Trustee recruitment and appointment

There has not been any change to the trustees during this period.

Achievements and performance

Following the easing of restrictions due to the prevailing pandemic Markaz Umar, became active from dormancy at the beginning of this period. They arranged a three-day conference attended by thousands in the wider Birmingham area (West Bromwich) and London. Here they hosted an internationally renowned professor which aided the success of the aforementioned conference. This success was then followed by arranging online educational courses for both adults and children, either fully subsidised or partially subsidised via philanthropic community support. Furthermore, funds have been raised specifically to aid in the future acquisition of a building allowing broadening of services.

Financial review

The principal funding sources were via philanthropic community sources as well as the sale of educational courses that were in line with charitable objectives.

Statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The charity does not have a reserves policy at the moment, however there is a surplus in after the first year of activity with their accounts therefore they will be able to fund for an emergency expense. Likewise funding for building appeal is ringfenced.

Details of any deficit

The charity relied on initial loans which have all been successfully paid, and as such there is no deficit.

Donated facilities and services

The charity has not had any donated facilities and services. Although volunteers are relied upon for assistance.

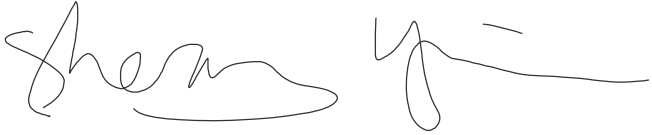

Future plans

The charity's goal is to acquire a building to allow a widening of educational services. It will also continue to pursue the online educational activities, as well as conferences with internationally renowned experts.
