Structure, governance and management

The charity is a registered charity in England and Wales, number 1188616, and is constituted under a certificate of incorporation dated 27 December 2018. The charity is a private company limited by shares and is registered with Companies House, number 11742522. The Articles of Association of the charity were approved on 20 February 2020 and the Charities Commission approved it as a charity in February 2020. The charity was established by a contribution from The Cleveland Clinic Foundation, a non-profit corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio, United States ("Cleveland Clinic"), a non-profit healthcare system, which provides continual operating support so that all monies raised by the charity may be used for its mission. The charity began fundraising in 2021 and seeks to perform its charitable work through active fundraising.

The sole member of the charity, Cleveland Clinic, has the authority to appoint new Trustees provided that at all times at least a sufficient number of Trustees to be able to form a quorum are independent. The Trustees serve for an initial term of office for three years and may be reappointed for a further term or terms of three years each. The charity's Articles of Association provide for a minimum of five Trustees but is not subject to a maximum.

The Trustees agree on the broad strategy and areas of activity for the charity, including consideration of grant making, investment, reserves and risk management policies and performance. The day-to-day administration of grants and the processing and handling of applications prior to consideration by the relevant subcommittee is delegated to the Administrator, B Mikhail. The charity utilizes the services of a professional fundraiser. The Administrator monitors the fundraising activity by providing training and maintaining frequent communication with the fundraiser. Fundraising is also performed internally by the charity and monitored by Cleveland Clinic. Fundraising activities to date have been limited in scope and primarily from certain individuals. During the course of the year we did not receive any complaints about our fundraising practice. We do not engage in persistent or intrusive fundraising practices with any of our supporters.

All Trustees give of their time freely and no Trustee remuneration was paid in the year. Details of Trustee expenses and related party transactions are disclosed in notes 6 and 13 to the financial statements. Trustees are required to disclose all relevant interests and register them with the Chair and, in accordance with the charity's policy, withdraw from decisions where a conflict of interest arises.

On appointment new Trustees meet with the Chair and the Trustees. The welcome information includes a copy of the Articles of Association, and a copy of the Charity Commission's guidance entitled "Guidance for Charities with a Connection to a Non-Charity", "The Essential Trustee: What You Need to Know" and "Charitable Purposes and Public Benefit". The Trustees maintain monitoring and oversight of the activities of the charity through formal meetings and continuous informal communications. The Trustees meet periodically to review strategic, governance, operational and financial matters. All Trustees are encouraged to attend appropriate external training events that will facilitate the undertaking of their role.

Financial review

For the year ended 31 December 2023, the charity received contributions of £7,467,021 (2022: £7,117,240), consisting of £1,100,000 received from the Cleveland Clinic and £6,367,021 raised through fundraising, comprised of £287,814 of unrestricted contributions and £6,079,207 of restricted contributions. Contributions from the Cleveland Clinic are used to pay unrestricted support costs, which totalled £1,003,478 in 2023 (2022: £963,621). Cleveland Clinic will make additional contributions to the charity in 2024 to enable the charity to cover support expenses incurred in 2024. Therefore, the charity will be able to utilize all contributions raised through active fundraising for its mission. Grant distributions from restricted funds totalled £2,513,043 in 2023 (2022: £101,717). These distributions were comprised of £2,505,723 provided to Cleveland Clinic London Ltd to support healthcare education and training and the provision of care to the general public and £7,320 provided to various individuals to support educational scholarships. At 31 December 2023 the charity had accrued grant distribution liabilities of £453,331 (2022: £nil), which were paid in early 2024. There were no grant distributions from unrestricted funds during 2023.

At 31 December 2023 the charity had cash at bank and in hand of £11,835,248 (2022: £7,263,527), an increase of £4,571,721 from cash at bank and in hand at 31 December 2022 primarily resulting from philanthropic fundraising efforts during 2023. Cash at bank and in hand at 31 December 2023 was comprised of £1,109,043 (2022: £556,817) in unrestricted funds and £10,726,205 (2022: £6,706,710) in restricted funds, which will be utilized to support the charity's objectives in accordance with donor restrictions.

The charity has received pledge commitments from certain donors for future contributions. Total pledge commitments at 31 December 2023 were £14,500,000 and are expected to be collected over the next four years. Pledge commitments are not recorded in the financial statements until entitlement of the pledged assets has passed to the charity, which is generally when the donation is received.

The Cleveland Clinic Foundation has confirmed that it will continue to support the charity's obligations, to enable it to meet its liabilities as they fall due for the period to 30 June 2025. The Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the charity and the group have adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the period to 30 June 2025. Accordingly, the charity continues to adopt the going concern basis in preparing its financial statements.

Risk management

Effective risk management is fundamental in enabling the charity to deliver its strategy and ensure it remains strong and sustainable in the long term. The Trustees are responsible for the overall management of the administration of the charity and for ensuring that there are appropriate systems of controls in place. The Trustees are also responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. Decisions by the Trustees concerning the charity are taken by the Trustees, acting collectively.

The Trustees have considered the major risks to which the charity is exposed and have reviewed those risks and established systems and procedures to manage those risks. A major risk is attracting donors to help the charity satisfy its mission of advancing health and medical education and research. As the charity works to establish a good reputation, reputational risks may arise from its fundraising and grant-making activities. However, plans are being developed to mitigate these risks as far as reasonably possible. To avoid inappropriate or unethical use of charitable funds, processes are being developed to scrutinize grant applications for ethical issues and to ensure that, so far as practicable, charitable funds are disseminated in accordance with any specific wishes of each donor, or the stated aims of a particular campaign or fund.

Reserves policy

The Trustees aim to maintain unrestricted reserves that are sufficient to cover support costs for at least three months. Unrestricted reserves and funding for support costs are reviewed at least annually considering the annual operating budget and long-term financial projections of the charity. Support costs are funded by contributions received from the Cleveland Clinic that are contributed to the charity throughout the year as support costs are incurred. Contributions provided by the Cleveland Clinic are generally provided quarterly and reviewed to ensure that adequate funds are available to cover at least three months of support costs for the charity. Cleveland Clinic has provided contributions to the charity in 2023 and will continue to support the operating and governance costs as necessary to enable the charity to meet its obligations and liabilities as they fall due.

At 31 December 2023 the charity held free reserves (excluding restricted funds) of £612,210 (2022: £227,874) which corresponds to approximately 7 months (2022: 3 months) of unrestricted expenditure.

Plans for the future

The charity is committed to the advancement of healthcare and medical education and research. As a public charity, it appreciates and relies upon philanthropy contributions from grateful patients, friends of the charity, alumni, corporations, charities and foundations in order to support its mission: caring for life, researching for health, and education of those who serve. The plans for the future are to develop these philanthropic networks to raise funds in order to support its mission for the long term.

Qualifying third-party indemnity provisions

The charity has granted indemnity to one or more of its Trustees against liability in respect of proceedings brought by third parties, subject to the conditions set out in section 234 of the Companies Act 2006. Such qualifying third-party indemnity provision was in force during the financial year and remains in force as at the date of approving the Trustees' report.

Responsibilities of the Trustees

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the Trustees have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law) including FRS102.

Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of the affairs of the charity as at the balance sheet date and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including income and expenditure, for the financial year. In preparing those financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities (FRS 102) issued in 2019;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards, comprising FRS 102, have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is not appropriate to assume that the charity will continue on that basis.

The Trustees are responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities. The Trustees are also responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006.

Disclosure of information to the auditor

In accordance with company law, each of the Trustees confirm that:

- so far as they are aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the charity's auditors are unaware; and
- as the Trustees of the charity, they have taken all the steps that they ought to have taken in order to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the charity's auditors are aware of that information.

Auditors

The auditor, Buzzacott LLP will be proposed for reappointment in accordance with section 487 of the Companies Act 2006.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and reporting by Charities (effective 1 January 2019) and in accordance with the small companies regime.

Cleveland Clinic Philanthropy (UK) Ltd

Independent auditor's report to the members of Cleveland Clinic Philanthropy (UK) Ltd

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Cleveland Clinic Philanthropy (UK) Ltd (the 'charitable company') for the year ended 31 December 2023 which comprise the statement of financial activities, the balance sheet, the principal accounting policies and the notes to the financial statements. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2023 and of its income and expenditure for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the trustees' report and financial statements, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the trustees' report and financial statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Cleveland Clinic Philanthropy (UK) Ltd

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the trustees' report, which is also the directors' report for the purposes of company law, for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the trustees' report, which is also the directors' report for the purposes of company law, has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charitable company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the trustees' report. We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies' exemptions in preparing the trustees' report and from the requirement to prepare a strategic report.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

Our approach to identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement in respect of irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations, was as follows:

- the engagement partner ensured that the engagement team collectively had the appropriate competence, capabilities and skills to identify or recognise non-compliance with applicable laws and regulations; and
- we obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks that are applicable to the charity and determined that the most significant frameworks which are directly relevant to specific assertions in the financial statements are those that relate to the reporting framework (Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Charities Act 2011) and those that relate to data protection (General Data Protection Regulation).

We assessed the susceptibility of the charity's financial statements to material misstatement, including obtaining an understanding of how fraud might occur, by:

- making enquiries of management as to their knowledge of actual, suspected and alleged fraud; and
- considering the internal controls in place to mitigate risks of fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations.

To address the risk of fraud through management bias and override of controls, we:

- performed analytical procedures to identify any unusual variances;
- tested journal entries to identify unusual transactions;
- tested the authorisation of expenditure and bank payments; and
- reviewed the implementation and design of controls and procedures in place around the grants payable system.

In response to the risk of irregularities and non-compliance with laws and regulations, we designed procedures which included, but were not limited to:

- agreeing financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation;
- reviewing the minutes of meetings of those charged with governance; and
- enquiring of management as to actual and potential litigation and claims. There are inherent limitations in our audit procedures described above. The more removed that laws and regulations are from financial transactions, the less likely it is that we would become aware of non-compliance. Auditing standards also limit the audit procedures required to identify non-compliance with laws and regulations to enquiry of the trustees and other management and the inspection of regulatory and legal correspondence, if any.

Material misstatements that arise due to fraud can be harder to detect than those that arise from error as they may involve deliberate concealment or collusion.

A further description of our responsibilities is available on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.
