Little Cloud

Report of the trustees

For the period ended 31 March 2025

Reference and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report. The financial statements comply with current statutory requirements and constitution.

Objectives and activities

The objectives of Little Cloud, as outlined in our governing document, are to relieve the emotional suffering of bereaved families by providing clothing, 3D casts, and other memory-making items.

The primary activities during this financial year focused on our main projects:

- Tiny Clothing; and
- 3D Casting.

In planning objectives, trustees referred to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. All trustees reviewed this guidance annually to ensure alignment with our mission and effective management.

Structure

Little Cloud is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) governed by its constitution and managed by a board of 4 trustees. Little Cloud is registered as a charity with the Charity Commission.

Achievements and performance

The charity, previously registered as Judah's Cloud, transitioned to the new registered name of 'Little Cloud' on 29 April 2024. This transition at the beginning of the financial year has led to better brand recognition by donors, healthcare professionals and beneficiaries.

The charity achieved meaningful progress this year:

Volunteer and trustee highlights

The charity built on the progress of last year, strengthening its income streams in conjunction with ongoing gift in kind donations. Emphasis on in memory donations has led to better donor relations, deeper/consistent feedback from beneficiaries and increased income to further support more families.

Project outcomes

- Tiny Clothing: Continued to operate effectively and supported approximately 600 families. Better stock management implemented last year, along with realistic waitlist management has led to continued stock supply for all sites and expansion to new sites during this financial year; and
- 3D Casting: Continued to grow and strengthen. In particular, training for existing sites was revised and consultation with healthcare professionals has led to more consistent and accessible training options.

Financial review

Grant funding

No grant applications were submitted during this financial year. Learning from the previous year, emphasis was placed on in memory donations. Grant funding has been prioritised for the 25-26 financial year alongside donations to further build on and develop the services we offer.

Little Cloud

Report of the trustees

For the period ended 31 March 2025

Corporate support

In kind donations of staffing and office space continued throughout this financial year, valued at approximately £23,000. Although these contributions cannot be reported as income under the receipts and payments accounting method, they were instrumental in maintaining operations. In kind donations in this financial year have minimised overheads, mitigated risk and continued to support the ongoing projects of the charity.

Reserves

The charity maintains six months of overhead reserves, excluding ongoing project costs like manufacturing. Stock reserves are also held to mitigate risks from unexpected income reductions.

Future planning

Fundraising focus

Last year, the charity realigned fundraising strategies to emphasise direct donations, in memory donations and gift in kind donations. This approach resulted in increased contributions, particularly in memory of loved ones. We passionately believe this gives families an opportunity to continue their baby's memory in a positive way to support other parents facing similar circumstances. Unexpectedly, this focus also has led to increased feedback from beneficiaries.

Into the next financial year, this focus will continue as we look at new ways to connect with our donors and beneficiaries, to better serve more bereaved families year on year.

Grant funding

Into the 25-26 financial year, grant funding will be prioritised to expand and support our ongoing projects and new projects alike. Both restricted and unrestricted grants have been highlighted for applications, and these will be pursued as staff and volunteer time allows.

New initiatives

The trustees are exploring opportunities to expand our support for bereaved families, particularly in the area of mental health support for bereaved families during pregnancy after loss. These initiatives, currently in the planning stages, will enhance beneficiary support, create ongoing relationships and open avenues for additional funding including unrestricted funding.

The trustees remain deeply committed to Little Cloud's mission and look forward to continuing our work in the coming year, providing essential support to bereaved families and further strengthening our impact. The trustees would like to take the opportunity to thank our beneficiaries, donors, clinical partners and corporate donors who have supported us during this financial year.

Independent examiners

Godfrey Wilson Limited were re-appointed as independent examiners to the charity during the year and have expressed their willingness to continue in that capacity.

Reference and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report. The financial statements comply with current statutory requirements and constitution.

Objectives and activities

The objectives of Little Cloud, as outlined in our governing document, are:

To relieve the emotional suffering of bereaved families by providing clothing, 3D casts, and other memory-making items.

The primary activities during this financial year focused on our main projects:

- Tiny Clothing; and
- 3D Casting.

In planning objectives, trustees referred to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. All trustees reviewed this guidance annually to ensure alignment with our mission and effective management.

Achievements and performance

Despite a challenging environment, the charity achieved meaningful progress this year:

Volunteer and trustee highlights

Our lead volunteer and trustee, Jennifer Walsh, temporarily reduced her time due to midwifery training. We are thrilled to announce that she has qualified as a Registered Midwife, a milestone that will greatly enhance the charity's capabilities in the future. Although time for fundraising was limited, her efforts focused on grant applications. While grant funding was not as successful as hoped, these applications laid the groundwork for improved strategies moving forward.

Project outcomes

- Tiny Clothing: Continued to operate effectively due to robust stock management practices; and
- 3D Casting: Expanded to support five additional hospital sites, providing comfort to more beneficiaries. This growth highlights the cost-effectiveness and profound impact of this project, made possible by the dedication of volunteers.

Financial review

Grant funding

Fifteen grant applications were submitted this year; however, only one resulted in a small grant. After consultation with similar-sized charities, it is clear that the current funding climate is particularly challenging.

Corporate support

A significant portion of last year's income was provided by a single corporate donor. To mitigate reliance on this sole source, the trustees secured in-kind contributions, including office space and staff time, valued at approximately £23,000. Although these contributions cannot be reported as income under the receipts and payments accounting method, they were instrumental in maintaining operations.

Reserves

The charity maintains six months of overhead reserves, excluding ongoing project costs like manufacturing. Stock reserves are also held to mitigate risks from unexpected income reductions.

Little Cloud

Report of the trustees

Independent Examination:

While an independent examination was not legally required due to reduced financial income, trustees commissioned a review to ensure best practices and prepare for anticipated growth in income.

Future Planning

Fundraising Focus

The charity is realigning fundraising strategies to emphasise direct donations, in memory donations and gift in kind donations.

This approach has already resulted in increased contributions, particularly in memory of loved ones. While grant applications will continue, the focus will shift toward funders whose objectives closely align with our projects.

New Initiatives

The trustees are exploring opportunities to expand our offerings, particularly in the area of mental health support for bereaved families. These initiatives, currently in the planning stages, will enhance beneficiary support and open avenues for additional funding.

Report of the trustees

For the period ended 31 March 2023

Reference and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report. The financial statements comply with current statutory requirements and constitution.

Objectives and activities

During this financial year, the charity's two main projects continued to be Tiny Clothing and 3D Casting.

Achievements and performance

During this period our Tiny Clothing service expanded and a constant supply was available to partnered hospitals and hospices. With better storage space due to our earlier office move, we now hold a significant stock of all sizes and prints to ensure parents are never without their preferred choice of clothing when they need it most. Our 3D casting service continued to support multiple hospitals and hospices, with many more on the waiting list. Unfortunately, a lack of staffing meant that wait list sites were not offered the opportunity to establish the service in their area. Due to this, 3D casting will be prioritised in future grant applications to ensure this much needed service is available to as many bereaved families as possible. Feedback for both projects continues to be outstanding, from healthcare professionals and parents alike, highlighting the need for further expansion. In planning this year's objectives, the trustees have read and taken into consideration the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit. All trustees are required to read this guidance at least annually, in order to support the planning and management of the charity.

Financial review

We submitted 7 grant applications through the support of a grant writing organisation. We hope to hear back from these bids to project funding and ability to expand our services to more hospitals, hospices and in turn, bereaved families in the future. We have had some delay in submitting grant applications due to a delay in receiving them from our external bid writers. This continued to be an ongoing issue and regular contact was made with the organisation and slowly promised bids were received.

Regular giving continued to be steady.

One of our large donors made a change in contribution and donated monthly office space as a gift in kind, also donating staff time to facilitate daily running of the charity. This was towards the end of the financial year and we anticipate a drop in income going forward that reflects this, though overall the change has better equipped Little Cloud to provide continued services and mitigated risk linked to signing an office lease.

Continued investment in manufacturing ensured a steady supply of clothing stock, although better funding would allow for a better supply for more families and this is a priority going forward into the next financial year.

The charity has a policy to retain a minimum of 3 months reserves and maximum of 12 months, which we are working towards retaining from unrestricted donations.

Financial review

We saw a large growth in income during this financial year due to a number of large donations. Grant funding however reduced, although no unsuccessful applications were submitted. Regular giving continued to be steady.

In line with our increased income, further spending was prioritised on Tiny Clothing expansion and office space to facilitate our 3D casting service. A large investment in manufacturing ensured a steady supply of clothing stock. We recognise that there was a lack of grant funding during this financial year and an investment was made towards the end of the financial year for support with grant writing. We hope this will lead to further project funding and ability to expand our services to more hospitals, hospices and in turn, bereaved families in the future.

Prior period income and expenditure have been reclassified to reflect the requirements of the Charities SORP (FRS 102) and to be comparable with the current year. The restatement of income is purely a reclassification that does not, in isolation, affect net income. Prior period expenditure has been restated to include expenses which were incorrectly omitted from the prior year accounts. This has reduced the funds brought forward from the prior year.

Section C Objectives and activitiesSummary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

Our objective is to relieve the emotion suffering of bereaved families by providing specialist clothing, 3D casts and other memory making items. For this financial year the main priorities of the organisation were;

1. To reopen and expand our 3D casting service.
2. To start manufacturing specialist clothing in place of shop bought clothing.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

During this year we reopened our 3D casting service with heightened infection control procedures in place. The new office space allowed us to have a dedicated area for casting and introduce things like a dedicated hand washing sink and PPE area. This in turn allowed us to expand the service into 17 hospital or hospices sites. Feedback continues to be very good from both families and healthcare professionals.

We also ended the use of shop bought clothing in favour of our own manufactured clothing, after sample rounds were successful. This specialist clothing better supports our beneficiaries by dressing babies from a considerably smaller gestation, being accessible for delicate babies and being made of better material so it is not abrasive to skin. Feedback has been incredible, with many healthcare professionals noting that it is something they have wanted for a long time.

Whilst Covid impacted our ability to host fundraising events, we managed to increase our one-off and monthly donations which supported us in our expansion. No grants we received during this financial year, however none were applied for due to most funders prioritising covid related streams.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Clothing

During this financial year we transitioned from pre-made clothing to specially manufactured clothing, which better meets the needs of our beneficiaries by supporting babies from approximately 18 weeks gestation.

3D Casting

During this financial year, our 3D casting programme expanded to 17 hospital and hospice sites. After the initial closure due to Covid-19, we re-opened to continue the service and expand.

Office Space

During this financial year we grew substantially and moved into new office space that would allow us to increase our infrastructure.

In planning this year's objectives, the trustees have read and taken into consideration the guidance issued by the charity commission on public benefit. All trustees have been requested to read this guidance at least annually, in order to support the planning and management of the charity.
