 - to play our part in the life of our local community through our community access and service programmes
 - Improve social and well-being
 - Improve mental health
 - Improve aloneness/isolation/inclusion BAME

Sisterhood of women C10 we work with women on 1-2-1 basis as well as groupwork and group settings to offer practical tips, information and advice on taking care of mental, emotional and physical health. We celebrate cultural events hire a hall, pay for a DJ and order the food.

Our venue has been Old School community centre but then the roof needed repairing so we are now at Bob Jones Healthy Living Centre, Bromely Street Blakenhall, Wolverhampton. At present we are in negotiation to get an office base at Bob Jones Healthy Living Centre Blakenhall Wolverhampton from Wolverhampton council. We deliver our events and celebrate Diwali, Vaisakhi, Christmas, Community togetherness. The ladies pay £5 each out of the takings we pay for the hire of venue, DJ, and food.

We have also done outings for women and children to the beach. We have inspirational speakers come in and NHS staff to talk about health.

We offer physical activities walks in the park and organise day trips. Celebrated in the Phoenix Park Blakenhall, women dancing, wearing cultural clothes played music improving social wellbeing and mental health, inclusion and aloneness amongst Sikh, Muslim, hindu women. A place to get together to learn share and laugh. Women who attend our events tell us "they feel their mental health and motional wellbeing has improved through our events programmes.

Feeling lonely or isolated or just want a friendly person to chat to our service is available for women of any age who have issues that are keeping them lonely and isolated. We offer face to face or home visits or meeting at a convenient place. Telephone offers a opportunity to talk to someone on a regular basis. A 30-minute chat can help you to share any issue on your mind by just listening and supporting.

We recognise that poor mental health is increasing, and many people feel uncomfortable talking about how they are feeling because they fear being stigmatised. We deliver group workshops to raise awareness of mental health and to understand and recognise the causes, symptoms and support options. Sessions are done in Punjabi, and English sessions aim to build your resilience so that you can better cope with situations, build your confidence and have healthier relationships.

We hold women-girls-children family and sometimes public events to connect with our communities, inform and educate them, offer advice on issues and support. Community cohesion, community togetherness.

I hope this is ok this is the first time I am doing a report for charity commission I don't know if it's right or wrong.

Kind regards
