

One Woman At A Time Trustee Report 2022 and 2023

One Woman At A Time is a charity focused on empowering women and girls who are severely disadvantaged by social or economic circumstances in Kenya and the UK. Established in 2018, the charity provides support through education and vocational training, helping women gain the skills and knowledge necessary for sustainable change. This not only benefits the women themselves but also their families and communities.

The charity actively works with survivors of gender-based violence, including those affected by female genital mutilation, domestic violence, forced marriage, and child marriage. They offer essential support services such as advocacy, outreach, psychological support through therapies like Trauma Through Tapping (TTT), and health-related training and supplies for medical and obstetric care.

Charitable Activities

In West Pokot in Kenya, 44% of women are forced into female genital mutilation (FGM) from the age of 13 and the illiteracy rate for the whole community is 67%. But this could be higher in remote villages.

Nurse education: Pokot has very few nurses who speak Pokot so the charity has spent considerable time building relationships with a local hospital in Kenya and currently supports nurses in Kenya through funding their tuition fees and their university education. The charity is currently funding 10 Pokot speaking nurses on a 3-year nurse training programme.

The effect of this will be twofold, (1) the women will gain education, empowerment and employment; (2) the women will go back to their community and give back to their community and in their own language will mentor other children as well as create awareness on harmful cultural practices including FGM, child marriage and other forms of gender based violence.

Rescuing girls: By 2021 in the Pokot region of Kenya the charity had rescued a number of vulnerable girls from forced early marriage, FGM and poverty.

The breakdown for 2022 is as follows:

- 36 girls primary school age
- 34 girls secondary school age
- 10 women training to be nurses
- 3 students being funded through college
- 3 women being funded through university

Total 86 women rescued.

We are unique as through direct liaison and regular communication directly with the actual locally based organisations in Kenya, we can trace exactly the outcome of every girl sponsored through our charity. Details of young girls rescued are below:

To date (as at 2024), the organisation while working closely with and supporting local based organisations that they partner with including local schools, have been able to collaboratively rescue over 100 girls from abuse and violence and provided them with safety, psychosocial support, health and education.’

The charity has given them refuge, education, safety throughout their school years. Liaison will take place with their families, so they can return home during holidays and if they are deemed in danger, they will be kept in places of safety.

Funding training: The charity is working to provide vocational training to help women achieve financial independence and empowerment. The charity has financially supported vulnerable and disadvantaged women to access and pursue different skills training and courses including, driving, excavators, seamstresses, and IT.

Collaborative Activities- The charity worked through and supported local groups and activists to carry out activities during the 16 Days of activism. Some of the other activities that the charity supported included Alternative Rite Of Passage activities. We work alongside the World Health Organisation to offer the girls an alternative 'right of passage' rather than have the girls cut. We fund transport, food etc to take Moses and his team to marginalised areas around Kenya to spread the word about alternatives to FGM.

Training police officers: The charity supported local groups and activists to conduct Training and Capacity strengthening of Police Officers to increase their knowledge on FGM and Child Marriage, its health and psychological complications and their active role in law enforcement, dignified survivor handling and prosecution of perpetrators.

We also supported the training of police officers in the Pokot area. FGM is illegal in Kenya but in remote areas, it still prevails. Many of the police officers did not realise FGM was illegal. When the girls ran away to escape from the threat of FGM etc, the police didn't understand what was going on and returned the girls to their homes. Now that the police have been trained, they now recognise the signs that the girls are under risk of FGM and can liaise with the girls to take them to places of safety. The training was welcomed by the local police and more was requested.

Supporting Literacy: In 2022, the charity paid for the installation of the Elizabeth Rose Library as the school had no library. We also sent over 200 picture books for the children – these were the first books these children had ever seen.

Providing sanitary supplies: At Kapenguria women's prison, the Educational Beauty Parlour within the prison teaches women hairdressing skills to reduce re-offending rates. We have supplied personal hygiene packs and resources to expand the training. Due to Covid and its aftermath, we have not been able to visit Kenya or transport the supplies but a trip is planned for November 2024.

Awareness raising: We continue to raise public awareness through media collaboration, amplifying the message around the issue of FGM and early forced marriage (EFM) to the wider community.

During 2022, we have expanded our awareness raising exercises in various schools based in the North West (UK). We trained 300 UK pupils on FGM, gender-based violence (GBV) and created a report and two films as an outcome of this work.

Operation Limelight: Within the UK, the charity will continue to work with border force on Operation Limelight promoting awareness on female genital mutilation.

Fundraising Activities

The charity would like to thank everyone who has provided us with sponsorship and supported our fundraising endeavours.

Throughout 2022 we held various successful fund-raising events throughout the year that assisted the charity to fulfil its funding objectives. These events included medium nights, Morecambe Cross Bay Walks and sporting activities by trustees. Other activities included sponsored swimming, meals and health and beauty and wellbeing activities.

Future Plans

The charity will continue to support the girls in Kenya who are in primary and secondary education and help them attain their goals, whether academic, medical or vocational.

We will seek to expand the programmes we have established around giving further education to the older girls who are leaving school, giving them the chance to have financial independence whether through university or in agriculture, tailoring or beauty.

We will expand the resources we can provide to the library we have created a computer room providing 10 computers in total. We have supported this initiative but further support is required to operationalise it.

The charity will also continue to provide training in police stations in remote areas on female genital mutilation and forced marriage. . To date 84 police officers have been trained.

Within the UK, the charity will continue to work with border force on Operation Limelight and in schools promoting awareness on female genital mutilation.

The Charity Founder and Trustees have not been able to visit Kenya since Covid. However the Founder has close liaison with her Kenyan Coordinator Moses Lokeris at least twice a week on the welfare of the girls and to facilitate the rescued girls and to support in cases of poverty with new uniforms, food and supporting families in the drought areas with grain to last during periods of drought.

Moses Lokeris Coordinator, One Woman At A Time, Kenya

Within West Pokot, there was no support for post traumatic stress or trauma. Trauma Through Tapping (TTT) is a renowned technique to reduce post traumatic stress and the technique is used all over the world by the Peaceful Heart Foundation. One Woman At A Time has already taught some teachers and school children how to use this technique, but would like to bring this training to Kenya by a trained Kenyan. Plans have been drawn up and a budget made for when we return to Kenya to take this into Ortum Primary School for the teachers to have a seminar and to carry on our work in the women's prisons.

Every day in Shamagreen Academy, 55 primary school children aged 5 to 11 years have to walk 7 miles with jerry cans to collect water for the school. As a result, we are looking to liaise with organisations who are installing water supplies in Kenya to assess the feasibility of installing a water supply.

Internal and External Factors that have affected the Charity.

The charity cannot underestimate the effect Covid had on the charity, restricting the ability to travel to Kenya to support the girls due to isolation restrictions in many areas. The Charity Founder and Trustees have also not been able to visit Kenya since Covid but have established good online ways of communicating (as described above).

During this challenging financial time, we need to look at consolidation and sustaining our charitable efforts. Due to the cost of living in the UK, sponsorship is harder to come by and we need to ratify our plans. No more children will be taken on and we will focus our efforts on maintaining the children currently in our programme.

Some of the plans we have made i.e. further education may have to be withheld as the main priority must be the children most likely to be forced into gender-based violence.

We recognise that this report is late in being written. This is due to administrative shortages and illness. Please rest assured that new systems are now in place to ensure timely production of future reports.

Detailed Statement of Financial Activities	12

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 December 2022. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objectives of the charity are as follows:

The charity offers essential support services such as advocacy, outreach, psychological support through therapies like Trauma Through Tapping (TTT), and health-related training and supplies for medical and obstetric care.

Volunteers

Volunteers are vital to the continued growth, development and success of the charity and their contributions are greatly appreciated.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

Charitable activities

In West Pokot in Kenya, 44% of women are forced into female genital mutilation (FGM) from the age of 13 and the illiteracy rate for the whole community is 67%. But this could be higher in remote villages.

Pokot has very few nurses who speak Pokot so the charity has spent considerable time building relationships with a local hospital in Kenya and currently supports nurses in Kenya through funding their tuition fees and their university education. The charity is currently funding 10 Pokot speaking nurses on a 3-year nurse training programme.

The effect of this will be twofold, (1) the women will gain education, empowerment and employment; (2) the women will go back to their community and give back to their community and in their own language will mentor other children as well as create awareness on harmful cultural practices including FGM, child marriage and other forms of gender based violence.

In 2022 in the Pokot region of Kenya the charity had rescued 86 of vulnerable girls and/or women from forced early marriage, FGM and poverty.

The charity worked through and supported local groups and activists to carry out activities during the 16 Days of activism. Some of the other activities that the charity supported included Alternative Rite Of Passage activities. We work alongside the World Health Organisation to offer the girls an alternative 'right of passage' rather than have the girls cut. We fund transport, food etc to take Moses and his team to marginalised areas around Kenya to spread the word about alternatives to FGM.

The charity supported local groups and activists to conduct Training and Capacity strengthening of Police Officers to increase their knowledge on FGM and Child Marriage, its health and psychological complications and their active role in law enforcement, dignified survivor handling and prosecution of perpetrators.

We also supported the training of police officers in the Pokot area. FGM is illegal in Kenya but in remote areas, it still prevails. Many of the police officers did not realise FGM was illegal. When the girls ran away to escape from the threat of FGM etc, the police didn't understand what was going on and returned the girls to their homes. Now that the police have been trained, they now recognise the signs that the girls are under risk of FGM and can liaise with the girls to take them to places of safety. The training was welcomed by the local police and more was requested.

In 2022, the charity paid for the installation of the Elizabeth Rose Library as the school had no library. We also sent over 200 picture books for the children - these were the first books these children had ever seen.

At Kapenguria women's prison, the Educational Beauty Parlour within the prison teaches women hairdressing skills to reduce re-offending rates. We have supplied personal hygiene packs and resources to expand the training. Due to Covid and its aftermath, we have not been able to visit Kenya or transport the supplies but a trip is planned for November 2024.

We continue to raise public awareness through media collaboration, amplifying the message around the issue of FGM and early forced marriage (EFM) to the wider community.

During 2022, we have expanded our awareness raising exercises in various schools based in the North West (UK). We trained 300 UK pupils on FGM, gender-based violence (GBV) and created a report and two films as an outcome of this work.

Within the UK, the charity will continue to work with border force on Operation Limelight promoting awareness on female genital mutilation.

Fundraising activities

The charity would like to thank everyone who has provided us with sponsorship and supported our fundraising endeavours.

Throughout 2022 we held various successful fund-raising events throughout the year that assisted the charity to fulfil its funding objectives. These events included medium nights, Morecambe Cross Bay Walks and sporting activities by trustees. Other activities included sponsored swimming, meals and health and beauty and wellbeing activities

Internal and external factors

The charity cannot underestimate the effect Covid had on the charity, restricting the ability to travel to Kenya to support the girls due to isolation restrictions in many areas.

The Charity Founder and Trustees have also not been able to visit Kenya since Covid but have established good online ways of communicating through their Kenyan Co-ordinator at least twice a week.

During this challenging financial time, we need to look at consolidation and sustaining our charitable efforts. Due to the cost of living in the UK, sponsorship is harder to come by and we need to ratify our plans. No more children will be taken on and we will focus our efforts on maintaining the children currently in our programme.

Some of the plans we have made i.e. further education may have to be withheld as the main priority must be the children most likely to be forced into gender-based violence.

FUTURE PLANS

The charity will continue to support the girls in Kenya who are in primary and secondary education and help them attain their goals, whether academic, medical or vocational.

We will seek to expand the programmes we have established around giving further education to the older girls who are leaving school, giving them the chance to have financial independence whether through university or in agriculture, tailoring or beauty.

We will expand the resources we can provide to the library we have created a computer room providing 10 computers in total. We have supported this initiative but further support is required to operationalise it.

The charity will also continue to provide training in police stations in remote areas on female genital mutilation and forced marriage. . To date 84 police officers have been trained.

Within the UK, the charity will continue to work with border force on Operation Limelight and in schools promoting awareness on female genital mutilation.

The Charity Founder and Trustees have not been able to visit Kenya since Covid. However the Founder has close liaison with her Kenyan Coordinator at least twice a week on the welfare of the girls and to facilitate the rescued girls and to support in cases of poverty with new uniforms, food and supporting families in the drought areas with grain to last during periods of drought.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is controlled by its governing document, a deed of trust, and constitutes a limited company, limited by guarantee, as defined by the Companies Act 2006.

1. To relieve the needs of women, particularly, but not exclusively, those who have experience, or are at risk of experiencing, gender-based violence and female genital mutilation, including by, without limitation, the provision of grants, support, services and items directed at improving their conditions of life.
2. To advance the education of the public in matters of gender based violence and female genital mutilation and other related subjects.
