Structure, governance and management

Constitution and principal activities

Jackie Claringbould Inspiring People Through Horses, a registered Charitable Incorporated Organisation, was established on 24 August 2020. Its principal activity is to help those in need using the therapeutic qualities of horses. The Constitution is the primary governing document of the charity.

Key management

Key management decisions are made by the board of trustees, alongside the charity founder, Rachel Wright.

All trustees give their time freely and no trustee received remuneration or expenses during the year.

Trustees

Trustees are appointed by the board and have a range of knowledge and experience to aid the smooth running of the charity.

Objects of the charity

The objects of the charity are to promote the mental (and inevitably physical) wellbeing of adults and children with mental health difficulties, learning difficulties, special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) and other neuro-diverse needs, by providing access to horses and their therapeutic effects. It particularly focuses on those who are disengaged with education or work and have often exhausted all the traditional forms of mental health support or therapy. Being around and interacting with animals has many proven health benefits.

Public benefit

The trustees confirm that they have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit in setting and monitoring the objectives of the charity.

Operating and financial review

We have done extremely well with fundraising this year. We have had great success in helping children in need to access Equine Assisted Therapy (EAT) and Equine Facilitated Learning (EFL), with sessions run primarily by our staff member, along with the help of trained volunteers and the continued free use of the facilities at the Owl House Stables where we are based.

Fundraising

We are able to put on events and clinics at the Owl House Stables in order to raise funds, as well as raffles.

We also look to charitable foundations for grant funding to help.

This year we would like to offer our sincere thanks for the generous donation to the Charity of Ellen Gertrude Sneller Small for Poor Gentle Folk.

Future plans

We will continue to work with several different schools and organisations in the local area. This is possible due to the continued donated use of the Owl House Stables facilities.

We are a part of the Changing Lives Through Horses campaign that the British Horse Society has founded and currently help teenagers who are not in school to learn a variety of skills that they can take into society using the national curriculum.

We would like to build an indoor school as currently the facilities are weather dependent. We would like to be able to run throughout the year so that our participants do not get forgotten once the weather has turned. All the seasons are getting wetter, in order to provide our services all year we are looking to secure planning and funding to achieve this.

Reserves policy

Trustees feel it prudent to have a level of reserves to cover 6 months of costs going forwards.

Risk management

The Trustees have examined the major risks which the charity faces and have put in place systems, policies, procedures and controls in order to manage and mitigate these. These risks include safeguarding and personal injury. Extensive safeguarding, fire, equality and diversity policies and risk assessments are in place, as well as public liability insurance.

Statement of trustees' responsibilities

The Trustees are required by charity law to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the surplus or deficit of the charity for that year. In preparing those financial statements, Trustees are required to:

- a) Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b) Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- c) Prepare financial statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Charity will continue to operate;
- d) State whether the policies adopted are in accordance with the Charities Act 2011 and with applicable accounting standards and Statements of Recommended Practice, subject to any material departure disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- e) Observe the methods and principles of the Charities SORP.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act.

The Trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The Trustees confirm they have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing the charity's aims and objectives and in planning future activities.
