Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are to advance in life and help young people in The Gambia through supporting projects in The Gambia that:

(a) Develop young people's skills, capacities and capabilities to enable them to participate in society as independent, mature and responsible individuals, making them more employable and increasing their standard of living in the future;

(b) Advance education through sponsorship, free education, after-school classes, training programs and the offering of resources to ill-equipped schools;

(c) Relieve poverty or financial hardship in The Gambia by providing or assisting in the provision of education, training, healthcare projects and all the necessary support designed to enable individuals to generate a sustainable income and be self-sufficient; and/or

(d) Provide recreational and leisure time activity in the interests of social welfare for people living in The Gambia who have need by reason of their youth, poverty or social and economic circumstances with a view to improving the conditions of life of such persons.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

At Study for Progress Charity, we are dedicated to empowering deprived children across The Gambia by providing equal educational opportunities and holistic support.

We offer a comprehensive after-school tutoring and mentoring programme for disadvantaged Gambian children. Our curriculum aligns with the national standards, focusing on core subjects such as English, mathematics, history, reading, spelling, handwriting, and rhymes. Through personalised support and guidance, we aim to bridge learning gaps and foster a love of learning.

To cultivate literacy and a lifelong passion for reading, we have established an after-school reading club. We provide all the necessary books and resources to create a vibrant mini library, with reading materials swapped weekly. This initiative helps children build essential literacy skills and explore new worlds through books.

Recognising the importance of holistic development, we run a Saturday morning club offering social activities, audio-visual learning, and sports. We supply all required equipment and materials, creating a safe and engaging environment for children to develop teamwork, creativity and sports skills.

We organise regular educational trips for children enrolled in our after-school programme. These excursions are carefully chosen to complement the national curriculum, providing enriching real-world experiences and deepening classroom learning.

To ensure continuity in education, we offer financial support for children in our programme who face exclusion from state schools due to unpaid fees. Our policy is to retain and support these children throughout their time in our programme, paying school fees and providing essential learning resources as needed.

The trustees of Study for Progress Charity confirm that they have had due regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit in carrying out their duties and developing the charity's activities. All our programmes are designed and implemented in alignment with the Commission's principles, ensuring clear public benefit and the advancement of education for deprived children in The Gambia.

The effectiveness of our programmes we support is evaluated using two key performance indicators:

1. Academic Performance in State Schools: We track the academic progress of participating children in their respective state schools, with a focus on the subjects supported through our programmes. Parents share their child's termly school assessment reports with us, allowing trustees to identify individual learning needs and target areas for improvement.

2. Progress within Our Programmes: We regularly assess each child's progress and welfare within our own activities and sessions. Updates and detailed reports are provided to the trustees, ensuring ongoing monitoring and support for every participant.

These two sets of performance data are reviewed by the trustees to evaluate overall impact.

To ensure effective communication and partnership, the trustees have established direct channels between the charity and the children's schools and classroom teachers, coordinated by a designated education/programme coordinator. This facilitates regular feedback and collaborative support for each child's educational journey.

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are to advance in life and help young people in The Gambia through supporting projects in The Gambia that:

- (a) Develop young people's skills, capacities and capabilities to enable them to participate in society as independent, mature and responsible individuals, making them more employable and increasing their standard of living in the future;
- (b) Advance education through sponsorship, free education, after-school classes, training programs and the offering of resources to ill-equipped schools;
- (c) Relieve poverty or financial hardship in The Gambia by providing or assisting in the provision of education, training, healthcare projects and all the necessary support designed to enable individuals to generate a sustainable income and be self-sufficient; and/or
- (d) Provide recreational and leisure time activity in the interests of social welfare for people living in The Gambia who have need by reason of their youth, poverty or social and economic circumstances with a view to improving the conditions of life of such persons.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Establish an after-school tutoring and mentoring educational programme for deprived children of The Gambian in core subjects based on the national school curriculum i.e., English, mathematics, history, spelling, reading, handwriting, rhymes etc.

Implement an after-school reading club for deprived children of The Gambia by supplying all the books, resources and materials to set up the mini book library. The reading books are swapped weekly.

Implement a Saturday morning social, audio visual and sports club for deprived children of The Gambia. The charity supplies all the materials and resources and materials.

Implement periodical educational trips for children enrolled in the after-school programme, by visiting places of specific interest relating to their educational curriculum.

The charity provides financial assistance to the children in our after-school programme by paying their school fees / resources when ejected from school due to outstanding bills. Part of the charity policy is to retain the children in the state school programme for the duration that they are in our programme.

The progress and success of our programmes are measured through two performance indicators as follows:

- a. Performance assessment of the children in the state school they attend and on the subjects that we deliver at our programme. (The trustees do receive the term assessment reports of participating children from their respective state schools from their parents to review their individual special needs to improve on their weaknesses).
- b. Performance assessment of the kids in our programme. (The trustees receive regular updates / reports on the progress and welfare of the children enrolled in our programmes / activities)

The above two performance indicators are amalgamated into a report and issued to the trustees for review and evaluation of the children's progress / measuring performance.

The trustees have created a channel of communication between the charity and the school / classroom teachers of the children in our programme through charity appointed education / programme coordinator.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
