Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

- (1) To promote sustainable development for the benefit of the public by:
- (a) the preservation, conservation and the protection of the environment and the prudent use of resources;
 - (b) the relief of poverty and the improvement of the conditions of life in socially and economically disadvantaged communities;
 - (c) the promotion of sustainable means of achieving economic growth and regeneration.

Sustainable development is identified as that which addresses the needs of present communities without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.

- (2) To advance the education of disadvantaged and wider global communities, in subjects related to sustainable development and the protection, enhancement and rehabilitation of the environment. To promote a platform of exchange, study and research in such subjects provided that the useful results of such studies are disseminated to the public at large.

- (3) To promote for the public benefit the human rights of indigenous (original) people, as set out in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and subsequent United Nations conventions and declarations including ILO conventions 107 and 169 by all or any of the following means:

- Obtaining redress for the victims of human rights abuse;
- Relieving need among the victims of human rights abuse;
- Research into human rights issues;
- Providing technical advice to government and others on human rights matters;
- Contributing to the sound administration of human rights law;
- Raising awareness of human rights issues;
- Promoting public support for human rights.

In furtherance of that object but not otherwise, the trustees shall have power to engage in political activity provided that the trustees are satisfied that the proposed activities will further the purposes of the charity to an extent justified by the resources committed and the activity is not the dominant means by which the charity carries out its objects.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

No activities were undertaken in this financial year. For the record, our future work will address:

Education

To provide educational facilities and resources for indigenous children in rainforest communities, supporting the provision of state education.

Health

To establish small, funded Primary Care medical centres for indigenous rainforest communities, offering medical care integrating both modern and traditional medicine.

Citizenship and Community Development

To support indigenous rainforest communities in developing their understanding of the outside world and find sustainable, community-led ways to protect their cultural identity, knowledge and wisdom, and conserve their values and way of life.

Human and Legal Rights

To support indigenous rainforest communities in developing their knowledge and understanding of their legal rights and find community-led ways to maintain sovereignty and guardianship over their ancestral lands.

Environmental Regeneration

To develop and share effective methods of environmental regeneration with indigenous rainforest communities, that work in synergy with the local environment, achieved using local research, education and community decision-making processes.

Environmental Protection

To support and educate communities in their guardianship responsibilities towards preserving and protecting the rainforest and its diverse ecosystems. Disaster response and prevention strategies will also be developed to address the threat of oil spills and other external environmental threats.

Public Benefit Statement

The Trustees confirm that they have complied with the duty in Section 4 of the Charities Act 2011, having due regard to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit, 'Charities and Public Benefit'.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

This describes the Kurikindi Foundation's main achievements in its fourth financial year. During this time, we did not receive or spend any funds, or offer any services directly to the public. As in the previous financial year, this year was spent focussed upon continuing to develop the foundations of the organisation in order for it to fulfil its intended charitable functions in service to the public benefit.

During this year we further developed:

1) Our Policies

We further added to, revised or expanded upon our organisational policies, specifically with regard to our:

- Disciplinary and Dismissal Procedure
- Charity Expenses Policy
- Trustee Payments Policy
- Financial Management & Control Policy
- Grievance Procedure
- Reserves Policy
- Risk Management Policy
- Serious Incident Policy and Procedure
- Whistleblowing Procedure

2) Kurikindi Foundation Website

We completed work on the Kurikindi Foundation website build with design company Birds & Dinosaurs. The design process continued to encourage us to think deeply about how we want to represent our organisation to the public and engage effectively with our supporters.

3) Cranfield Trust Support

In February 2025, we received support from the Cranfield Trust, looking at how to develop our governance. The learnings and actions we took away from this process was to:

- create an organisational Theory of Change based around the principle that original people have the capacity for self-determination in a rapidly changing world, but lack the training and resources required to contend with the increasing demands being placed upon them and their environment. With support from us and others as partners, they can develop the knowledge, systems and methods needed to protect their sovereignty and land, sustain their communities, and avoid exploitation and harm. In turn, they will be securely placed to offer the world their vital wisdom, so that we can then learn from them on how to sustain our human future upon this planet
- find professional-level support in managing our finances and guiding our Treasurer
- have a transparent process around tracking our international spending and monitoring the outcomes of that spending

Cranfield Trust members also complemented us on the professional design and execution of our website.

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

There were no financial risks posed towards us as a charity during the financial year. As a going concern, it will be our aim and responsibility to accrue unrestricted funds over time to help us further develop our infrastructure, repay the loans to trustees and build sufficient reserves. We have a reserves policy that will be revised in an ongoing manner as our project and running costs are better understood.

In not yet having generated any income or initiated fundraising, we have not yet decided upon an appropriate level of reserves. The intention is to build reserves in order to meet fluctuations in receipts and payments, cover any shortfalls in income, cover unforeseen costs and allow us to take advantage of new investment or programme opportunities. Reserves management is therefore a part of our approach to risk management.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

n/a – we submit accounts on a receipts and payments basis

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

Financial Overview

From 01.04.24 – 31.03.25, £3,237 was spent by the charity, which was primarily funded by loans provided by the trustees. Costs that were met as expenses were consultancy costs, bank charges, business cards, website domain and hosting costs, stock images bought for website and accounts platform costs.

No trustee received any expenses remuneration or benefits in this financial period. All expenses owing to trustees have been recorded and will be reimbursed when funds allow.

Section GDeclaration

The trustees declare that they have approved the trustees' report above.
