Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The object of the CIO is to preserve and protect the health of people living in developing countries within the country they live by providing health materials from existing statutory health services and other reputable sources of information in local languages.

Trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the charity commission on public benefit

Translation system

In order to provide health materials in local languages at scale, we have established an effective ecosystem of translators and software. Deriving source text from NHS choices, hosting this text on an online platform for translations, then publishing the translated materials on our websites

Accessible Health materials

All of the health materials we produce are hosted online for convenience and ease of access. People are able to use this materials as a source of health knowledge to better understand and improve their health. For example, a person might search 'blood in urine' in a local language and this will return our high quality health materials for the person to better understand their symptoms.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

We have continued to host our Sinhala website: wedegedara.org. Thousands of people continue to benefit from this health information on a monthly basis. We have continued to promote the website.

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

We currently have no reserves.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The object of the CIO is to preserve and protect the health of people living in developing countries within the country they live by providing health materials from existing statutory health services and other reputable sources of information in local languages.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the charity commission on public benefit

Translation system

In order to provide health materials in local languages at scale, we have established an effective ecosystem of translators and software. Deriving source text from NHS choices, hosting this text on an online platform for translations, then publishing the translated materials on our websites

Accessible Health materials

All of the health materials we produce are hosted online for convenience and ease of access. People are able to use this materials as a source of health knowledge to better understand and improve their health. For example, a person might search 'blood in urine' in a local language and this will return our high quality health materials for the person to better understand their symptoms.
