Annual Report 2024

This year, YEL continued to pursue and fulfil our mandate of empowering millennials to occupy their strategic leadership space across the nations. Through our range of Instagram Live broadcasts, Zoom sessions and the international conferences and speaking engagements of our visionary founder, Rev Celia Apeagyei-Collins, we were able to impact hundreds of young leaders around the world.

Through our mentoring sessions, we equipped members with the tools and strengthened their resilience and capacity to handle the various leadership pressures they encountered.

Our teaching sessions during the year included topics such as:

- Understanding Kingdom Parables.
- The Quality Leader.
- Leadership is Destiny.
- Single Strategic and Spiritual

On the administration front, we continued to settle into our new premises in Brentford in the beginning of the year, holding many of our leadership development training sessions there. However, unfortunately, due to Landlord request, we had to start looking for new premises towards the end of the year, with the attendant disruption to our services.

Our work with YEL Ghana continues to grow, positively transforming the leadership capabilities of the young leaders we are mentoring.

We anticipate moving into new premises in the coming year and continuing to serve young leaders here in the UK and around the world, transforming their leadership potential through Christ-centred high-quality leadership mentoring and training.

Following are some images of events we held in the year.

Annual Report 2023

2023 year has been a year of ongoing change and continuous improvement for Young Emerging Leaders as we continue to pursue and fulfil our mandate of transforming the leadership potential of millennials through Christ-centred high-quality leadership mentoring and training.

Due to circumstances outside our control, we relocated our administrative offices from Hanger Lane to new premises in Brentford. Our leadership team, working with our part-time administration staff continued to actively deliver our services to the YEL membership and hundreds of other participants at our events.

We undertook a range of seminars, Instagram Live sessions and practical mentoring sessions that strengthened the leadership capabilities of YEL members.

Some of the topics we explored during the year include the following:

- The Power of New Beginnings.
- Positioning for High Impact Leadership.
- The Leaders' Secret.
- Exploring Leadership and Mentoring.
- The Leader's Pathways - Lessons, Processes & Convergence.

We also held weekly meetings focussed on strengthening the spiritual and mental wellbeing of the YEL membership.

This is in addition to maintaining our cordial collaboration with our YEL family in Ghana.

The year witnessed the induction of several new members, committed to learning and growing into more effective, competent, courageous, spiritually astute leaders in their different spheres of endeavours.

We also introduced our new leadership development curriculum and membership handbook, that provides a brief overview of the excellent opportunities that YEL offers to any millennial-aged leader keen to maximise their leadership potential.

Annual Report 2022

This year has been a year of change as we continue the gradual return to normality from the covid-19 lockdowns.

We focused on strengthening the administrative capacity of the charity through the services of our part time staff and settling into our new administrative offices in Hangar Lane, West London.

We continued to serve our members through effective seminars, mentoring opportunities and spiritual empowerment initiatives.

Our highly informative seminars through which we served over 350 people in the year covered topics such as:

- Keys to Expanding Your Leadership Capacity & Effectiveness.
- Britain in Leadership Crisis – Tomb or Womb.
- Personal Leadership for Corporate Influence.
- World in Crisis - New Breed of Leadership.

Our other activities include the following:

- Resumption of the production and distribution of our newsletter.
- Ongoing collaboration with our YEL family in Ghana.
- Over 25 other personal growth and spiritual development events.

Unfortunately, due to the change in plans of our premises' landlord, we needed to relocate our administrative offices, with the attendant disruption this brings. We have therefore sought new office space into which we expect to move as soon as possible in the new year.

Nonetheless, YEL continues to enjoy the fantastic support of our membership, donors, partners and well-wishers and we would like to express our profound gratitude for their support.

The Young Emerging Leaders continues to pursue and fulfil our mandate of transforming the leadership potential of millennials through Christ-centred high-quality leadership mentoring and training, and through them, transform communities and nations one leader at a time.

We anticipate that the coming year will be even more fruitful as we implement our strategic plans to expand our membership and further streamline our operations.

Transforming nations... one millennial at a time

Annual Report 2021

The theme for our year was Engage. This theme embraced the idea that as we emerge from the ravages of covid lockdowns and the world readjusts to the new realities, the Young Emerging Leaders was ready to launch out, step out, re-align, recalibrate and recommit to pursuing and fulfilling our mandate of transforming the leadership potential of millennials through Christ-centred high-quality leadership training, and through them, positively impact the nations.

Whilst the year was not without its challenges as we slowly navigated the reopening of society at large, we recorded some very important successes in our journey as an organisation.

During the year, we held over 30 high-impact events including seminars with renowned thought leaders in their industry. These included speakers such as Dr David Landrum, Dr Adeyinka Adewale, Rev. Roy Crowne, Apostle Israel Isiavwe and our founder, Rev Celia Apeagyei-Collins.

We explored various dimensions of personal leadership, entrepreneurship, career development and spiritual transformation. Some of the thought-provoking subjects we explored included the following:

- The Leadership Spirit of Stewarding the Future
- Daniel: Influence & Leadership
- Treasures in the Marketplace
- Kingdom Entrepreneurship
- Leadership Strength & Fortitude

Cumulatively, we served over 500 people through our various events both within the UK and internationally.

Our commitment to the spiritual empowerment of our members continues unabated, reinforced by our weekly prayer meetings and relevant teaching sessions.

We also successfully achieved our goal of becoming a registered charity in June, thus expanding our eligibility to pursue opportunities for partnership and funding with a broader range of organisations.

We moved into new administrative offices in Hangar Lane, West London in September, which also provided us with much needed meeting space for our events.

We continued to expand our membership of the organisation and strengthen our administrative framework with the recruitment of a part-time administrative staff to support our operations.

YEL UK actively collaborated with our YEL Family in Ghana, supporting in the logistics of their virtual events.

As part of our commitment to helping the marginalised and underprivileged, we contributed funds towards distribution of Christmas food packages to the poor families in a village in Ghana. We also supported the development of a health clinic to help facilitate the wellbeing of the local community.

We have continued the leadership mentoring both through sessions with Rev. Celia and peer-to-peer mentoring and our members continue to reflect the personal growth benefits in their career and professional development through securing new jobs and promotions and growing their businesses.

Our finances are stable and we would like to significantly improve on this through exploring funding partnerships and revenue generating activities.

We are grateful to all our members, partners, donors, event speakers, well-wishers and other stakeholders for your continued support and we look forward to an even more fruitful 2022.
