King's School of Theology

Trustees' Report For The Year Ended 31 August 2025

The trustees present their report and the financial statements for the year ended 31 August 2025.

Objectives and Activities

Aims and Objectives

The object of the charity is to advance the education of the public in the sphere of Christian Theology, providing theological education to adults. KST seeks to advance the Christian faith by means of being a theology and training resource and advance the education, training and personal development of Christian leaders who operate in church, community and business spheres.

To deliver the charity's object, KST offers two programmes: a three-year part time certificate in theology, and standalone short courses. In a context where many 'everyday Christians' would love to study, but see theology as an unattainable pursuit, KST's courses are designed to be accessible, affordable and applied.

- Accessible - all courses are part time, and whilst they are academically rigorous, they are achievable alongside work and other commitments.

- Affordable - at a time when university undergraduate fees have risen to over £9K per year, we have sought to keep our fees as low as possible. Annual fees for the three year programme are £1500, but thanks to the generous support of donors, all students can access a subsidised rate of £1050.

- Applied - KST seeks to equip 'everyday Christians' serving in a variety of roles across churches, community projects and workplaces. We believe in academically robust learning which connects to the real-world concerns of today's society.

Our courses enable students to grow in knowledge, lead with greater depth, think with more clarity, and serve God with greater purpose, whatever their background or context.

Significant Activities

Core Programme

KST's core programme is a three-year part time course in Theology. This comprises 15 teaching weekends (21 modules), supplemented by small group mentoring sessions and personal study for the completion of assignments. Students are able to take a 'specialism' accounting for 30% of their second and third year, in either Theology and Biblical Studies, Theology and Christian Spirituality or Theology and Transforming Mission.

KST follows a hybrid model, allowing students to participate online wherever they are, with the option of attending additional in-person gatherings. Approximately two thirds of students attend in person when this is offered.

In 2024-25 we had 46 students across the three academic years of the programme, of whom 23 enrolled in September 2024.

Efforts to widen KST's geographical reach continued to bear fruit, with new students joining not only from the UK, but Cyprus, Nigeria and Italy.

The new cohort were ethnically, educationally and ecclesiastically diverse, with multiple nationalities and church backgrounds represented. This is part of KST's vision: to create learning environments where students can cross geographical and cultural barriers, and whose learning experience and theological reflection is strengthened by the diversity represented.

Those who signed up reflected a strong desire to study, and were motivated by reasons of personal faith and the church ministry and community roles in which they worked or volunteered. A significant number sought to be equipped for lay leadership roles within their church communities.

Short Courses

KST's Short Courses allow people to engage with KST without having to commit to the full 3 year part time course. They are typically 4-6 sessions, offered weekly. Courses are particularly attractive to alumni who wish to top up previous studies, and church leaders seeking continuing professional development.

This year we continued to develop our programme of short courses. Investing staff resources expanded the offering and built momentum for the project. They were able to focus on content development, marketing and delivery of courses.

Between 2024-25 we ran six short courses which engaged over 50 students. This included The Letters of John, Teaching Job Today and The Spirituality of St Paul, which were all popular.

Fundraising

Our efforts to explore fundraising were fruitful this year with one off general donations, and funding received in bursaries to support particular students. Increased funding will help us to achieve our aim of making theological education accessible to as wide a range of people as possible.

Looking Ahead

...CONTINUED

We continue to plan and invest in developing our first of a series of international 'hubs'. This will involve a cohort of students from the same location being linked with a local mentor and studying in collaboration with one another. These will increase our international reach, whilst providing stability and connection for those in the hub.

Additionally, we hope to increase the intake of students, by renewed investment in advertising and networking. To do this we will seek to increase our staffing levels, releasing capacity for communications and marketing.

Impact

KST exists to advance the education of the public in the sphere of Christian Theology, by providing theological education to adults. Our programmes are of benefit to Christian leaders, lay ministers and volunteers, who employ their learning within their churches, workplaces and wider communities.

As well as the accumulation of knowledge, KST offers intangible benefits in the form of growth in confidence, improved communication skills and the wisdom that comes from encountering a variety of perspectives on an issue.

In order to monitor standards and satisfaction, student feedback was taken after each teaching weekend (module) and short course. This demonstrated a high level of satisfaction. Across the whole school and all modules, 96% of students gave each module a rating of either satisfied or very satisfied.

In addition, an end of course survey was completed by graduating students:

"The course has exceeded my expectations! I had no idea how deep we would go!" (Rebecca, 2025 graduate.)

"I feel like my heart, mind and soul have been stretched to an increased capacity of seeing the treasure to be found in going back in history." (Tania, 2025 graduate.)

"I thought KST might be quite good to help me in my ministry, but in actuality it has affected every corner of my life. My prayer life is more exciting now that I have a clearer picture of God and his mission. I feel more patient and humble in my parenting; more purposeful in my creative endeavours; more confident with scripture. I have a more holistic approach to church and mission and I'm starting to see just how much more there is to learn! (Daniel, 2025 graduate)

With contemporary debates increasingly causing divisions in the Church, many leaders and lay believers alike are ill resource to grapple with these complex issues. KST exists to equip everyday Christians with understanding and depth of thinking, to live out their faith sensitively and faithfully in their local communities. Our Graduates apply their learning within their local churches, enabling these churches to be places of good news to their communities and wider society.

Public Benefit

The trustees are aware of and consider the requirements regarding public benefit in their ongoing planning and decision making.

The trustees confirm that they have complied with the requirements of Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

Additional Note

Bursary Support

In addition to the generally available subsidy mentioned above, particular support was given to a number of students with the greatest financial need. Due to generous support from churches, organisations and alumni, bursaries of over £5000 were awarded.

Financial Review

Financial Position

At the end of the period 31 August 2025 the charity reports income of £72,267 and expenditure of £62,277. This reflects a surplus of £9,990 for the period compared to a deficit of £11,449 in 2024. The total unrestricted funds carried forward is £35,963 (2024: £25,973).

Reserves Policy

The policy of the trustees is to hold a minimum of 3 months costs in reserve, at times this will be exceeded and invested at appropriate in the ongoing development of programs to further benefit the objectives of the charity.

Going Concern

KST continues to invest resources, and reserves to develop our educational programmes. Adjusting to the academic models post-pandemic context has required investment. The overall financial outlook of the charity is positive.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error.

The trustees actively review the major risks which the charity faces on a regular basis and believe that maintaining the reserves stated, combined with the annual review of the controls over key financial systems carried out on an annual basis will provide sufficient resources in the event of adverse conditions. The trustees have also examined other operational, reputational, staffing and business risks which they face, and confirm that they have established systems to mitigate the significant risks.

Responsibilities and Basis of Report

As the charity trustees of the Trust you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent Examiner's Statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. the accounts do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and contents of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair view' which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

King's School of Theology
Notes to the Financial Statements
For The Year Ended 31 August 2025

1. General Information

King's School of Theology is a charitable incorporated organisation registered with the Charity Commission, registered charity number 1184982. The principal address is 17 Earls Road, Fareham, Hampshire, PO16 0RT.

2. Accounting Policies

2.1. Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) "Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019)", Financial Reporting Standard 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland" and the Charities Act 2011.

The charity is a Public Benefit Entity as defined by FRS 102.

2.2. Incoming Resources

All incoming resources are included in the statement of financial activities when entitlement has passed to the charity; it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the charity and the amount can be reliably measured. The following specific policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- income from donations or grants is recognised when there is evidence of entitlement to the gift, receipt is probable and its amount can be measured reliably.
- legacy income is recognised when receipt is probable and entitlement is established.
- income from donated goods is measured at the fair value of the goods unless this is impractical to measure reliably, in which case the value is derived from the cost to the donor or the estimated resale value. Donated facilities and services are recognised in the accounts when received if the value can be reliably measured. No amounts are included for the contribution of general volunteers.
- income from contracts for the supply of services is recognised with the delivery of the contracted service. This is classified as unrestricted funds unless there is a contractual requirement for it to be spent on a particular purpose and returned if unspent, in which case it may be regarded as restricted.

2.3. Resources Expended

Expenditure is recognised on an accruals basis as a liability is incurred. Expenditure includes any VAT which cannot be fully recovered, and is classified under headings of the statement of financial activities to which it relates:

- expenditure on raising funds includes the costs of all fundraising activities, events, noncharitable trading activities, and the sale of donated goods.
- expenditure on charitable activities includes all costs incurred by a charity in undertaking activities that further its charitable aims for the benefit of its beneficiaries, including those support costs and costs relating to the governance of the charity apportioned to charitable activities.
- other expenditure includes all expenditure that is neither related to raising funds for the charity nor part of its expenditure on charitable activities.

All costs are allocated to expenditure categories reflecting the use of the resource. Direct costs attributable to a single activity are allocated directly to that activity. Shared costs are apportioned between the activities they contribute to on a reasonable, justifiable and consistent basis.

2.4. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are basic financial assets and include cash in hand and deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments that mature in no more than three months from the date of acquisition and are readily convertible to a known amount of cash with insignificant risk of change in value, and bank overdrafts.

King's School of Theology
For The Year Ended 31 August 2025

2.5. Financial Instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the charity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the amount receivable or payable including any related transaction costs.

Current assets and current liabilities are subsequently measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received and not discounted.

Debt instruments are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Where investments in shares are publicly traded or their fair value can otherwise be measured reliably, the investment is subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in income and expenditure. All other such investments are subsequently measured at cost less impairment.

Other financial instruments, including derivatives, are initially recognised at fair value, unless payment for an asset is deferred beyond normal business terms or financed at a rate of interest that is not a market rate, in which case the asset is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Other financial instruments are subsequently measured at fair value, with any changes recognised in the statement of financial activities, with the exception of hedging instruments in a designated hedging relationship.

Financial assets that are measured at cost or amortised cost are reviewed for objective evidence of impairment at the end of each reporting date. If there is objective evidence of impairment, an impairment loss is recognised under the appropriate heading in the statement of financial activities in which the initial gain was recognised.

For all equity instruments regardless of significance, and other financial assets that are individually significant, these are assessed individually for impairment. Other financial assets are either assessed individually or grouped on the basis of similar credit risk characteristics.

Any reversals of impairment are recognised immediately, to the extent that the reversal does not result in a carrying amount of the financial asset that exceeds what the carrying amount would have been had the impairment not previously been recognised.

2.6. Pensions

The charity operates a defined pension contribution scheme. Contributions are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the scheme.
