Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	The Charity and its operations are making real difference to the lives of poor communities. As a result of the Charity's intervention, the absentee students number have decreased. Furthermore, the number of students dropping out of the classes has been reduced. The start of the new classes in the evening has also meant that the girls who would have most probably joined their mothers in the lowly paid domestic workers jobs, before getting married early, would be able to pass their basic school level exams and go on to further education, or learn other basic skills and be able to contribute to the family income, which in turn mean that the parents wouldn't regard them as economic burden and try to marry them at an early age.

Note 6: Brief Note on charity expenditure - Free school text books and writing books for 130 school students were provided, as well as school bags for some children. Their exam papers and exam results cards were paid for. The charity helped to start an afternoon class for the classes 9th and 10th students, who had passed the middle schools, but whose parents are unable to afford further education for their children.

The Charity also helped to improve the learning environment for the school students by buying UPS (Uninterrupted Electric Supplies) device, which overcomes the erratic electricity supply, by storing the electricity when it is available and then using it when the electricity is unavailable, usually three or four times a day. This meant that the studies were not stopped whenever the electric supply was interrupted.

The other charitable expenditure included replacing broken down electric ceiling fans, installing Uninterrupted Power Supply (UPS) device to provide electric supply during regular and daily electric load shedding periods, refurbishing an old toilet, installing a water cooler. The purpose of the expenditure was to improve study environment for very poor school students and persuade their parents not to take school children out of school. Total value of grants given: £ 3180.59.
