TRUSTEES' REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2024

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2024. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objective of the charity is the promotion of religious harmony for the benefit of the public by:

- a) educating the public in different religious beliefs including an awareness of their distinctive features and their common ground to promote good relations between persons of different faiths; and
- b) promoting knowledge and mutual understanding and respect of the beliefs and practices of different religious faiths.

Significant activities

Unfortunately, due to covid and financial challenges, the Universal God Centre (the building which the charity operated from) has closed down as of 24th December 2021.

The charity itself will continue to run however and will concentrate on doing more online work.

Public benefit

In setting objectives and planning for activities, the Trustees have given due consideration to general guidance published by the charity commission relating to public benefit and in particular to its supplementary public benefit guidance.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

In the charity's third year of operation the centre itself has closed and it's activities moved online. There has been very little financial activity as the Trustees address this new approach. The charity has generated a small surplus which has helped to reverse the net liability position to a position of net assets on the balance sheet.

Reserves policy

The charity is still aiming to build a small reserve of funds, although ongoing running costs have been lowered following the closure of the centre.

Going concern

After making appropriate enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. For this reason they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

FUTURE PLANS

Two of the charity trustees, Ms. June Meagher and Dr. Lale Tuncer, have established a community interest company called 'Nahash Health.' This initiative includes a complimentary online self-development well-being course, along with group workshops and events designed for our communities over the next 12 to 24 months.

The charity will collaborate closely with Nahash Health CIC for the foreseeable future and the well-being program will also be readily accessible to the public through the charity's website.

We aim to continue enhancing our courses, social media groups, and website to ensure they are easily accessible to various segments of the public.

Over the past 24 months, we have engaged in interfaith podcasts and discussions for the charity on our YouTube channel, and we look forward to further developing this initiative.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity was registered as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) on the 28th August 2019 and its governing document is based on the CIO Foundation Model.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

All new appointed trustees must have a specified role for the charity that will be of benefit for the charity in terms of helping to achieve its aims and objectives.

If trustees vote in favor of recruiting another trustee to the board with adequate reason for the best interests of the charity, any of the trustees may suggest opening the position to someone they may know that they think would be beneficial for the charity and its beneficiaries. Prior to appointing new trustees, there will be an introductory process whereby the new person is introduced to the board of trustees in a meeting and roles discussed and any questions addressed. This will be like an informal interview. After the meeting trustees will vote either to appoint or not appoint the potential new trustee. If the majority agree to appoint the new trustee, and if the individual is happy to proceed, a copy of the governing document, policy and procedure handbook, business plan, trustee declaration form and other relevant document will be emailed over to the individual and he or she will be given 2 weeks to complete and sign relevant documents. During this period the individual may choose that he or she is not interested to take on this role.

If trustees agree (majority vote) a formal recruitment process can be put into place to try to recruit more trustees, along with a formal interview process for recruitment.

No external body or person is allowed to recruit on behalf of the charity any new trustees to the board without the consent of the trustees majority vote.

Induction and training of new trustees

If an individual is happy to take on the role of trustee, signs and completes the forms, and then later changes his or her mind they may resign at any given point (written resignation addressed to either the Charity Commission or to the board of trustees) who will then forward to the Charity Commission on their behalf as long as the charity board has at least 3 members on the trustee board after they resign; This is because our Governing document requires that there are a minimum of three trustees on the board at any given time.

The new trustee will decide on what role he or she would like to take on (must be a role that the majority of the other trustees agree would be beneficial for the aims and objectives of the charity) and will be encouraged to share his or her ideas on how to carry out this role with the charity director (Dr Lale Tuncer) who will be working closely with new trustees in helping them to achieve their objectives. Any major decisions will be discussed at the quarterly trustee meetings. In the meantime trustees can share thoughts and ideas with each other either privately or in a group via email as long as the discussions are in the best interests of the charity and comply with the governing rules/policy/procedures.

All trustees will be invited to take part in quarterly trustee board meetings, where the director will take minutes and share with everyone after the meeting. Any member who has questions/issues/concerns that need to be addressed by all other trustees are welcomed to bring these to the meetings.

If a trustee has any specific issue or concern which they would like to discuss or have support with, will be able to have personal one to one supervision sessions with either Lale Tuncer or another trustee of their choice from the board at any given time.

TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITY STATEMENT

The trustees (who are also the directors of Universal God: Message of Peace for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice) including Financial Reporting Standard 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland".

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Approved by order of the board of trustees on 23/06/2025 and signed on its behalf by:
