OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

The objectives of the charity are to advance education in Pakistan by the establishment, support and maintenance of a school and accommodation for the orphan and turned away children. We are committed to offering education to the turned away children living in Pakistan almost every corner of the country.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

Teach Me Please is dedicated to transforming the lives of orphaned and turned-away children across Pakistan by establishing, supporting, and maintaining schools that provide not only education but also safe accommodation. Understanding that education is the most powerful tool to break the cycle of poverty and exclusion, we remain steadfast in our mission to reach every vulnerable child, ensuring they are given the same opportunities as their more privileged peers. Throughout this reporting period, we have strategically expanded our efforts by extending unwavering support to Grounds Level School, a charitable institution committed to delivering equitable education regardless of gender or ability. Recognising that children from marginalised backgrounds often face insurmountable barriers to education, we have committed to providing consistent financial assistance to this institution, covering tuition fees, school uniforms, and other essentials to create a stable and uninterrupted learning environment. Beyond financial aid, we are elevating the quality of education by introducing modern skill-building initiatives that empower children with knowledge that extends beyond traditional curricula. Acknowledging the global shift towards digital learning, we have partnered with esteemed educationists, including two distinguished Ph.D. holders from Great Britain—one specialising in IT and Mathematics and the other in Robotic Science—who are instrumental in aligning the curriculum with contemporary educational standards and training educators to deliver high-quality instruction. As we focus on fostering academic excellence, we are also strengthening a robust network of stakeholders, donors, and volunteers who are united in their commitment to broadening the impact of this initiative. Through collective action, we aim to reach even more underserved children, ensuring they are not left behind in an increasingly competitive world. The progress made by Grounds Level School stands as a testament to our commitment, with student enrolment steadily growing to 210. As we approach the new academic year in March 2025, we are excited to introduce the 9th grade, marking yet another milestone in our mission to provide uninterrupted and quality education. With each passing year, the standard of education continues to rise, and with it, the prospects of the children we serve. In planning our objectives and shaping our initiatives, we have remained aligned with the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit, ensuring that every effort we make contributes directly to those in need. The charity operates entirely on the generosity of its supporters, and with no operational costs, every contribution is channelled directly into transforming lives. At its core, Teach Me Please is not just about education—it is about giving children the tools to reclaim their future, breaking free from the vicious cycle of child labour that is nothing short of modern-day slavery. Each child saved from a life of hardship is a future leader, innovator, and changemaker. This is not just our mission; it is a shared responsibility, and we continue to invite individuals and organisations to join us in this transformative journey. We are actively engaging with donors, sharing our fundamental vision that the future of these children is not determined by chance but by the conscious decisions we make today, and through collective effort, we have the power to transform their stories and shape a brighter tomorrow.

PUBLIC BENEFIT

In shaping our objectives for the year and planning our activities, the Trustees have considered the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit, including the guidance on public benefit and fee charging. The Charity relies on the donation income it receives from its donors to cover its operating costs. There is no operating cost during the year.

TEACH ME PLEASE is focusing to provide modern education to the orphan, poor and turned away children in Pakistan and enable them to manage their own lives. Through this project, we would be able to save the children from child labour, which is equivalent to modern day slavery.

The Trustees declare that they have approved the Trustees' report above.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities in respect of the Trustees' Annual Report and the Financial Statements

The charity trustees are responsible for preparing an annual report and financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice.

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the charity trustees to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that period. For preparing the financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- Observe the method and principles in the Charities SORP;
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- State whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustee are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charity Act, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations and the provisions of the trust deed. They are responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.
