BREASTFEEDING TWINS AND TRIPLETS UK

TRUSTEES' ANNUAL REPORT

FOR THE YEAR 1 JANUARY 2024 – 31 DECEMBER 2024

The Trustees have pleasure in presenting their report and the financial statements of the charity for the financial period 1 January 2024 – 31 December 2024.

Structure, Governance and Management

Breastfeeding Twins and Triplets UK is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) (Foundation model), whose only voting members are its Trustees. The charity was registered with the Charity Commission on 23 December 2019. Trustees are recruited and trained by the existing Trustees and no other person or organisation has the authority to appoint Trustees to the board. Trustees meet not less than twice a year, in practice usually meeting every 2-3 months, to review the financial and operational state of the charity and to set the strategic direction of the charity.

Objectives and activities

The objects of the charity are:

- for the public benefit, the advancement of health, including in particular (but without limitation) the support of successful breastfeeding amongst parents of twins, triplets and higher order multiples ("parents of multiples");
- for the public benefit, the advancement of education, including in particular (but without limitation):
 - providing parents of multiples and prospective parents of multiples, and their families and wider support networks, with the necessary information and tools to help those parents to establish and continue breastfeeding successfully;
 - providing healthcare professionals with education and development opportunities to promote the benefits of breastfeeding and to enable them to understand the particular breastfeeding challenges faced by parents of multiples, and to help them to provide quality support to those parents in successfully establishing and continuing breastfeeding;
 - facilitating breastfeeding support training for parents of multiples to be able to support others to fulfil their breastfeeding goals.

Breastfeeding Twins and Triplets UK was set up as a charity in response to the often-poor information and support available to parents of multiples who wish to breastfeed or chestfeed their babies. It sprang from a Facebook group of the same name, which was set-up in 2015 and has become a celebrated community of support for parents of multiples, with 12,000 members to date, run by highly qualified admins who provide excellent, evidence-based advice. It is well-known that rates of breastfeeding amongst parents of multiples are significantly lower than among parents of singletons, and there are often particular additional challenges to be overcome, not just as a result of having more than one baby to feed, but also from increased incidence of premature and early-term birth, higher likelihood that the babies will need additional support in the neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) immediately after birth, high rates of birth interventions, and health problems in mother and babies, all of which can make establishing breastfeeding with multiple babies particularly difficult. Added to this, there is a wide perception, in the community generally but also among many healthcare professionals, that breastfeeding twins and triplets is 'just too hard' or even 'not possible', and therefore parents are often not given the encouragement and practical help they need to persevere when faced with these challenges. The members of the Facebook group regularly report that the support and advice they received through this forum was key to their successful breastfeeding journey, often in spite of receiving poor or non-existent support in their communities and a lack of positive encouragement from their wider families.

Having seen the broad and positive impact of the Facebook community, the group's founder, International Board Certified Lactation Consultant (IBCLC) Kathryn Stagg, was driven to extend the net of this support more widely, both to reach more parents who would benefit from it directly, but also to improve the knowledge and skills of healthcare professionals and breastfeeding support volunteers to enable them to assist breastfeeding parents more effectively in the community.

The Trustees confirm that they have referred to the Charity Commission's guidance on Public Benefit when reviewing the charity's aims and objectives and in planning future activities.

Achievements and Performance

We extended our register of lactation consultants, who have completed some extra training around the specific barriers to breastfeeding experienced by multiple birth families. They have continued to support breastfeeding families on a “pay what you can afford basis”. This was to ensure that finances, locality and difficulty in leaving the house with more than one baby, especially after caesarean section, were no longer barriers to accessing expert breastfeeding support. Parents are then sent a donation link to make a voluntary contribution towards the cost of receiving this support, or encouraged to fundraise for us in the future. 2024 saw us funding on average between three to four visits per month across the UK, totalling 46 families supported, an increase from the previous year (2023: 39 families supported). One-to-one videocall support via zoom has also been a valuable alternative source of support for those with situations where a home visit is not necessary. 29 families were supported in this way. We also continued to deliver two Preparing to Breastfeed educational webinar sessions for expectant parents. We facilitated these five times during 2024 and have had around 240 families attend in total.

We hosted three more webinars for health professionals and breastfeeding support volunteers on the subject of ‘Supporting Breastfeeding Multiples’, reaching an audience of around 75 people (2023: 50 people). In collaboration with ARDO, we continued to offer funded breast-pump hires to families of premature twins who would not otherwise be able to have access to a hospital grade breast pumps to establish their milk supply, and we also offered more widely a discount code for pump hire to members of the Facebook group. Conferences continue to be an important way to raise our profile. In 2024, we had a stall at LCGB (Lactation Consultants of Great Britain) and ABM (Association of Breastfeeding Mothers). We talked to many health care workers and breastfeeding supporters and spread the word about the charity. Alongside this, the affiliated Facebook group membership continued to grow, surpassing 12,000 members at the date of signing this report (2023: 11,000 members in September 2024). The successful management of the Facebook group is dependent on the contributions of 10 volunteers, all qualified breastfeeding peer supporters, breastfeeding counsellors or IBCLCs, who act as the group’s administrators and who ensure that the group members receive high quality evidence-based breastfeeding support; their collective contribution is immeasurably important to the success of the group and to the wider charitable activities undertaken.

Future Plans

In August 2025 we were thrilled and very grateful to receive £4,070 funding from the National Lottery following an application made earlier in the year. This funding will enable us to expand our IBCLC face-to-face support project and fund an additional 40 face to face sessions in England over 2 years. We are now able to fully promote this project and we are planning to build stronger links with the charity Twins Trust to explore ways in which our two charities can collaborate and complement each other’s activities. We will also continue to offer 1:1 videocall support, Preparing to Breastfeed workshops for expectant parents, and funded pump hire.

We will have a presence at conferences and seminars, conscious that this is one of the best ways of reaching healthcare professionals and alerting them to our work and the resources and training we offer. We will continue to research other ways of reaching health visitors, midwives, maternity department infant feeding leads and other breastfeeding supporters to disseminate our resources and alert them to the work of the charity. We are exploring if our charity logo and website can be included as a useful contact in infant ‘Red Books’. We plan to survey the members of the Facebook group for feedback to ensure our knowledge of their needs is up-to-date. We will also continue to explore new sources of raising funds to provide support and enable us to expand the work of the charity. We are also planning to fund a group of twin and triplet mums who may find it difficult to access training to train as breastfeeding peer supporters.

Financial Review

2024 saw the charity generate income of £8,068 (2023: £11,213). Of this income, 88% (£7,085) came from philanthropic donations (2023: 97%, £10,873) and 11.5% (£925) came from the sales income from delivering our Supporting Breastfeeding Multiples webinar to healthcare professionals (2023: 3%, £315), with £46 earned from commission taken on sales of Kathryn Stagg's book "Breastfeeding Twins & Triplets: A Guide for Professionals and Parents" which were sold at our conference stalls (2023: £0), and £12 was earned from commission on the sale of charity-branded merchandise (2023: £25).

The costs of delivering our charitable work remained reasonably static compared to the previous year, however our donation income reduced by 35%, in part due to the discontinuation of 'Amazon Smile' cashback donation, which had been a popular method of support amongst the members of the Facebook group. This resulted in the charity sustaining a deficit of £2,270 over the year (2023: £369 surplus). Other routes of increasing our philanthropic and grant support and other sources of revenue are being actively explored.

The charity's reserves policy is to hold 6 to 9 months'-worth of expenditure as our unrestricted reserves, to ensure we can continue to service our core administrative support costs in the short-term should we experience a reduction in income whilst we explore new avenues of income generation. The current level of reserves held is currently at the top of this range.

The Trustees declare that they have approved the Trustees' report above.

While acting in the capacity of a Trustee, no person (2023: none) received remuneration in the current financial period. Two Trustees (2023: three Trustees) received reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses they had incurred on necessary administrative costs and subscriptions, claiming a total of £323.90 (2023: total of £435.42). Of this total, the full amount had been invoiced by year end (2023: £102.17 un-invoiced at year end).

Such payments are allowable according to the charity's governing document; rates of pay are set by the remaining Trustees in the absence of the benefitting Trustee, and the volume of payments is closely monitored. The non-benefitting Trustees believe that such payments are in the best interests of the charity, as this Trustee is considered to be one of the main experts in the UK in the field of supporting breastfeeding in families with multiple babies. The full amount of these payments had been invoiced and paid by year end in both the current and previous reporting periods. This same Trustee offered her book, entitled "Breastfeeding Twins and Triplets: A Guide for Professionals and Parents", for sale at conference stalls hosted by the charity; the charity charged commission on these sales made at our stalls, generating income of £46 (2023: nil) during the year. Payment of this commission invoice was outstanding at year-end, but received early in 2025.

13 RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Trustee Kathryn Stagg received payments of £1,590 (2023: £2,564) for writing and delivering a series of webinars on 'Supporting Breastfeeding Multiples' to health care professionals and breastfeeding supporters, delivering 1-to-1 breastfeeding support to parents of multiples via Zoom, and delivering family training sessions on Preparing to Breastfeed Multiples, as detailed in note 6 above. These payments were approved by the other Trustees in Kathryn's absence, as per the charity's constitution. Kathryn, an IBCLC, is one of the UK's foremost experts in breastfeeding multiples and as such the remaining Trustees felt that there was no better person to deliver these aspects of the charity's work, and therefore approved the payments to Kathryn as being in the best interests of the charity. Kathryn also benefitted from having the opportunity to sell her book, "Breastfeeding Twins and Triplets: A
