Structure, Governance and Management

Constitution

The CIO was established as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation by a Constitution dated 4 September 2019.

Recruitment, Appointment and Training of new Trustees

Potential new appointments are discussed at Trustees' meetings and a short list agreed of those to be approached. Candidates are then approached to establish whether they are willing to serve and, if so, appointments are then confirmed at the next meeting of the Trustees. The policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of new Trustees are tailored to their individual needs, commensurate with their experience, ensuring that they understand their obligations and possess a sufficient knowledge as to how to discharge them.

Sir Alan Parker was appointed as Chair on 10 February 2021.

Organisation

The Trustees meet at least twice per year in ordinary circumstances. More frequent meetings are called when necessary.

Risk assessment

The Trustees identify the major risks to which the CIO is exposed which, in their view, are the reputation and continuing value of the programmes they oversee and the ability to balance funding with costs. The Trustees will keep these risks under regular review.

Objectives and Activities

The Trustees confirm that in setting the objectives and planning the activities, they have referred to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit.

Charitable purpose and objectives

Advancing education, particularly but not exclusively throughout the Commonwealth, by promoting and supporting international study conferences for emerging and current leaders from all sectors, including but not limited to government, public service, public and private companies, non-governmental and community-based organisations, trade unions, educational institutions and artistic and cultural organisations.

Entering through study conferences, emerging and current leaders gain a lifelong network for continued learning and mutual support, of benefit to society and the Commonwealth as they rise to positions of responsibility and influence within all walks of life.

The objectives of the Trustees are to:

- facilitate organisation of study conferences and
- provide support to networks of alumni including events for alumni.

Activities during the year

The main activities of the CIO in 2023 were an event for alumni worldwide and planning for a future Commonwealth Study Conference. In partnership with CSC Global Alumni and the Royal Agricultural Society of the Commonwealth a successful event on the Next Generation of Farming was held in the presence of our President, HRH The Princess Royal with online links worldwide. Plans for a future Commonwealth Study Conference were developed in collaboration with potential partners. Trustees met once online and three times in person, with some attending online.

Trustees record their gratitude to Coutts & Co for their generous support in hosting the Next Generation of Farming event.

Financial review

Reserves and investment policy

The reserves and investment policy will be based on the financial demands made upon the CIO at regular intervals, over conference cycles.

The Constitution allows investment in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as the Trustees of a trust are permitted to do by the Trustee Act 2000.

Results

The CIO's income is composed of donations and will be supplemented in future by income from investments.

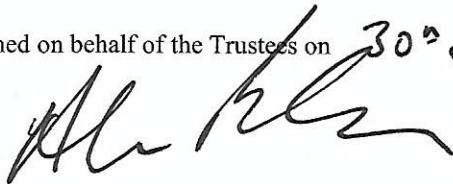

In 2023, the main expenditure of the CIO consisted of the costs of support to its events and to the development and meetings of the CIO and its plans, including payment for 2022 activities billed in 2023.

The balance sheet for the end of 2022 shows modest net assets. However the CIO's predecessor, a Trust named HRH The Duke of Edinburgh's Commonwealth Study Conferences (UK Fund), held net assets of over £20,000 which will be transferred to the CIO when the two organisations are merged.

Plans for Future Activities

The Trustees plan to support the development and funding of a new Commonwealth Study Conference, with delivery in partnership with other organisations.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities in respect of the Trustees' Report and the Financial Statements

Under the Constitution of the CIO and charity law, the Trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Charity law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year.

The financial statements are required by law to give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the CIO at the end of the year and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended.

In preparing these financial statements, generally accepted accounting practice entails that the Trustees:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards and the Statement of Recommended Practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- state whether the financial statements comply with the Constitution, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the CIO will continue in business.

The Trustees are required to act in accordance with the Constitution of the CIO, within the framework of charity law. They are responsible for keeping proper accounting records, sufficient to disclose at any time, with reasonable accuracy, the financial position of the CIO at that time, and to enable the Trustees to ensure that, where any statements of accounts are prepared by them under the Charities Act 2011, those statements of accounts comply with the requirements of regulations under that provision. They have general responsibility for taking such steps as are reasonably open to them to safeguard the assets of the CIO and to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

The Trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the financial and other information provided to the Charity Commission. Legislation in the UK governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.
