To promote the wellbeing of newly diagnosed cancer patients.
To befriend newly diagnosed patients and support them through their medical treatment and their aftermath.
To educate the public and the medical profession about the emotional needs of those who have been newly diagnosed with cancer.
To offer wellbeing education around diet and exercise.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Buddy system – During this time, trustees were allocated a recently diagnosed cancer patient to offer friendship and support to. Trustees, were also tasked with accompanying cancer patients to and from their hospital appointments.

Trustees provided complimentary meals once a week to recently diagnosed cancer patients as a gesture of support for their overall well-being, both physically and mentally.

Bonded Thru Cancer have delivered free support workshops (around diet and exercise) to Trustees, members of the medical profession, members of the public (who are associated with cancer patients) and newly diagnosed cancer patients.

Public Benefit

The key aim of this initiative is to enhance the physical and mental wellbeing of newly diagnosed cancer patients, ultimately leading to an improved coping mechanism. The primary goal is to alleviate symptoms of poor mental health and physical wellbeing, while also supporting the initial medical treatment process.

The community set to benefit from this public service includes newly diagnosed cancer patients, medical professionals involved in their care, volunteers supporting the initiative, and members of the public who have direct contact with individuals facing a recent cancer diagnosis.

Evaluation

Prior to the workshop and upon its completion, an initial survey is administered to newly diagnosed cancer patients and their family members to assess their mental health status. Similarly, all participants of the community dinner program receive surveys to evaluate their feelings of contentment, confidence, and overall outlook before and after the meal. These surveys are designed to measure the impact and effectiveness of the workshops and the community dinner program on the participants' well-being.
