Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	During 2023 the main Trustee Kelly Reed worked on writing reports for one Roman site in Croatia and completed a stable isotope study, culminating in two academic journal publications. Kelly was also invited to undertake fieldwork in Croatia in September, where she spent a week teaching flotation and helping the excavation team. In December Kelly travelled to Kiel University to work on a project located in Hungary on agriculture in the Bronze Age. These activities were in collaboration with universities and museums within Croatia and Hungary and supported the charities objectives in promoting and preserving archaeological remains.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	During 2022 the main Trustee Kelly Reed worked on writing reports for several prehistoric sites in Croatia, culminating in two academic journal publications. This work ended an extensive period of rescue excavation work in Croatia that has contributed significantly to the evidence of prehistoric agriculture. These activities were in collaboration with universities and museums within Croatia and supported the charities objectives in promoting and preserving archaeological remains.

Contribution made by volunteers	Para 1.38	In 2020/1 a masters student from Sheffield University helped research several medieval sites and gained experience in writing an academic journal article. This culminated in the publication of 'Food and agriculture in Slavonia, Croatia, during the Late Middle Ages: the archaeobotanical evidence' in Vegetation History and Archaeobotany. The second paper will be published in January 2022 in the Journal of Field Archaeology.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	During the pandemic all field work was suspended. However, the main Trustee Kelly Reed was able to continue to work on several sites and publish their findings in international journals. These activities were in collaboration with universities and museums within Croatia and supported the charities objectives in promoting and preserving archaeological remains. Our volunteer was also from Serbia where there are few archaeologists specialising in archaeobotany. This meant that she was able to take her skills and apply them to local archaeological excavations to help preserve and conserve their archaeological remains.
