ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION

England & Wales - Charity number 1191309

Accounts

For the Financial Year 2024–2025

This report has been prepared by the Board of Trustees of ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION to present an overview of the charity's position, activities, challenges, and future outlook for the financial year ended 2025.

Objectives and Activities

The charity was established to pursue its charitable objectives as set out in its governing document. These objectives remain unchanged and continue to guide the strategic direction of the charity.

During the reporting period, the charity did not undertake any formal charitable activities. This was primarily due to limited financial resources, which restricted the charity's ability to implement planned programmes.

Activities Undertaken

Although no funded projects were delivered during the year, some limited charitable engagement occurred in Nigeria through volunteering services. These activities were informal in nature, unfunded, and carried out by individuals offering their time and skills independently in support of the charity's ethos and values.

Public Benefit

The Trustees confirm that they have had due regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. While no structured programmes were delivered during the year, the Trustees remain committed to ensuring that future activities will provide clear and demonstrable public benefit in line with the charity's objectives.

Financial Review

The charity faced significant financial constraints throughout the year. The absence of sufficient funding meant that planned projects could not be implemented.

The Trustees recognise that securing sustainable funding is critical to the charity's future operations and impact.

Challenges and Risks

The principal challenge faced during the year was the lack of funding, which remains the charity's most significant operational risk. Without adequate financial support, the charity's ability to deliver its objectives continues to be limited.

Plans for the Future

The Board of Trustees remains optimistic about the future of ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION. The Trustees are actively exploring new and innovative approaches to fundraising, including partnerships, grants, and alternative income-generation strategies.

It is anticipated that once appropriate funding streams are secured, the charity will be able to implement its objectives effectively and expand its charitable impact.

Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees acknowledge their responsibilities for ensuring that the charity is administered in accordance with its governing document and charity law.

This report was approved by the Board of Trustees and signed on their behalf.

Trustee Report for Roodel Trust Foundation

Period: 1st April 2022 to 31st March 2023

Introduction

The Trustees of Roodel Trust Foundation present their annual report and the financial statements for the year ended 31st March 2023. This report details the activities undertaken, the challenges faced, and the overall economic status of the charity during the specified period. The past year has been particularly challenging due to the lack of financial resources, severely impacting our ability to achieve our primary objectives.

Overview of Activities and Operations

From 1st April 2022 to 31st March 2023, Roodel Trust Foundation faced significant financial constraints. Despite extensive efforts to secure funding, including applications to various grants and funding bodies, all our applications were unfortunately turned down. This left the charity needing more financial support to carry out its planned activities.

Volunteer Contributions

Considering the financial difficulties, the charity's operations were sustained entirely through the efforts of volunteers. These dedicated individuals committed their time and resources to ensure that some level of support could still be provided to the community. Activities carried out by volunteers included:

Community Outreach: Volunteers conducted small-scale outreach programs to raise awareness about the importance of girls' education and the risks associated with dropping out.

Support and Counseling: Limited support and counselling services were provided to girls and their families to encourage continued education.

Resource Distribution: Although constrained by resources, volunteers distributed educational materials and necessities to a small number of girls to aid their schooling.

Despite these efforts, the scale and impact of our activities were significantly limited by the absence of financial backing.

Challenges Faced

The inability to secure funding presented several challenges, significantly hindering our operations and overall mission. Key challenges included:

Impact on Educational Programs

Our core objective is to reduce the number of girls dropping out of school. The lack of funding severely affected our ability to run programs designed to achieve this goal. Without the necessary resources, we could not implement interventions such as scholarships, after-school programs, and community workshops that are crucial in supporting girls' education.

Increased Risk of Early Marriages and Hawking

With our inability to provide adequate support, many girls faced an increased risk of early marriages and engaging in hawking. These practices are often seen as alternatives when educational opportunities are limited. The charity's inability to intervene effectively left many girls vulnerable to these risks, undermining our mission to safeguard their rights and futures.

Impact on Social Enterprise Support for Women

The financial constraints also affected our work in supporting women with social enterprises. Our initiatives to empower women through entrepreneurial training and resources were significantly scaled back. This had a pronounced impact on women in remote areas, as we were unable to reach these communities due to lack of funds. The absence of support hindered the economic empowerment of women, further entrenching cycles of poverty.

Climate Change Mitigation Efforts

Our efforts to mitigate climate change by providing solar cookers to communities were also severely impacted. These solar cookers are intended to reduce the need for cutting down firewood, thereby helping to preserve forests and reduce carbon emissions. However, due to the financial shortfall, this initiative could not be effectively implemented. As a result, communities continued to rely on traditional wood-burning methods, exacerbating environmental degradation.

Advocacy and Awareness Efforts

Financial constraints also limited our advocacy work. Campaigns to raise awareness about the importance of girls' education and to fight for their rights were significantly scaled down. This lack of visibility and advocacy further exacerbated the challenges faced by the girls we aim to support.

Psychological and Social Impact

The psychological and social impact on the girls and their families was also significant. Without adequate support and the assurance of continued education, many girls faced uncertainty and diminished aspirations, affecting their mental and emotional well-being.

Financial Overview

Due to the rejection of all funding applications, the charity operated with no significant financial income during the reporting period. This financial scarcity was the primary reason behind the limited scale of activities and the inability to launch new initiatives. The trustees have taken steps to review our funding strategies and are exploring new avenues to secure financial support in the future.

Volunteer Efforts and Community Support

The trustees would like to extend their deepest gratitude to all the volunteers whose dedication and hard work have been instrumental in sustaining the charity's operations during this difficult period. Their contributions, though limited by resources, have been crucial in maintaining a presence in the community and providing some level of support to the girls in need.

Future Directions and Goals

Looking ahead, securing sustainable funding is critical to the continuation and expansion of our work. The trustees are committed to:

Revamping Funding Strategies: Exploring new funding opportunities, including partnerships with local businesses, crowdfunding, and engaging with international donors.

Strengthening Volunteer Programs: Enhancing our volunteer programs to maximize their impact, even with limited resources.

Increasing Community Engagement: Building stronger relationships with community leaders and stakeholders to foster greater support and collaboration.

Advocacy and Awareness: Amplifying our advocacy efforts to raise awareness about the importance of girls' education and the risks of school dropouts, early marriages, and stalking.

Expanding Social Enterprise Support: Renewing efforts to support women with social enterprise initiatives, particularly in remote areas.

Resuming Climate Change Mitigation Projects: Reinvigorating our efforts to distribute solar cookers to reduce deforestation and promote sustainable practices.

Conclusion

The Trustees express deep concern over the ongoing financial challenges and their impact on the charity's ability to fulfil its mission. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to the volunteers whose unwavering dedication has kept the spirit of our work alive, despite the overwhelming difficulties.

We remain committed to our mission and will continue to explore all possible avenues to secure the necessary support to carry out our vital work. The fight for the right to education for every girl, the empowerment of women through social enterprises, and the mitigation of climate change are far from over, and with renewed efforts and support, we can make a significant difference.

Dear Sir/Madam

We are pleased to present the Trustees' Annual Report for the period 1 April 2021 to 31 March 2022.

Due to some unforeseeable circumstance this report is being submitted late, the last Trustees' Annual Report was delayed and so there is some overlap with the reporting for this period. This report reflects work planned within the strategy and operational plan and also highlights how staff and volunteers have worked together even with unprecedented situations confronting our overall work, and responding to new challenges that have arisen over the past year.

The impact of Covid 19, two years on cast continued to cast a shadow over our operation and ability to meet with our objectives. This is so due to the financial impact our prospective donors faced as well. The Charity had to recalibrate the ways of seeking funding to meet the needs of those we support and incorporate strategic methods to tackle challenges that Covid 19 aftermath had presented, and to redeploy the profession where urgently required. It was by listening to members on the ground that we were able to prioritize these needs and work in partnership to deliver urgent guidance on our beneficiaries.

As the year went on, we continued to engage with the professional and other stakeholders – through working groups, surveys, and social media – to identify the impact of the pandemic on our beneficiaries and volunteers. This allowed us to come up with working with local communities extensively in seeking simple though not broad based solutions to mitigate the lack of funds. These challenges meant that the Charity was not able to stretch its hands long enough to support every girl that needed help.

Though challenges continue, the charity has shown that it is innovative, solution-focused, and flexible enough to rise to them.

In June 2021, The Charity appealed to USAID United States of America office about the funding which was rejected by Nigerian USAID local office sighting lack of funds. We appealed that if possible, the project which could have helped thousands of girls to continue access education through the HUB. However, as at the writing of this report, the USAID has not responded to our appeal.

The work on anti-racism and equality, diversity, and inclusion requires action at a governance level, is going on well. Due to lack of finances, most of the planned work progress especially administrative, has been hampered a lot. We have continued to engage in improving our presence on Social Media platforms.

Throughout the 2021/2022 we have strengthened alliances that have continued to support us to think differently and create a louder voice for the charity and our beneficiaries. We have seen new ways of working with new roles emerging and an increase in the sharing of experiences and expertise. Alongside this, our campaign against discrimination, abuse, and exploitation of people with disability in Anambra State, Nigeria is no going. We continue to expand our service and the scope of our outreaches in Anambra State.

It is undeniable that this year has brought profound lows, with many beneficiaries, staff, and Volunteers, suffering the impact of COVID-19, and the long-term effects of this is yet to be quantified. We are and will continue to act where we can address these issues and support our staff, volunteers, and beneficiaries' wellbeing. We are proud of all that we have achieved together with our colleagues and other stakeholders as a charity.

The challenges and opportunities will continue to emerge and pushing us to innovate and re imagine our way forward.

We would like to pay tribute to the staff, and volunteers who have actively engaged to support the wider operations of the charity in so many ways through the most challenging times

Future Plans

The Board of Trustees has agreed to extend the current Strategic Plan period by one year to 2022. A new Strategic Plan is being developed for the period 2022-2025. Engagement with beneficiaries, volunteers, and staff is currently underway.

Risk Statement

The ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION has a robust risk management framework. Major risks to which the charity is exposed are contained in our business plan, which is informed by the Strategic Plan. The current highest-level risks are shown in the table below: Table two: Higher-level risks to the ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION (those risks with a mitigated risk score of 8 or above by the risk management framework, which are borderline risk appetite or greater, and which require reporting to committees and Board)

The ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION senior management team reviews the risk register monthly; all project working groups and steering committees maintain their risk registers and the highest-level risks from those registers are included in the main risk register. The Finance and Resources Committee and the Professional Practice and Policy Committee further review their risk registers at their regular meetings. The Board reviews all risks that are owned by the Board quarterly and signs the whole risk register annually. In response to COVID-19, a separate section in the risk register has been established, which addresses the identified main risks of impact on finances and investments, member numbers, reputation (in terms of the ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION’s response to members during the crisis), IT, and security issues, and staff health and welfare, particularly regarding long-term working from home. The Board is satisfied that appropriate controls are in place to manage risks.

Financial Review

The overall aim of ROODEL TRUST FOUNDATION’s financial strategy is to maintain a sound financial base to support the resourcing of the organization and deliver its mission. Specifically, the aim is to maintain long-term financial viability to achieve the objectives in the Strategic Plan. The overarching financial objectives were approved by the Board in May 2020.

Risk	Mitigation
Lack of cooperation from some religious leaders in addressing the girls’ school dropout	Continued emphasis on success stories of girls’ role models and
Corruption and bribes	The charity has a commitment to ensure transparency and accountability with its clients, partners, and donors through processes, reports, and activities that ensure such accountability.
	Ongoing monitoring of performance
Susceptible to a volatile political landscape.	As Nigeria is going through uncertainty in political landscape, it create an anxiety for our operations. It is feared that this period may be long which is not a good climate for our projects

CHALLENGES FACED IN 2020/2023

1. Finances

The arrival of Covid 19 in 2020 impacts every aspect of our lives. Charities were not spared. We experienced situations that were never anticipated at the inception of our charity. We saw our applications for financial grants and funding continue to be rejected citing the financial constraints faced by many funders. Many funding organizations had to redirect their funding priorities from other projects to deal with the impact of Covid 19. Economic instabilities of many western nations are not helping our causes. This crippled most of our innovative projects like the HUB, The Energy Women, Hands for purpose, and many more.

2. Threats to our core mission

Supporting girls to remain in school avoiding school dropout has been very challenging. School closures due to Covid 19 were the single most crippling threat to our mission. Girls were more vulnerable to stay at home than boys. Sexual exploitation was rampant, sexual abuse and forced marriage were on the rise. This was possible due to lack of interaction with our beneficiaries due to stay at home and social distancing. Many girls in developing nations were extremely exposed to factors that we exist to fight against and yet we could not do much due to Covid 19.

3. Volunteers

We have succeeded in recruiting many volunteers even though it is not easy to deploy them into rural areas where our operations are based due to the nature of funds the charity has. Lack of finances meant many volunteers could not travel to work for the charity due to financial constraints of the charity.

I hope the Trustees Annual Report is in order. Please if there is need for more clarification, contact.

The Chief Executive
Roodel Trust Foundation

Your Sincerely
