Trustee responsibilities

Company law requires the trustees prepare accounts for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the affairs of the organisation and of the surplus or deficiency of the organisation for that period. In preparing those accounts, the trustees are required to:

- * select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- * make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- * prepare the accounts on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the organisation will continue in operation

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the organisation and to enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the organisation and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions for small companies under ss 381-4 of the Companies Act 2006.
