Objectives and Activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	For the public benefit, the relief of sickness and the promotion and protection of good health amongst BAME (Black, Asian, and Minority Ethnic) individuals suffering from diabetes and who are also multimorbid or are at risk of becoming multimorbid, through: • the provision of support groups and such other activities, services, advice, and information as the trustees deem fit with the aim of facilitating the best possible care of such persons. • the undertaking and funding of research into multimorbidity, including research in how to detect multimorbidity, and research into treatments or interventions for multimorbidity, the useful results of which will be published for the public benefit; and • the development of evidence-based tools to support research, or help raise awareness of, detect, and/or prevent multimorbidity in BAME patients.
Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	During the 2024/2025 period the charity focused on making small research grant awards to support student qualitative research projects on diabetes/CVD care in ethnically diverse populations. One £100 grant was awarded to a student enrolled on the MSc Health Psychology course, at Liverpool John Moores University. Her project focused on the role of midwives in managing medication misuse in pregnant women. Misuse of medication during pregnancy is especially problematic for women at risk of gestational diabetes

		(GDM) (whose prevalence is higher in ethnic minority groups). The project is due for submission/assessment August through September 2025 and is expected to benefit our understanding of how best midwives can manage medication misuse during pregnancy (with direct implications for ethnically diverse pops, especially those at risk of GDM).
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	Para 1.18	Trustees are familiar with the Charity Commissions guidance on public benefit and are aware of the charity's goals in this regard.
