MISSION STATEMENT

To relieve the charitable needs of children aged 0-17 who have germ cell cancer and other forms of cancer.

Structure, Governance and Management

The Charity was constituted by Trust Deed on 21 September 2020 and registered with the Charity Commission under Charity Number 1191761.

There are no employees and the Trustees carry out the administration.

New trustees are to be appointed by Miss Eilish Flanagan, however applications can be made on authorised advertisement by all trustees. Alternatively, the existing trustee board may make invitations to individuals to become a trustee, which are then decided by majority vote.

The charity is proud to have continued working with The Institute of Cancer Research and the E-SMART trial, focusing on finding kinder and targeted treatments for children with a childhood cancer diagnosis.

Due to the ever changing environment regarding social media, the trustees have reviewed their Social Media policy and developed the existing policy to ensure the governance of the charity is met at all times by all trustees. Given that social media, is one of the major platforms which our charity uses to raise germ cell cancer awareness, we felt as an organisation that the trustees required safety systems to be put in place to protect both the service users and the wider general public.

Public Benefit, Charitable Objectives, Aims and Policy

The objects of the charity are:

1. To relieve the charitable needs of children aged 0-17 who have germ cell cancer and other forms of cancer by:
 - a) Supplying gifts and items to those children and where appropriate their siblings;
 - b) Raising awareness of childhood cancer and working with other registered children's charities to do the same;

c) Providing grants to pay or contribute towards a holiday for such children and their immediate families.

2. To preserve and protect the physical health of children who have germ cell cancer and other forms of cancer by providing grants for research into childhood cancer and in particular, germ cell cancer.

Reporting Serious Incidents

The Trustees can confirm that there have been no 'serious incidents' to report in the year ended 5 April 2025 as defined by the Charity Commission in their Guidance for Trustees issued 1 March 2012 and as updated 3 May 2018.

Objectives

The general objectives of the charity, as set out in the Trust Deed, have been applied by the Trustees, in order to support Cancer Charities and individuals with cancer. This is achieved by making grants to Cancer Charities and individuals, purchasing gifts and items for children with germ cell cancer and other forms of cancer and fundraising events in order to raise awareness of childhood cancer.

Activities undertaken for the public benefit

The trustee's have developed their roles in regards to conflict of interest within the organisation and although none have been identified within the organisation we are confident in our ability on Conflicts and how to approach and manage them should the occasion ever arise.

Aoife's Bubbles Charity has successfully, continued to benefit the public through the past year by:

(For the purpose of this document Germ Cell Tumour will be abbreviated to GCT)

Proudly hosting regular awareness stands and distributing GCT & childhood cancer awareness information, being the UK's only childhood cancer charity to raise awareness of GCT in children. We have successfully held stands in Suffolk, Essex, Kent, Surrey and London.

To continue offering support to the Institute of Cancer Research in terms of providing grants towards the ongoing research, for the EMSART trial for children with childhood cancer, particularly germ cell cancer which falls in to the sub category of solid tumour.

Offering day respite trips for children and their families affected by childhood cancer, we have been able to offer more children respite by means of day trips to fit in with their treatment schedules, such as days out at London Zoo. This opens the opportunity up widely to many more children to experience respite as a barrier to this support can be their treatment plans

The trustees always act in accordance with the Charities Act 2011, to undertake due diligence to the Charities Commission general guidance on public benefit. The objectives and activities to achieve this are always the forefront of Aoife's Bubbles Charity trustees delivery GCT and childhood cancer awareness, providing acts of joy and respite to children and their families affected by childhood cancer and having provisions to support GCT research.

Moving forward, as with previous years - it is the trustee's aim to keep running costs to a minimum to enable funds raised to be spent on supporting children across the UK with a cancer diagnosis and to continue, raising lifesaving childhood cancer awareness – being the UK's only registered children's cancer charity dedicated to raising GCT in children. To maintain this and to continue the charities growth, we would like to establish a volunteer, charity drive over the next 24 months by recruiting volunteers to help us to distribute germ cell cancer awareness material, particularly by using our Charity mascot 'Bubbles'.

AOIFE'S BUBBLES CHARITY

TRUSTEES' REPORT

ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 5 APRIL 2025

Within the last 12 months, Aoife's Bubbles Charity has been able to adhere to our formal grant making policy and to continue to provide an excellent service to the public, by promoting germ cell cancer awareness in children as well as childhood cancer as a whole.

We have been able to continue working with previous volunteer Katie Putt, who has been an asset to the charity by delivering germ cell cancer awareness stands throughout Essex and London. As well as actively seek further volunteers to represent the charity.

Aoife's Bubbles Charity strives to invest funds, going forwards in our own respite facility – being that of a beach hut for families to use for day respite, taking away travel/ over night limitations and to accommodate children who are, in the final stages of their cancer journey particularly those on palliative care.

Achievements and performance

Aoife's Bubbles Charity are extremely proud of the achievements throughout the year ended 5 April 2025.

Throughout the year we were able to set up both manned awareness stands and stand alone awareness stands at garden centres, family farm trails doctors surgeries and office blocks through out London, Kent, Surrey, Essex and Suffolk. Enabling the general public to access the awareness information which we have, we like to act in a non confrontational way to ensure the public feel safe in approaching us, and having open conversations about the importance of childhood cancer symptom awareness breaking down communication barriers.

Throughout the year the charity identified the need for the charity mascot to have a greater presence within the general public and online to raise the profile of both the charity and of childhood cancer awareness, having had great support from the Equestrian community at the time of Aoife's passing.

Through our social media channels we were able to co-ordinate the hugely successful Ride For Aoife, which entailed people taking their horses on rides in their local community wearing something gold to represent childhood cancer and to raise funds for the charity. This enable to conversation of childhood cancer to develop further within local communities.

As we always strive to continue our support of the Institute of Cancer Research, we held a veteran football match to raise £3,500 to help fund childhood cancer research. Where over 40 players dedicated their time to play for the charity and to raise funds for this cause, the day was a huge success with staff from the ICR joining in the day.

We were also able to host a family friendly Firewalk, where children and their families who had have a cancer diagnosis were able to come and take part, as well as fundraisers who were able to take part in the challenge – this was a wonderful way to bring the childhood cancer community together with the general population just before Christmas and to ensure children over the festive period had access to respite days out, we were able to fund children and their families visiting zoo's, the seaside and music concerts just to name a few.

As per every year, the charity held its annual sky dive event which raised a healthy amount and enabled us to send children on respite holidays with their families.

ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 5 APRIL 2025

We worked tirelessly around the clock and we were able to, in one month reach 1.7 million people across the UK via our social media channels on what childhood cancer awareness month is and the signs and symptoms of childhood cancer, which is, without a doubt life saving information.

Overall, the charity has grown our online presence, ensuring we reach one of our target audiences – parents and care givers. We have found, that a barrier to childhood cancer awareness is the lack of understanding with the terminology used – so we have stripped back to basics, what it means in a real tangible form to look for the signs and symptoms of childhood cancer, as well as what to do if you are concerned for child who you think is showing the signs and symptoms and how to access a referral pathway. We have also been able to educate the general public on childhood cancer, by means of lack of treatment options for children specifically with solid and brain tumours and the importance of supporting family led charities who are pivotal to supporting establishments such as The ICR.

Financial Review

In summary in 2024/25:

Expenditure on Grants totalled £3,000 (2024:£Nil).

Voluntary Income was £48,099 (2024: £55,906), consisting wholly of donations received.

Total funds carried forward were in a deficit of £80 as at 5 April 2025 (2024: £4,864). The cash balances at Barclays Bank Plc and Metrobank were outweighed by our accountancy fee provision, payable in 12 monthly instalments.

Having reviewed our accounts and practices, our main source of income is through large and small fundraising events held by the charity. We work on the ethos of helping those who need it without prejudice and expectation of having to fundraise for Aoife's Bubbles Charity.

Expenditure is solely related to the charitable aims by focusing on GCT awareness in children, being the sole UK children's cancer charity dedicated to raising GCT awareness.

Moving forward, we will continue on working on building our reserve with the long term goal of having a shop where we can sell donated goods to fundraise for the charity and to ensure our service is always funded.

We strive to continue to be leaders in the field for raising germ cell cancer awareness in children.

To continue plans to work start working towards purchasing our own respite (beach hut) over the next 3 years, to allow us to help more families, green ethos etc, less waste and more funds to enable further projects such as writing awareness training with GOSH for the medical community in particular students.
