the public at large and many benefits are accessible to all. However, the Society encourages those with an interest in German history to become members and membership confers additional benefits. Membership is easy to obtain and affordable: the cost is £34/year for general membership and £4/year for student membership, which is a lower fee than that charged by many other membership organisations. Members of the Society can access various benefits, which are designed to promote their learning, including automatic subscription to the Society's own journal, eligibility to apply for bursaries/grants and free attendance at the Society's annual conference and various other events. The Society's journal, German History, includes articles/research and other information relevant the field and represents an excellent educational resource. In addition, the Society's website includes a comprehensive list of links to relevant study and research resources, to assist students, scholars and other interested parties to develop their learning in the area. The Society's annual conference and other events provide a platform for leading speakers in German history to showcase their work and educate attendees. These events also facilitate networking between those working, studying or interested in the discipline, thereby providing opportunities to advance education through the sharing of knowledge and ideas. Bursaries and grants allow students and early career scholars to fund items that otherwise may have been unaffordable to them, including study fees, research trips, attending or putting on conferences/events, language training, amongst other things. These awards, therefore, broaden access to the field and promote learning. The Society also awards various prizes for outstanding work in the field of German history, including a postgraduate essay prize, EDI prize and undergraduate dissertation prize, which are open to students at UK and Irish universities, and a prize for the best article published each year in German History journal. The Society exists to advance education in the history of Germany and the German-speaking world and is

		committed to activities that enable the public at large to become engaged in this discipline. Non-members can subscribe to the German History journal and attend the Society's annual conference and other events, subject to payment of a small fee. Therefore, many of the benefits enjoyed by members are available more widely at cost, and therefore, contribute to the Society's aims of advancing education in German history for the benefit of the public at large. Furthermore, membership of the Society is open to any person who is studying, teaching or researching German history, or who supports the aims of the Society or is simply interested in the topic. There is no limit on membership numbers. Therefore, although members gain benefits by virtue of their membership, anyone with an interest in the area can become a member and therefore enjoy these benefits.
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	Para 1.18	The trustees, in making decisions, have had due regard to the Commission's public benefit guidance when exercising any powers or duties to which the guidance is relevant.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Annual Conference In 2023, the Society's annual conference was held at Birmingham University from 7–9 September. The conference included around 75 participants (speakers, chairs, discussants) from across the globe, representing researchers at all levels from postgraduates and early career researchers to established senior scholars. Plenary lectures were given by Felicitas Schmieder (Fern-Universität Hagen), Christoph Mick (University of Warwick), and Howard Hotson (St Anne's College, University of Oxford). Members and non-members alike were able to attend the conference and broaden their knowledge of German history and culture. Other Events On 7 September 2023, prior to the GHS annual conference, a workshop was held for Postgraduates and Early Career Researchers on effective grant-writing and submitting publications – these were very well-attended. The GHS also supported the annual 'German History in the North' conference, held in May 2024, with a particular emphasis on encouraging the participation of researchers based in the North of England. However, any researcher, regardless of institutional affiliation or location, was welcome to attend. The GHS also provided support through its Impact and Outreach grant to fund the planning of a digital exhibition on Britain's response to the persecution of Jews under Nazism. Additionally, Tanks on the Streets: The Uprising of 17 June 1953 in East Germany, a free

	exhibition commemorating the 70th anniversary of the first Cold War uprising in Germany, was presented at the University of Chester. Some films and artworks were also shown at the Storyhouse Cultural Centre in Chester during the summer of 2023. Membership In May 2024, the Society had 206 members (117 waged and 89 unwaged), marking an overall increase of approximately 17% compared to the previous year. The higher number of unwaged members suggests that the Society is becoming increasingly accessible to them. The expanded use of multiple social media channels has played a significant role in this achievement. Members of the Society are able to attend the annual conference without paying a fee, and are eligible for the Society's prizes, grants, and bursaries. Membership of the Society also includes a subscription at significantly discounted rates to the internationally-acclaimed journal German History, which is published four times a year on behalf of the Society by Oxford University Press. Grants Grant applications have recovered since the Covid pandemic, which is encouraging. The introduction of new web forms has significantly improved the quality of submissions, with fuller information provided on both individual projects and broader research contexts. The decision to extend the definition of early career researchers from two to five years—reflecting the increasing challenges faced by postgraduates and ECRs—has been well received, enabling more precariously placed or early-stage scholars to undertake more ambitious work. For a full financial breakdown of expenditure on grants and bursaries, see the Financial Review section below. GHS Postgraduate awards 2023–4 Small grants and bursaries: Small Grants: £3,141 was awarded to 3 applicants in January 2024 (x2 research, x1 conference travel) £14,743 was awarded to 12 applicants in April 2024 (x7 research, x1 4 conference travel, x1 workshop organisation)

	Up to £1,500 is available to applicants to fund research or conference travel or workshop/conference organisation. Postgraduate Bursaries: £29,259 was awarded to 12 applicants in April 2024 Up to £2,500 is available to applicants to fund language courses, archive study trips, fees or general maintenance. Hardship Funding: A grant of £500 was awarded to one applicant, to be disbursed in the next reporting period. GHS – DAAD Language Grant: €3,400 was awarded, divided between the GHS and DAAD, to 4 applicants to attend German language courses. Exhibition Funding Scheme Funding was awarded to support the launch of The Wandering Jew travelling exhibition (Parkes Institute for the Study of Jewish/non-Jewish Relations, University of Southampton), which was presented for Inter Faith Week as part of a literary, artistic and historical showcase exploring how the legend of the Wandering Jew has been reimagined as a vehicle for interfaith tolerance and as a motif of Jewish resilience and cultural richness. Funding was also awarded for A Place of Refuge, a portable exhibition on Jewish refugee academics who fled Nazi Germany and subsequently built scholarly careers at the University of Southampton. It will be displayed at the university's annual Hands-on Humanities Day in autumn 2024. Further support was granted to Mercy Squad, a cooperative, in-person educational game to be implemented at New College Lanarkshire, Scotland. Aimed at Scottish Highers students—and also suitable for A-Level students in England, Wales and Northern Ireland—it explores the roles of perpetrators and saviours in the Third Reich. These funds will be disbursed in the next reporting period. Prizes RHS/GHS Postgraduate Essay prize The German History Society awards a prize of £500 to the winner of this annual essay competition. In addition,

	the essays are considered for publication in German History journal. Winners of the 2024 Postgraduate Essay Prize: 1st place: Jonathan Steuer (University of Oxford), 'Petty crime in the early modern city: A comparative analysis of Frankfurt am Main and Bristol' 2nd place (joint): Rory Hanna (University of Sheffield), 'Early Democratisers? West German Students' Campaigns for Participation in University Governance during the Late Adenauer Era' 2nd place (joint): Carl Julius Reim (UCL/QMUL), 'Critical Solidarity: Adorno, the Darmstadt Avant-garde, and the Administered World' GHS Undergraduate Essay Prize The German History Society offers an annual prize of £300 for the best undergraduate dissertation on German History written by a student of history (single or joint honours, or in a cognate discipline) at a UK or Irish university. Runner-up prizes of £100 each may also be offered at the judges' discretion. Prizes of £300 were awarded to: Connor Wimblett (University of Edinburgh) for "'She Tries to Make a Whole Woman Out of Me": Trans* Sexuality and Womanly Relationships in the Weimar Queer Press'; and James Walker (University of Cambridge) for 'German Combat Art and the Eastern Front, 1939–45'. Rethinking German History Prize The German History Society has launched a new prize to recognise critical interventions in debates on gender, minorities, migration, ethnicity, and equality, as well as transnational and comparative history. The prize welcomes work engaging with critical race studies, LGBTQ+ and queer studies, and disability studies, in relation to any aspect of the history of Germany and the German-speaking world in its broadest global context. The Rethinking German History Prize, worth £500, will be awarded to two winners—one in the undergraduate/Master's category and one in the PhD/postdoctoral category. It rewards written work that draws on lesser-told histories within these fields to challenge German historians to rethink how we approach the discipline. The inaugural prizes will be announced in autumn 2024. German History Article Prize

	Each year German History's editorial board awards a prize on the behalf of The German History Society for the best article published in the journal. The prize is intended to showcase outstanding work from scholars of German history whatever their career stage, and the winner is invited to receive their award at the annual meeting of the German History Society in September. The prize is worth £500, with an additional £250 of books provided by OUP. Oxford Journals makes the prize-winning articles freely available online. The winner of the prize in 2024 was Amelia Hutchinson, whose article “‘Very full of details and excellently executed’: Materiality and medicine in Hans Rottenhammer’s painted bodies’ was published in German History 42(3), pp. 311–33. Journal The journal continues to experience a good flow of submissions, largely from early-career scholars based in the UK, US and Germany, although the regular submission of articles from further afield attests to the journal’s global reach. Four special issues are in development on climate change knowledge in German-speaking Europe 1750-1930, transnationalising German monarchies, 1848–1918, German colonial history, German anti-slavery societies in the nineteenth century, nineteenth-century German monarchy in transnational perspective, and Anglo-German empire between nationalist antagonism and transimperial Cooperation, 1895-1925. In terms of chronological range, they span early modern, modern and contemporary history. Publication slots are currently filled until early 2027. While the majority of articles submitted are by early-career scholars, there is also a regular flow of submissions by more senior scholars. In terms of subjects, the articles submitted cover the full range of German history from the early Middle Ages to the present. The journal thus continues to fulfil its mission to be the pre-eminent English-language journal for German history and to command respect throughout the world, including the German-speaking lands. Book Series The German History Society has established its own book series, Studies in German History, in collaboration with its long-standing publishing partner Oxford University Press. The series reflects the German History Society’s long-standing mission to promote the best scholarship in the broad field of German history, and seeks to build on the

		innovative directions established by the Society's journal in recent years. Taking an open, expansive view of what German History is and where that history has been played out, it envisions a broad chronological and geographic scope that encompasses topics from the medieval period to the present day; it seeks to go beyond the traditional confines of German history by adopting a comparative approach or exploring themes that entwine the history of the German-speaking lands with that of other parts of the world; it aims to solicit titles that are intellectually ambitious, whether in their engagement with novel paradigms or their use of concepts and methods from other disciplines; and it seeks to publish work that reaches a readership beyond immediate specialists in a particular field. Above all, it seeks to publish work that engages with historical questions of wider relevance across German and other histories. The series has now published a total of fourteen books, with two appearing during the reporting period: Keeping the Peace in the Village: Conflict and Peacemaking in Germany, 1650–1750 by Mark R. Foster and Intervention and The Other '68: A Social History of West Germany's Revolt by Christina von Hodenberg and Rachel Ward. Our contract with OUP commits us to publishing two to four books per year. While we are still recovering from the post-pandemic lull, we currently have two more titles under contract. Outreach Jeff Bowersox and his committee have been working on two main outreach projects, all of which are ongoing. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Glimpses of German History: Following the successful production of seven short films by members (available on the website) focusing on specific objects from German history and aimed at students and secondary school teachers, filming for a second set has now been completed. These new films will also be available on the GHS website and YouTube channel, alongside the original series. 2. Creative Research Competition: Associated with the film series is a competition for secondary school students in the UK and Ireland, designed to foster interest in German history, language, and culture. Participants are invited to submit a creative research project inspired by themes from Glimpses of German History. The winner receives £250, with an

This year's winner—the competition's inaugural recipient—was Mischa Bogue from Our Lady's Secondary School, Castleblayney, Co. Monaghan, Ireland. Her project, Cultural Patronage and Botanical Gardens: The Commissioning of the Eichstätt Garden Book during Early Modern Europe, was highly commended by the awarding committee. We continue to encourage collaboration between GHS members and the Wiener Holocaust Library in London to run talks and workshops for students and teachers.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	Please find the detailed end of year financial statement on the following pages.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	We continue to experience the longer impact of the pandemic. Some projects, conferences, postgraduate research plans involving travel, as well as the language courses that we support had been postponed, cancelled, or took place online, and we continued to support these projects if applicants wished to see the money transferred into a new financial cycle. We are proactively seeking to spend our reserves and have this year (2023/24) increased the value of the postgraduate bursaries we dispense from £2,000 to £2,500 and significantly expanded the eligibility criterion from within 2 years of passing the PhD to within 5 years. We fund a very high proportion of the applications for funding we receive and continue to explore how to increase the future volume of applications.
