Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts. (Including a summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.)	During the year under review, we offered a range of services and activities. These are examples for each category established in our aims: (a) Chat and share session: This year, an activity we held for the elderly was various online sessions. The elders who join us enjoy discussing their life experiences, and these sessions help them meet new friends. Additionally, many struggle with reading, and these sessions were opportunities for them to gain reading skills. (b) Educational and training: We provide online education and training sessions for young people and adults, as the content proved beneficial for all. We had external speakers come in and give advice on different opportunities. (c) Arabic Language Classes: We organised many Arabic learning classes for students of all levels. (d) Hardship relief: The charity funds an orphanage in Mogadishu, Somalia. This provides a chance for impoverished orphans to progress in education and health.
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	The charity trustees are responsible for the general control and management of the charity. The trustees give their time freely and receive no remuneration or other financial benefits. The Trustees hold formal and informal meetings to discuss and plan activities. The charity trustees are responsible for <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Preparing an annual report and financial statements in accordance with the applicable law and Accounting Standards. • Selecting suitable accounting policies and then applying them consistently. • Observing the methods and principles in the Charities SORP. • Making judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent. • Stating whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements. The trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity, and the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.
