The trustees are pleased to present the 1st annual report of this CIO with financial statements for the year ended 31st March 2024.

The financial statements comply with the charities Act 2011, the charities constitution, the statement of recommended practise applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the financial reporting standards applicable in the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland he should in October 2019 (“the SORP”)

Charity Objectives

The object of the CIO is:

1. The object of the charity is, for the public benefit, to relieve the needs of parents, their families and friends, who are bereaved following the death of a baby in utero, at birth or soon after birth, by:

a) the provision of support, training and information to bereaved parents and their carers; and

b) by working collaboratively with health and social care professionals to improve and enhance professional practice with bereaved parents and promoting compassionate care.

Message from the Chair

As we reflect on another impactful year for Mayah's Legacy, I am filled with gratitude for the dedication of our team, volunteers, and supporters. This year has been one of growth, resilience, and unwavering commitment to our mission: empowering and educating those affected by pregnancy loss and perinatal mental health challenges. Together, we have made strides in promoting health equity and improving access to compassionate, person-centred care.

Our Vision

We envision a healthcare system where personalised, holistic support is at the heart of care, empowering women and families to thrive throughout their maternity and postnatal journeys.

Mission

Mayah's Legacy advocates for compassionate, safe, and equitable maternity care for all women.

Through education, policy reform, and the promotion of health equity, we are dedicated to ensuring every voice is heard, every need is addressed, and every individual is empowered in their maternity and postnatal journey.

Aims

Advocate for Policy Change

Influence and shape policies to promote health equity and reduce disparities in maternity, and postnatal care.

Promote Compassionate Care

Ensure that healthcare systems prioritise person-centred, empathetic support for women and families facing perinatal mental health challenges.

Empower Families and Communities.

Provide resources, education, and support to empower women, families, and communities affected by perinatal mental health issues.

Raise Awareness

Increase public and professional awareness of the importance of safe, equitable, and supportive perinatal care.

Foster Health Equity

Work to eliminate barriers in access to high-quality care for marginalized and underserved communities, ensuring every family receives the care they deserve.

Achievements and performance

We are delighted to report that Mayah's Legacy achieved most of its objectives during its inaugural year as a CIO. This could not have been achieved without the hard work of the funders, partners, facilitators and dedicated volunteers.

The highlights of Activities are:

Empowered 4 Birth 2023 – 2024.

Baby Explorer - Empowered 4 Birth Programme

The Baby explorer programme, a collaboration between Mayah's Legacy and the Canterbury District Early Years Project, provides tailored support for expectant and new mothers. This initiative creates opportunities for mothers to explore their baby's developmental needs while fostering confidence and empowerment during the prenatal and postnatal journey.

Funded by a three-year National Lottery grant, the programme delivers resources and guidance designed to enhance maternal well-being and promote healthy early childhood development. By combining evidence-based approaches with community engagement, Empowered 4 Birth continues to make a meaningful difference in the lives of families. The direct funding has allowed us to provide a creche where parents can leave their babies during the six sessions. This gives parents peace of mind and the opportunity to focus fully on the information and discussions, relax, and contribute without distractions.

Many parents praised the quality of care their child received, noting that it was their first time leaving their child outside of family care. They found it to be a positive experience and expressed confidence in accessing future courses, knowing their child was well cared for and engaged.

How you have involved the community in the work you do

The project has ensured that the course is well advertised on our social media sites. We have informed the health visiting team, who run clinics on site, as well as the wider community team in Canterbury, Coastal, and Rural areas. They have been encouraged to refer parents to the course and provided with information leaflets to give to any parents they believe would benefit, particularly first-time mums.

Additionally, the project has facilitated the involvement of students from Canterbury College working on their Health and Social Care Level 3 qualifications. These students volunteer in our creches for the duration of the course, gaining practical, hands-on experience in a childcare setting.

The difference you're making.

Many parents attending the course are first-time parents. Through our evaluations and weekly feedback on home tasks, they have shared how they are passing on the information to others who help care for their child. They have become more aware of how brain function impacts physical and social competence. By making simple changes, such as rotating toys or letting their child have bare feet on the grass, they enhance their child's development through positive daily interactions, sensory stimulation, and alternative play ideas.

Providing a venue where parents can come together and talk to other adults while their child is cared for is a crucial part of the project. The addition of the buggy walk and talk session has given parents an opportunity to socialize, get to know the creche staff and volunteers, share practical tips, and make friends.

Two of our parents attending the Baby Explorers course also participate in an existing walking group that meets every two weeks to walk a route and enjoy lunch together. Most of the Baby Explorers group have "signed up" to join the next walk, which is a wonderful way for parents to continue being part of a community that extends beyond the boundaries of Poet Corner.

What you have learnt

From the last session, we identified a gap in practical information on weaning. While health visitors are not able to fully support parents at the 6-month stage, many parents find it challenging to transition their babies to solid foods. In response, we developed a hands-on weaning course based directly on parent feedback.

This course was very well attended. It addressed issues such as baby-led weaning, understanding portion sizes, and managing sugar content. Parents supported each other and participated in a taste test comparing homemade food to high-end organic brands. Homemade options won overwhelmingly on taste and price, being less than half the cost for double the quantity.

We have added this weaning course to our regular schedule and informed health visitors so they can refer parents and provide updated information.

In response to parent feedback, we have also incorporated more mental health and wellbeing content into the last session. This includes a self-care toolbox, a circle of support, and celebrating small victories. We continually listen to and accommodate parent suggestions, evolving our sessions to meet their needs.

For Baby Explorers, we are now focusing on keeping core learning up to date while incorporating practical, hands-on tasks and fostering group discussions rather than relying on PowerPoint presentations.

We will continue to target parents who would benefit from Baby Explorers, maintain an interest register, and integrate relevant new information into our sessions. By continuing to fund this course, you will be helping babies grow their brains in the most effective and informative way.

Total number of attendees to Empowerment for birth programme: 34

Challenges for year –

Our main challenge this year was finding the right partnership that aligned with our project objectives. Unfortunately, our initial partners withdrew at the last minute, citing a lack of capacity to deliver the project. This led to several meetings with other organizations to find a suitable partner moving forward. We eventually identified the Canterbury & District Early Years Project, whose vision aligned perfectly with ours. They have successfully delivered the project this year.

Although 100% of our attendees were from disadvantaged communities in the Canterbury District, we noticed a lack of engagement from parents in the Black community. This issue is not unique to our project. Data from QEQM indicated that less than 5% of birthing individuals engaging with maternity services were from the Black ethnic minority community.

You Matter Retreat: Partnership with My Birth Support CIC

This year, Mayah's Legacy hosted the You Matter Retreat, a rejuvenating morning retreat designed for parents and caregivers. The retreat emphasised the critical importance of self-care in navigating the challenges of parenting and caregiving. Attendees participated in guided activities using a custom Self-Discovery Workbook and affirmation cards developed by our team. The feedback has been overwhelmingly positive, with participants expressing renewed confidence and emotional well-being. Additionally, to extend the reach of our support, we provide free access to these resources and many more, including webinars, through our online Resource Hub: Mayah's Legacy Resource Hub.

Policy Advocacy

Mayah's Legacy has amplified its voice in 2024 by championing policy reforms and fostering partnerships. We actively collaborate with the East Kent NHS Trust to tackle health inequities by analysing data and integrating patient experiences into actionable change. Our work includes advocating for equitable maternity care and addressing disparities in maternal outcomes. Furthermore, we've partnered with small yet impactful charities like the Everglow Rebecca Kruza Foundation to campaign for Rebecca's Law in Parliament. This joint effort highlights our commitment to systemic change and amplifies our collective impact.

Resource Creation & Distribution

Mayah's Legacy continues to develop innovative resources to support perinatal mental health and well-being. In 2024, we created tools like the Self-Discovery Workbook and the Mapping Your Heart and Mind booklet. These resources are now widely used by perinatal psychologists, local support groups for new mothers, NHS Trusts, and other charitable organisations. By equipping professionals and communities with accessible, evidence-based tools, we extend our mission to empower and educate families navigating pregnancy loss and perinatal challenges. On behalf of the trustees, I also wish to thank our incredible team for their passion and commitment. Together, we are building a legacy of hope, resilience, and empowerment.
