The Wakefield Peregrine Project

Trustees' report (continued) for the year ended 31 December 2025

Objectives and activities

The charity's objects

To promote, for the benefit of the public, the study and support of peregrine falcons within the Wakefield district and surrounding area.

The charity's main activities

The charity maintains a nestbox and three cameras on Wakefield Cathedral. Video from two cameras is streamed to the internet. The charity also arranges viewing days, when members of the public can see the peregrines and learn more about the species and the problems it faces.

Public benefit statement

In setting our objectives and planning our activities our Trustees have given serious consideration to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit and in particular on environment, conservation and heritage.

Achievements and performance

The peregrines did not breed on the cathedral in 2025, so the charity took the opportunity to replace the nestbox with a new and more durable box. The live streams were interrupted during the replacement period but the service has been restored ready for 2026.

Financial review

The net payments for the year were £1,178, all of which was unrestricted funds.

Reserves policy

The charity's free reserves, at the year end were £1,883.

The reserves policy is as follows:

a) The Lower Limit will be £2,000. This being the minimum amount considered necessary to cover the maintenance of equipment and the running costs of the charity for 2 years.

b) The Upper Limit will be £5,000. Any amounts above this can, at the trustees discretion, be transferred to a deposit account for use on the charity's projects.

Approved by the board of trustees on 07/02/2026

Notes to the accounts

for the year ended 31 December 2025

1 Accounting policies

Basis of accounting

The trustees have taken advantage of section 133 of the Charities Act 2011 and have prepared the accounts on a receipts and payments basis.

There has been no change to the accounting policies since last year.

No changes have been made to the accounts for previous years.

Taxation

As a charity the organisation benefits from rates relief and is generally exempt from income tax and capital gains tax but not from VAT. Irrecoverable VAT is included in the cost of those items to which it relates.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds are available for use at the discretion of the trustees in furtherance of the general objectives of the charity.

Restricted funds are subjected to restrictions on their expenditure imposed by the donor or through the terms of an appeal.

Further explanation of the nature and purpose of each fund is included in the notes to the accounts.
