As of 30th August 2022, CGCI is formed of five individuals volunteering as trustees. Anna York-Weaving acts as Chair. The Trustee Committee consists of a Cambridge graduate, three lecturers and fellows at Cambridge University and one parent with business, marketing, and senior administrative skills. Trustee policies and procedures are to be updated after the pandemic.

CGCI's coaching team is led by Anna York-Weaving who has previously represented female chess at Cambridge University, Internationally and within the UK. She is supported by Ian Wallace.

The charity has links with the English Chess Federation (ECF) and the team organising the Cambridge Chess Championships (CCC), plus many of the colleges at Cambridge University. Communication extends to the local and surrounding schools in Cambridgeshire.

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are:

- (i) the advancement of education, in particular, but not exclusively, in the fields of science, technology, economics, mathematics and computing; and
- (ii) the advancement of amateur sport through the provision of, or assistance in the provision of, facilities for the teaching, coaching and playing of chess for the benefit of girls of school age who are resident in Cambridgeshire.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

CGCI provides regular monthly chess training workshops for girls aged approximately 5+. Such training workshops, which last between 2 and 2.5 hours, are open during school term-time and are typically attended by between 40-45 girls. CGCI provides three levels of coaching, depending upon ability. CGCI's coaching team is led by Anna York-Weaving.

Pre-pandemic CGCI operated a competitive team which participated in the Cambridgeshire Chess Championship (CCC), playing a total of 12 matches throughout the academic year, and separately operates its own annual chess tournament. Post pandemic CGCI's intention is to establish a competitive team, as before to compete at CCC and will host its own tournament, based at Cambridge Kings College on 2nd July 2023.

CGCI provides only basic facilities, namely a room in which it meets, and any other items necessary for the playing of chess, such as chess boards, chess pieces and chess clocks.

CGCI does not operate on a "membership" basis and is open to all girls in the Cambridgeshire and surrounded areas aged 5+. CGCI actively approaches as many schools in Cambridgeshire and surrounded areas as it can in order to reach and engage with as many girls as possible.

CGCI's purposes provide the following benefits:

- (i) greater female representation in the chess community by increasing the number of girls of school age in the Cambridgeshire and surrounded areas who are actively playing chess.
- (ii) the intellectual benefits of chess experienced by its beneficiaries, including the development of problem solving, logical and critical reasoning, pattern recognition, concentration, communication skills and interpersonal skills; and
- (iii) an increase in positive attitudes towards subjects such as science, technology, economics, mathematics, and computing in girls in education.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

CGCI raises the majority of its funds by way of public donation. This comprises revenue raised via: (i) crowdfunding (ii) donations from certain colleges of Cambridge University, local business'/organisations. Such crowdfunded donations are made in small individual amounts and without conditions, whereas the donations from Cambridge typically range between £50 to £400. CGCI also occasionally applies for, and receives, grants.

CGCI does not follow any formal policies or procedures in respect of such donations, as each individual donation is made unconditionally and is non-material in respect of CGCI's operations as a whole and would otherwise provide a disproportionate administrative burden upon CGCI's current volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Due to the Covid pandemic and following government guidelines, CGCI suspended activity from February 2020 until 22nd September 2022.

Trustees meet monthly. AGM minutes from 26th April 2023 outlined the initiatives strategy from September 2023 to September 2024, including the Cambridge Chess Championships (CCC), a planned CGCI mini tournament for intermediate and advanced players including external participants and the English Primary Schools' Chess Association (EPSA) under 11's Championship. CGCI will hold its own tournament on 2nd July 2023 open to external participants and will be held at Kings College, Cambridge. Due to lockdown, the CGCI were unable to participate or hold tournaments, therefore, no events were able to take place during the report period 31th May 2021 to 30 May 2022.

Part of the forthcoming strategy is to produce a yearly newsletter of events for the year 2023/2024, outlining the CGCI's past achievements, chess news and future tournaments throughout the year.

Unfortunately, the outline above does not summarises chess awards or achievements relating to the reporting period, this is due to the pandemic, but does illustrate the charities commitment and the plans in place for the future.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Due to the pandemic, accounts were frozen until CGCI resumed post pandemic. There are adequate reserves to cover main outgoings; additional coaching for six months, plus costs associated with the CGCI tournament on 2nd July.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

CGCI suggests a £5 donation from those who attend the training sessions and stress that this is not compulsory. CGCI does not charge additional fees in respect of the provisions or facilities.

Kings College School provides the facilities to CGCI for training sessions, without charge. Kings College, Cambridge also provides CGCI with their facilities for tournaments at no charge.

The CGCI are solely dependent on grants and other forms of fundraising to cover its costs and, importantly, the goodwill of parents and volunteers.

CGCI is formed of four individuals volunteering as trustees; three are lecturers and fellows at Cambridge University and one parent with business, marketing, and senior administrative skills. Trustee policies and procedures were in the process of being drafted.

CGCI's coaching team is led by Dagne Ciuksyte, International Chess Master, and top three women player in England. Dagne is supported by three other competitive chess players and members of chess clubs.

The charity has links with the English Chess Federation (ECF) and the team organising the Cambridge Chess Championships (CCC), plus many of the colleges at Cambridge University. Communication extends to the local and surrounding schools in Cambridgeshire.

With the UK in a nation-wide lockdown, chess competitions were cancelled as were in-house training workshops.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are:
(i) the advancement of education, in particular, but not exclusively, in the fields of science, technology, economics, mathematics and computing; and
(ii) the advancement of amateur sport through the provision of, or assistance in the provision of, facilities for the teaching, coaching and playing of chess for the benefit of girls of school age who are resident in Cambridgeshire.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

CGCI provides regular monthly chess training workshops for girls aged between approximately 5 and 13 years old. Such training workshops, which last between 2 and 2.5 hours, are open during school term-time and are typically attended by between 40-45 girls. CGCI provides three levels of coaching, depending upon ability. CGCI's coaching team is led by Dagne Ciuksyte, International Chess Master and top three women player in England.

CGCI provides only basic facilities, namely a room in which it meets, and any other items necessary for the playing of chess, such as chess boards, chess pieces and chess clocks.

CGCI does not operate on a "membership" basis, and is open to all girls in the Cambridgeshire area aged between 5-13 years old. CGCI actively approaches as many schools in Cambridgeshire as it can in order to reach and engage with as many girls as possible.

CGCI's purposes provide the following benefits:

- (ii) the intellectual benefits of chess experienced by its beneficiaries, including the development of problem solving, logical and critical reasoning, pattern recognition, concentration, communication skills and interpersonal skills; and
- (iii) an increase in positive attitudes towards subjects such as science, technology, economics, mathematics and computing in girls of school age.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;

CGCI raises the majority of its revenue by way of public donation. This comprises revenue raised via: (i) crowdfunding (ii) donations from certain colleges of Cambridge University. Such crowdfunded donations are made in small individual amounts and without conditions, whereas the donations from Cambridge typically range between £50 to £400. CGCI also occasionally applies for, and receives, grants.

CGCI does not follow any formal policies or procedures in respect of such donations, as each individual donation is made unconditionally and is non-material in respect of CGCI's operations as a whole, and would otherwise provide a disproportionate administrative burden upon CGCI's current volunteers.

Due to the global pandemic, all fundraising and grant applications were suspended.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Due to the global pandemic, and following government guidelines, CGCI suspended activity from February 2020 until further notice.

With a nation-wide lockdown, CGCI researched alternatives, trialling an on-line training session in September 2020. Unfortunately, due to safeguarding issues, IT complexities and personal work commitments, this was dismissed. All trustees voted to suspend activities until further notice.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Reserves are in place to cover main outgoings; coaching fees for six months, without the requirement of additional funding.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The charities principal source of funding is a nominal fee of £5 per attendee in respect of its coaching workshops. Such fee raises a contribution towards the costs of running such coaching workshops and participating in the Cambridge Chess Championship in each academic year. CGCI does not charge a fee in respect of the provision of its other facilities, such as its meeting room, as this is provided to it by Kings College, Cambridge, without charge.

The charges are considered to be nominal and within the scope of what the poor could reasonably afford. Such charges (along with income raised from selling T-shirts showing the CGCI logo) raised only 15% of CGCI's annual income (2018/2019) As such, it is dependent on grants and other forms of fundraising to cover its costs and, importantly, the goodwill of parents and volunteers.

Due to the global pandemic, no coaching workshops have taken place, nor applications for grants or other fundraising avenues have been submitted.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are:
(i) the advancement of education, in particular, but not exclusively, in the fields of science, technology, economics, mathematics and computing; and
(ii) the advancement of amateur sport through the provision of, or assistance in the provision of, facilities for the teaching, coaching and playing of chess for the benefit of girls of school age who are resident in Cambridgeshire.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

CGCI provides regular monthly chess training workshops for girls aged between approximately 5 and 13 years old. Such training workshops, which last between 2 and 2.5 hours, are open during school term-time and are typically attended by between 40-45 girls. CGCI provides three levels of coaching, depending upon ability. CGCI's coaching team is led by Dagne Ciuksyte, International Chess Master and top three women player in England.

CGCI also operates a competitive team which participates in the Cambridgeshire Chess Championship, playing a total of 12 matches throughout the academic year, and separately operates its own annual chess tournament.

CGCI provides only basic facilities, namely a room in which it meets, and any other items necessary for the playing of chess, such as chess boards, chess pieces and chess clocks.

CGCI does not operate on a "membership" basis, and is open to all girls in the Cambridgeshire area aged between 5-13 years old. CGCI actively approaches as many schools in Cambridgeshire as it can in order to reach and engage with as many girls as possible.

CGCI's purposes provide the following benefits:

- (i) greater female representation in the chess community by increasing the number of girls of school age in the Cambridgeshire area who are actively playing chess;
- (ii) the intellectual benefits of chess experienced by its beneficiaries, including the development of problem solving, logical and critical reasoning, pattern recognition, concentration, communication skills and interpersonal skills; and
- (iii) an increase in positive attitudes towards subjects such as science, technology, economics, mathematics and computing in girls of school age.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

CGCI raises the majority of its revenue by way of public donation. This comprises revenue raised via: (i) crowdfunding (ii) donations from certain colleges of Cambridge University. Such crowdfunded donations are made in small individual amounts and without conditions, whereas the donations from Cambridge typically range between £50 to £400. CGCI also occasionally applies for, and receives, grants.

CGCI does not follow any formal policies or procedures in respect of such donations, as each individual donation is made unconditionally and is non-material in respect of CGCI's operations as a whole, and would otherwise provide a disproportionate administrative burden upon CGCI's current volunteers.

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Section D Achievements and performance

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Apart from gaining charitable status, the CGCI focused on chess training in preparation for forthcoming chess tournaments outlined below

However, due to the Covid pandemic and following government guidelines, CGCI suspended activity from February 2020 until further notice.

Prior to suspension, the trustees met monthly. Minutes of last meeting held on February 23rd 2020, outlined the initiatives chess tournaments in the coming year of 2020-2021, including the Cambridge Chess Championships (CCC), a planned CGCI mini tournament for intermediate and advanced players including external participants and the English Primary Schools' Chess Association (EPSA) under 11's Championship Final that was due to be held on 21st March 2020. The trustees also discussed holding a CGCI end of term chess tournament on 28th June 2020 at King's College, Cambridge. Due to lockdown, none of these events took place.

CGCI were in the process of creating a yearly newsletter of event of 2019/2020, outlining the CGCI's achievements and chess news over the past year, as well as creating an official website which would run along side the Facebook site.

DBS checks and certificates for all trustees and coaches had been obtained.

Trustees were researching the cost of an associated CGCI ChessKid App account to improve training between the girls monthly on-site training sessions.

New equipment of chess clocks, display boards and score books were purchased to support the girls training sessions.

Various fundraising events and sponsorships were being planned.

Unfortunately the outline above does not summarises many chess awards or achievements due to the pandemic, but does illustrate the charities commitment and the plans in place at the time.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Reserves are in place to cover main outgoings; coaching fees for six months, without the requirement of additional funding.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

None

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

CGCI charges a nominal fee of £5 per attendee in respect of its coaching workshops. Such fee raises a contribution towards the costs of running such coaching workshops and participating in the Cambridge Chess Championship in each academic year. CGCI does not charge a fee in respect of the provision of its other facilities, such as its meeting room, as this is provided to it by Kings College, Cambridge, without charge.

The charges are considered to be nominal and within the scope of what the poor could reasonably afford. Such charges (along with income raised from selling T-shirts showing the CGCI logo) raised only 15% of CGCI's annual income (2018/2019) As such, it is dependent on grants and other forms of fundraising to cover its costs and, importantly, the goodwill of parents and volunteers.
