Rotarians, their families and other volunteers have given an unquantifiable number of unpaid hours to organise the events that have raised funds and in supporting the many charitable causes.

Reserves Policy

The Trustees recognise that they should retain sufficient reserves to safeguard the Trust's operation for the foreseeable future. There are no significant ongoing financial commitments and the cost of running the Trust are minimal. The Trustees therefore consider they have an adequate level of reserves to enable the Trust to continue with its objectives and charitable activities. The Trustees will review this policy each year.

Risk Management

The Trustees are responsible for considering and overseeing the risks faced by the Trust. The risks associated with each fund raising or community service activity are discussed by the club and the Trustees. The financial risk associated with the Trust are regularly considered by the Trustees and safeguards are put in place over the custody and enabling of financial transactions. The Trustees consider that appropriate safeguards are in place.
