- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

Trustee Induction and Training

New trustees are provided with a clear induction process that includes access to the charity's governing documents, key policies, and role expectations. They are given time to review and understand charity operations and are supported through discussion and informal mentoring. A written policy governs this process to ensure consistency and clarity.

Organisational Structure

Hands for Humanity is governed by three trustees: Zainab Ibrahim, Raheem Mahomed, and Hamid Majoti. In addition, Umar Abubaker serves as a contractor who oversees the day-to-day operations of the charity, including collections, administration, finance, project oversight, and fundraising. He reports directly to the trustees and is paid for this work. The charity operates with the support of a dedicated team of volunteers who assist with fieldwork, logistics, and campaign delivery.

Relationship with Related Parties

There are no related-party relationships with trustees or between the charity and its project partners. However, UIA Logistics Ltd, a company owned by Umar Abubaker, donates 10% of its net earnings to the charity as part of its social responsibility commitment. This relationship is disclosed for transparency, and all contributions are treated as charitable donations.

Risk Management

The charity has a written Risk Management Policy in place. Trustees regularly review potential risks including safeguarding, fraud, delivery failures, and reputational concerns. Risks are monitored actively and mitigated through due diligence checks, partner vetting, clear financial controls, and trustee oversight. Compliance with Charity Commission guidance and good governance practices remains a priority in all operations.

Section C

Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

1. To relieve financial hardship, distress and suffering among poor people, homeless persons, victims of natural disasters and other people in need by means of, but not exclusively, making grants or loans for providing or paying for items, equipment, services and facilities, including the provision of food, water accommodation, clothing and costs for medical treatment for the benefit of said persons;
2. To advance education for the benefit of the poor, the illiterate and the general public by means of, but not exclusively, the provision or assistance in the provision of educational resources, equipment, activities and facilities, such as schools and training centres;
3. To advance in life and relieve needs of young people through:
 - (a) The provision of recreational and leisure time activities provided in the interest of social welfare, designed to improve their conditions of life;
 - (b) Providing support and activities which develop their skills, capacities and capabilities to enable them to participate in society as mature and responsible individuals.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

- During the financial year 1st April 2024 to 31st March 2025, Hands for Humanity undertook a wide range of charitable activities across multiple regions, aligned with our mission to relieve poverty, hardship, and suffering around the world. These activities were carried out in accordance with our charitable objectives and with full regard to the Charity Commission’s guidance on public benefit. Our projects provided direct humanitarian assistance including:
- Food distributions in Gaza, Afghanistan, and other crisis-affected areas, benefiting dozens of families with emergency rations and essentials.
 - Seasonal aid such as fidya support, enabling over 70 individuals to fulfil religious obligations while feeding those in need.
 - Water access through the funding and construction of a water well in Bangladesh, supporting a whole village with sustainable clean water.
 - Support for orphans in Afghanistan, providing care and sustenance for vulnerable children.
 - Emergency shelter for homeless individuals in the UK, including the provision of tents and essentials.
 - Grants and distributions through partner charities such as One Nation, Drop of Compassion, Humanity Without Borders, and Helping Orphans — enabling effective local delivery and oversight. All projects were funded through individual donations, online giving platforms, and community fundraising. Every activity was designed to provide meaningful public benefit, and trustees confirm that in planning and delivering this work, they have had due regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

The charity did not make any grants or programme-related investments during the year.
However, volunteers played a key role in delivering our work — supporting aid distributions, managing collections, and helping with admin and outreach. Their efforts enabled us to keep costs low and ensure donations reached those most in need.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

During the financial year 1st April 2024 to 31st March 2025, Hands for Humanity carried out a wide range of impactful charitable activities in the UK and abroad, all aligned with our mission to alleviate hardship, relieve poverty, and respond to urgent need. Our work brought direct benefit to individuals and communities facing crisis, hunger, displacement, and deprivation.

Key highlights include:

- Distribution of 70 food packs to families in Gaza, reaching hundreds during an escalating humanitarian emergency.
 - Provision of over 70 fidya meals during Ramadan, enabling donors to fulfil religious obligations while feeding those fasting without means.
 - Funding of a deep water well in Bangladesh, giving a rural village sustainable access to clean drinking water.
 - Monthly orphan support in Afghanistan, providing essential care and sustenance for vulnerable children.
 - Support for two homeless men in the UK, Glenn and Andy, with the provision of a tent as temporary shelter.
 - Emergency aid to Aseel and her family, offering critical financial relief during a time of distress.
 - Distribution of food support to Lucy Godfrey and her child at a time of personal hardship.
 - Sadaqah assistance for Adel Hamouda, helping him manage severe dietary restrictions with dignity and safety.
- All our fieldwork was delivered either directly or through verified, UK-registered charity partners including One Nation, Humanity Without Borders, Helping Orphans, and Drop of Compassion. These partnerships ensured both accountability and effective aid delivery on the ground.

Our operations were entirely volunteer-led, allowing us to maintain a 100% donation policy for all public donations. Every project was documented, monitored, and completed with transparency, ensuring maximum benefit for those we serve and full confidence for our donors. The year reflected not only strong performance across all projects but also our growing ability to respond quickly and compassionately to human need wherever it arises.

Section F

Other optional information

This year marked another step forward in our commitment to serve the vulnerable and uphold the trust placed in us by our supporters. Despite growing humanitarian crises globally, our small but determined team remained active, responsive, and deeply rooted in community values.

We wish to thank all our donors — many of whom continue to give quietly, without recognition — and the volunteers who give their time, energy, and sincerity without seeking reward. It is their selflessness that fuels the work we do.

We also acknowledge the growing public engagement across our social media platforms, which has helped raise awareness, mobilise funds rapidly, and share the real stories behind the numbers.

While the challenges are many — rising costs, political instability in aid zones, and donor fatigue — our resolve remains strong. We believe every small act of kindness matters, and every penny entrusted to us is a responsibility before God and the people.

As we look to the coming year, we aim to strengthen our reporting, develop more structured aid programmes, and expand our outreach while staying true to the grassroots, people-first approach that has defined us since day one.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Hands for Humanity

I report on the accounts of Hands for Humanity for the year ended 31 March 2025 which are set out on pages 4 to 7.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The Charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The Charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act) and an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to: examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act; to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission under Section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a "true and fair view" and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- i) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements: to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act, have not been met; or
